

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and I could not stand more than a minute at a time. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured."—LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 1, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drug when a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing the joys of life, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, irregular menstruation, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

TRAIN WRECK RESULTS IN DEATH OF MAIL CLERK

Topeka, Kas., May 31.—The Santa Fe passenger train No. 9, westbound, was wrecked at Penbody today, the accident being caused by a freight train crossing the passenger train. The engine, baggage and mail car went into the ditch and H. C. Thompson, a mail clerk, was instantly killed and two others of the train crew slightly injured.

S. W. Upton has come from Eugene to be with the Occidental Mill & Lumber Co. He will take the place of H. M. Barnum, who goes out to the Beaver Creek mill. Mr. Upton is an old friend of Manager G. O. Bassett, who has been introducing him about the city the past few days.—Corvallis Times.

On Sunday two young bloods from Eugene went to Springfield and, getting full on hard booze, insulted a girl on the street. She told her father, who hunted up the young fellows and gave both of them a good beating. One of them was unconscious from the beating for several hours and has not yet entirely recovered. Served them right.

Mrs. Nellie May Test, formerly of Eugene, who died in Portland on Wednesday, May 26, was born in Shelton, Oregon, May 18, 1883, and was the daughter of James Harley Foster. She is survived by her husband, Frank L. Test, and 2-year-old daughter, Frances May; her father and her mother, as follows: Mrs. William D. Foster, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Lee Porter, of St. John; Mrs. Frank Vandermont, of Wendling, Or.; and Miss Kate Foster, of Portland. Mrs. Test had resided in Portland for the past 12 years, with the exception of a short time in Eugene, and was a member of the First Methodist Church, of St. John.

Reliable Seeds

So much has already been said on the importance of buying your seeds from a reliable dealer that to repeat it is only waste of words. Reliable Seeds have proved their worth—our increasing business is proof indeed that the merit alone has made the Chas. H. Lilly Co. the foremost seedsmen on the Pacific Coast. Send for catalog, 121 page, illustrated, descriptive.

REPAIRS BEING MADE.

Goepfingen, May 31.—It was decided to make repairs to the airship and workmen are coming from Friederichshafen. The rent is slight and will be mended by tonight. Count Zeppelin is satisfied, because the airship covered some 850 miles in 37 hours.

Alton Hampton is about ready to build his fine residence on the heights back of M. Svarverud's house in Fairmount. The house will be built principally of Tenino stone and shingles. It will be one of the most costly in the city, as well as being situated so that a splendid view of the entire city may be had from it. It will be located on a slightly eminence south and east from the Svarverud residence.

HOLMES BUSINESS COLLEGE
WASHINGTON AND TENTH
PORTLAND OREGON
WRITE FOR CATALOG
The School that Places You in a Good Position

ALBANY
Academy, College, Normal and Commercial
Education in all branches, including classical, mathematical, etc., all based on the latest and most successful methods for our countrymen and women. We help boys who cannot read, and girls who cannot write, and give them the best of education for a very small fee.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED BY EUGENE VETERANS

(From Monday's Daily Guard.)

Every year the line of old veterans in the Memorial Day parade grows shorter. This was especially noticeable today. It seemed as though there was only a mere handful of the old-time boys in blue on hand today, compared with former years.

The annual exercises were held today instead of yesterday, the real Decoration Day, but holding them a day late did not detract from the decoration of the graves of the brave boys who shouldered muskets in the sixties to save the Union from dissolution.

The usual parade was pulled off on the streets and ended at the I. O. O. F. cemetery, where the ritualistic services of the G. A. R. were held at the old soldiers' lot. After these were concluded, the assembly adjourned to the lot of the Spanish-American war veterans, where short services were held. Both services were impressive and brought tears to many an eye.

The parade was headed by Companies A and C, Fourth regiment, O. N. G., in command of Major Hammond. They were followed by the G. A. R., the W. H. C. and L. of G. A. R., in the order named. The mayor and members of the city council were to have started out with the parade, but they arrived too late. However, some of them were taken out in two automobiles and joined the parade further out.

Returning down town, the old soldiers were treated to an excellent dinner at the old I. O. O. F. hall, served by the Ladies of the G. A. R. This afternoon the beautiful ceremony of scattering flowers on the waters of the mill-race in memory of the nation's sailor and marine dead was performed. This is one of the most interesting features of the whole Memorial Day observance. Yesterday morning the annual memorial sermon was delivered by Rev. O. C. Wright at the Central Presbyterian church. The sermon was the excellent and the services were largely attended.

NORTHWEST STATES WIN FIGHT AGAINST EXPO. MANAGERS

Seattle, May 31.—All selling booths on the grounds abutting the Idaho, California, Spokane and Women's League building sites were removed today under the order of President Chilberg. The Oregon laws were restored last week. This ends the only serious dispute that has ever arisen between the exhibitors and the management.

