MANY APPLE ORCHARDS BEING SET IN VALLEY

The Portland Journal, in speaking of the awakening of the fruit industry in the Willamette valley, says: Near Monroe, in Benton county, three tracts, embracing nearly 1400 acres, are being set in apples, mostly Yellow Newtowns. Two of these tracts aggregating 1100 acres, belonging to a Grants Pass syndicate in which J. O. Booth, a prominent resident of southern Oregon, is the leading holder. A Corvallis syndicate, of which B. W. Johnson is at the head, purchased 200 acres near Monroe and is setting it in apples. Near Corvallis 240 acres is to be set this fall by a syndicate headed by Professor Brown, late associate professor of horticulture in the University of Wisconsin and graduate in horticulture of Cornell university. Association with him in this venture are Professors Lewis and Cordley of the Corvallis Agricultural college. In the same vicinity Vitrol Waters is planting 40 acres in apples. Nearly all of this land is being set in Yellow Newtowns, which variety attains the finest perfection in the upper Willamette valley.

Large tracts of Polk county land have been purchased by E. V. Carter and Ben Bowers of Ashland, who this fall will set all of their holdings in that county in Yellow Newtowns. While the attention is receiving the attention of a very large portion of the people of Washington and Yamhill counties, large areas in these counties are also set in walnuts.

The same development is to be observed in Linn and Lane counties, although probably not on so large a scale as in Benton, Polk, Yamhill and Washington.

Three years ago the Agricultural college leased a small orchard near Corvallis, and has since cultivated it on a scientific basis, using sprays and other entomological methods. Yellow Newtowns produced last year in this orchard have been pronounced by experts to be as good as can be grown anywhere in the world.

It was largely from the fruit produced in this orchard, together with borings and analysis of the soil, that the Brown syndicate determined to engage in commercial orcharding near Corvallis.

Not only is there on big wireless station in Eugene, but there is one little one, that can talk to the big ones, and furthermore, the University students may make more before the college year is out, and high school boys are likely to follow in their steps, as boys of other towns have done.

The members of the Kappa Sigma house have a wireless line in operation and send messages to the operator on Skinner's Butte, during all times of the day. Their apparatus is simple, and while it cannot receive or cover a distance of more than fifty miles, the owners are contemplating improvements that will make them able to read almost any message that comes over the air.

The wire in the air at the little station is over a hundred feet in length, and is connected with a simple outfit in the house. Six batteries furnish the power.

There are so many stations around San Francisco and other points, that the government and the United Wireless are trying to have laws passed against interference by independent operators with commercial or government business. Both Uncle Sam and the "United" want a license for each station.

Any little station near a large one can make itself heard, and can hear everything that is said. If it be at a distance, the large station can "tune" them out, so they do not bother, but near a large station the air is so charged with electricity, that if one station is "tuned out," all are.

Yesterday the operator on Skinner's Butte gave a free demonstration to the public. He received a few messages from Portland, and sent several. He said that what is most needed is some invention that will make what is said between two offices, unheard by any other. When this is done, the inventor will be made rich at once.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles, the severest form of nervousness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was entirely cured after three months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 30, Gardiner, Me.
 No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and restorer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ill, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

TRIED TO CROSS RIVER ON BOARD, RESCUED BY A LAUNCH

Wednesday evening Mr. Simmons had an experience on the river that he will remember for a time at least. He resides near Rose Hill cannery and works in th mill at Acme. On his way home that evening he had to cross the river but had no boat so he obtained a couple of planks at the creamery and made a strip two across them set out to cross the river on this frail craft. The tide was ebbing and quite large swells were running and the raft was hardly large enough to support Mr. Simmons' weight. He was soon ankle deep in the water and though he labored vigorously with a strip of board to propel the raft he was making slow progress toward home. Fortunately the launch Acme came along and taking him on board soon landed him safely at Rose Hill.

Cheese making was begun at the factory on Maple Creek last Friday, and the prospect seems good for a fair amount of business. The people of Siuslaw will have an opportunity to eat cheese of home manufacture for the first time in several years.

The board of directors have elected Prof. F. M. Maxwell of Couburg as principal of the Florence public school for the coming year at a salary of ninety dollars per month. Prof. Maxwell has had charge of the Couburg public school for three years past and has a high standing as an educator.

