NEW CHARTER ATTENDS ITS FIRST COUNCIL MEETING

Eugene's new city charter was examined by the city council last evening, and after the contest had been enumerated, the document of over twenty typewritten pages was laid over till a future date, when the council will be at leisure to discuss each section separately. No expression of opinion was made on the feeling of the members of the council.

Councilman Garrett asked that copies be provided each councilman, and another member suggested that still more be made so that people can have copies. The printing committee was ordered to inquire into prices with authority to act.

Canal Contract.

Advertisements for bids on the construction of the canal of the proposed city power plant, fifteen miles from Eugene on the McKenzie, will probably be made in less than two weeks. The matter was laid over until Monday night, because the legality of the order for advertisement was questioned by City Attorney Bean, until the resolution definitely stating the council's purpose goes into effect, thirty days after passage.

Specifications for the advertisement were read, showing that the canal will be three and one-quarter miles long, and twenty feet wide at the bottom. This contract refers to the removal of dirt and rock only.

Relief Proclamation.

The mayor brought before the council the request for relief on behalf of the Italian earthquake sufferers. Mayor Matlock, after the meeting, issued the following proclamation:

To the People of Eugene:

Whereas the Governor of Oregon has called upon the people of the state to lend aid to the earthquake sufferers of Italy, and it is fitting that the people of our city should respond to the call for help in aid of the afflicted ones.

Now, Therefore, I, the mayor of Eugene do hereby urge and enjoin upon our citizens to render the assistance which our favored condition and prosperity warrants.

J. D. MATLOCK,
Eugene, Jan. 4, 1909. Mayor.

No Initiative Change.

The proposed ordinance to give the initiative and referendum fifteen days notice instead of thirty was then defeated by the mayor's vote. The councilmen stood as follows: Garrett, Roach, Gilbert, Heller, ayes; Fisher, Moon, Williams, Berger, no.

Assessment Ordinances.

Five assessment ordinances for sewer construction were passed. One in the alley between Oak and Pearl from Fifteenth to Sixteenth streets, will cost $229.65. A second between Fifth and Sixth street in Jefferson, will amount to $1,650.20. A third, in the alley between Second and Third streets, beginning at High street and extending to the Willamette river, will cost $2,352.00. A fourth, between Tenth and Eleventh, from Jefferson street west two blocks, will be assessed at $580.04. The fifth, beginning at the manhole of an 8-inch sewer at the intersection of Thirteenth and Alder streets, extending 421 feet, will reach the sum of $392.00. The sixth sewer will be on Twelfth street, from Alder to Hilyard.

Smaller Matters.

The Warren Construction Co. was ordered paid money held back, amounting to more than $4,000, for work which was not altogether satisfactory, with the provision that the paving company give an indemnity bond.

The city recorder was ordered to notify that interest would be charged those who have to pay assessments for street work or sewers, only after their money is due the city.

The ordinance for the extension of the Hotel Griggs, belonging to M. F. Griggs, was passed, provided that the specifications were satisfactory to the fire and water committee.

The finance committee and city attorney were ordered to find out who should pay for a cesspool near the Patterson school.

The situation of a signal light for the police was referred to police committee to take up with the manager of the telephone company.

The city surveyor was ordered to survey under the supervision of the street committee a roadway on the north side of Skinner's Butte. A road already exists there, and the council made the order with the purpose to improve the street eventually. The Willamette Valley company holds a forty-year lien on the land, and a street can not easily be dedicated without permission, a thing which the council thought would not be difficult.

The Water Board.

After the council adjourned, the councilmen were called to a meeting of the water board. The finance committee of the council was appointed the finance committee of the water board to act with the superintendent of the plant.

An order was also made which segregated the water funds into two portions, one from the sale of bonds, and the other from rentals.

Bills for work in laying the pipe on Hill Crest addition were paid. Engineer Kelsey's bill for surveying was also ordered paid.

Councilman Berger said that the pipe laid in Hill Crest was new to the best of his knowledge, when some of the members reported that people on the street had claimed the pipe was second hand. In case the pipe is shown to be second hand Berger said that Crane & Co. will gladly make it good.

Mrs. Herbert Condon left today for her home at Seattle after a visit with her parents, Hon. and Mrs. F. M. Wilkins in Eugene.

A CHEESE FACTORY ON MAPLE CREEK

For some time past the people of Maple Creek have been considering the question of starting a cheese factory, and it seems they have decided to go ahead with it, says the Florence West. While we like to see new enterprises started, we are doubtful whether the people of that neighborhood will find cheese making as profitable as sending their butter fat to a creamery has been, and so far as we can see into the future, is likely to continue. As we understand it, cheese making brings good returns to the dairyman for a short time in early summer; but as the season advances the milk becomes richer in butter fat and brings a correspondingly higher price at the creamery while its value for cheese does not increase in that way. Thus the cheese-making season lasts but a small part of the year and the dairyman must look in some other direction for a market for his product the rest of the time. Nearly all the ranchers here have separators and by using these and co-operating in the work of hauling, they are able to get their cream to market on comparatively reasonable terms. Then too, by this plan they have left the skim milk which makes good food for calves and hogs from which the farmers may realize a tidy sum each year. On the other hand where cheese is made, the whey is worth very little for feed, so not much is realized from this source. The market is another thing to be considered in this connection. While some would be needed for the home demand yet this market for cheese is very limited here and the factory would have to ship the product to other places before it could be sold.

A waiting station will be built by the Portland, Eugene & Eastern railway on the trestle where it crosses the county road near Springfield. This will be for the accommodation of the Springfield people and others who wish to take the cars for Eugene after the line is completed that far. Several cars of rails are now overdue from the East. As soon as they arrive construction work will be resumed.