Parties have been in Florence during the last week looking for an opening for a bank. The outlook seems very favorable and it is probable the bank will be organized if the harbor bonding plan carries on the 25th.

A crowd of about ten men and several teams were set out to cross the river on the overturned craft and held on till some boys went to his assistance in another boat.

E. J. Frasier and Messrs. Davis and Girwood arrived here Sunday and spent several days in Florence and at the cape. They also took a trip up the North Fork to examine the oil prospects. The gentlemen saw good indications of oil and obtained some excellent specimens of the rock. They departed Wednesday for Eugene.

O. L. Brewster left yesterday for Monmouth in response to a message stating that his daughter March was lying at the point of death.

Mrs. Dean departed for her home in Eugene Monday afternoon after spending a week in Florence with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Condon.

The Mapleton baseball team came down the river Sunday and played a match game with the Florence boys. The visitors won the victory, the score at the close standing 29 to 15 in favor of Mapleton.
 About a ton of butter was shipped from the creamery to Mapleton on the steamer yesterday. It will be hauled from there to Junction City by Louis Hunziker.
 This is a good shipment for a start and has all been manufactured at the creamery within about a week.
 A building for a telephone office is being erected by Col. Holden on his lot near the bank building—Florence West.

SPELLING CONTEST IN EUGENE PUBLIC SCHOOL SENDED

The test in spelling under the auspices of the "School and Home Magazine" of Portland, resulted as follows in the Eugene schools:
 Patterson school, grades 3 to 8, inclusive, average 73.1 per cent.
 Central school, grades 3 to 8, inclusive, average 71.1 per cent.
 Geary school, grades 3 to 8, inclusive, average 69.7 per cent.
 Patterson school, grades 1 and 2, average, 58.3 per cent.
 Central school, grades 1 and 2, average 56.7 per cent.
 Geary school, grades 1 and 2, average 59.5 per cent.

It is only fair to teachers and pupils to say that the study of the special word lists for the contest was supposed to begin in January, but the matter was not brought to the attention of the schools here until the first week in February and we tried to do in three months an amount of work for four.

 At first no lists were prepared for first and second grades and when it was decided to add lists for the little people the primary teachers were directed not to burden them seriously but to do what they conveniently could.
 Each word correctly spelled entitled the speller to a vote for a candidate to represent Eugene schools at the Seattle Fair as the guest of votes so earned is 3317 and they were all cast for Miss Mae Larimer. If the total number of votes cast in Lane county is greater than the total number cast in Linn county, the candidate in Lane receiving the greatest number of votes of any one in the county will be the successful candidate. We hope this may be Miss Larimer, but should we fail to be successful in this, it is the general testimony of the teachers that the contest has added zest to the spelling work in school and that the pupils have derived a definite benefit from it that cannot be shown in figures. An average is a poor index of real conditions as a few who fall badly may bring the general average very low.

MARRIED

In Calgary, Alberta, Canada, April 27th, 1909, Miss Hazel Farrow, formerly of Eugene, to Ben Van Bearium, of Nova Scotia, who is a very promising young man, having come to the far west to grow up with the country. They will make Calgary their home. Mr. Van Bearium having a position at that place. Miss Farrow was born in Eugene and lived there sixteen years.

Notice of location of the "First Chance" mining claim in the Bohemia district was filed this afternoon with the county clerk by H. S. Cline.

THE HASKELL CASE IS UP AGAIN

Tulsa, Okla., May 10.—In compliance with the orders issued by the Attorney General of the United States, a new federal grand jury met here today to reinvestigate the Muskogee town lot fraud cases in which the names of Governor Chas. N. Haskell and a number of prominent Oklahomans were recently involved.

Governor Haskell and six others were indicted at Muskogee last January, charged with conspiracy to defraud the federal government and with the scheduling of Muskogee town lots in 1902. The indictments were quashed here last month by Judge John A. Marshall of Utah because they were returned by a grand jury composed of twenty-three men instead of sixteen, as provided by the Arkansas law, which was held to be in force in the Indian Territory by federal enactment at the time the alleged frauds were committed.

All of the seven indicted men are wealthy. Besides Governor Haskell they are: B. Severs, Walter R. Eaton, William Hutchins, A. Z. English and Clarence W. Turner.