COUNT'S AIRSHIP ON LONG TRIP IS DAMAGED

Schweinfurt, Germany, May 31.—The airship Zeppelin II, passed over here at 3:30 this morning on its way back to Friederichshafen from Bitterfeld. The vessel left its shed at Lake Constance a little after nine o'clock Saturday night, the objective point being Berlin, where the Emperor yesterday awaited the arrival of the Count. But the dirigible only got as far as Bitterfeld, some 400 miles from its starting place, and he decided to return. On board were Count Zeppelin, two engineers and a crew of seven men. The airship has now been sailing something over thirty hours without stopping or coming to the ground.

Slightly Damaged.
Ulm, May 31.—The Zeppelin airship ran into the branch of a tree at the Goepfingen railroad station, between here and Stuttgart. The forward compartment was damaged, but it is believed that she will be able to continue her journey to Friederichshafen, as the machinery and all compartments except the one damaged appear to be intact.

Repairs Being Made.
Goepfingen, May 31.—It was decided to make repairs to the airship and workmen are coming from Friederichshafen. The rent is slight and will be mended by tonight. Count Zeppelin is satisfied, because the airship covered some 850 miles in 37 hours.

Alton Hampton is about ready to build his fine residence on the heights back of M. Svarverud's house in Fairmount. The house will be built principally of Tenino stone and shingles. It will be one of the most costly in the city, as well as being situated so that a splendid view of the entire city may be had from it. It will be located on a slightly eminence south and east from the Svarverud residence.

JELL-O
The Dainty Dessert
PREPARED INSTANTLY. Simply add boiling water, cool and serve. 10c. per package at all grocers. 7 flavors. Refuse all substitutes.

PRESIDENT TAFT DEDICATES MEMORIAL TO REGULARS WHO FELL ON GETTYSBURG FIELD

Gettysburg, May 31.—The memory of the regularly enlisted men of the United States army who gave up their lives or fought in the Gettysburg campaign of 1863 was perpetuated in granite on the famous battlefield today, when the monument erected by act of congress was unveiled in the presence of President Taft.

The President arrived here shortly before 10 o'clock and was given an enthusiastic reception. With his party he was taken to all historic places by a committee and returned to his car for luncheon, and at 2 o'clock took his place at the head of the military parade and proceeded to "Bloody Angel" on cemetery ridge, where the unveiling ceremonies took place.

The President delivered an appropriate address, after which Miss Helen Taft unveiled the monument. The address transferring the monument from the national government to the Gettysburg National Park commission was delivered by Secretary of War Dickinson and the acceptance by Colonel Nicholson, chairman of the commission.

The memorial consists of a handsome granite shaft, 95 feet in height, and was erected by the United States government at a cost of $75,000. It occupies a conspicuous location in that part of the battlefield known as "The Angle," where the most sanguinary fighting of the memorable conflict took place. Within view are many of the monuments erected by the several states to the volunteer troops.

The national memorial is the first to be erected in memory of the regulars who fought and fell at Gettysburg. The organizations commemorated by this memorial are Batteries E, G, H, I and K, First United States Artillery; A, B, C, D, F, G, and K, Fourth United States Artillery; C, D, E, F, I, and K, Fifth United States Artillery; the Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Fourteenth, and Seventeenth Regiments of United States Infantry; the First, Second, Fifth, and Sixth Regiments of United States Cavalry, and the United States Engineers' Detachment.

Greenville, Tenn., May 31.—Scattered over the green sward in and surrounding the National Cemetery, which, for the past forty years, has served as the resting place for the body of Andrew Johnson, the seventeenth president of the United States, thousands of the descendants of his old-time neighbors and friends in East Tennessee today took advantage of the first memorial celebration since the transformation of the private cemetery into a national institution to do honor to the memory of the former distinguished citizen by organizing the Andrew Johnson Memorial Association.

The people came from all portions of the vast and picturesque East Tennessee country, and while most of them were of the present day generation, there were some old-timers who boasted of having known the Tennessee Commoner in his day, and who spoke of the fact with much pride. The orator of the occasion, Martin V. Littleton, came all the way from New York to speak in terms of highest eulogy of the one president who, during his term of office, was tried on impeachment charges.

Mr. Littleton is a native of East Tennessee, and he expressed high appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in making him the orator of the occasion. He reviewed at great length the life of the distinguished man in whose honor the people had assembled, and predicted that the day would come when the entire country would be pleased to do homage to the memory of Andrew Johnson.

SUDDEN DEATH OF INDIAN CHAS. JOHNSON
Last Saturday morning William Saffley was coming up the beach with his team, when two Indians named Charlie and Fred Johnson took passage from the Umpqua to Florence, says the Florence West.

Soon after starting Fred Johnson's foot was caught in a wheel and came near breaking his leg.

When within about a mile of where the road leaves the ocean beach, Charles Johnson was suddenly stricken with apoplexy and would have fallen out had not some of the others supported him.

He was brought to Florence and taken to the Bay View hotel. Dr. Edwards was summoned, but found the patient beyond the reach of medicine. The man died about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The remains were taken down the beach Sunday morning.

IRRIGATION MEETING AT HARRISBURG
Harrisburg, May 31.—The regular monthly meeting of the Improvement club Saturday, June 5, will be addressed by Professor H. C. Scudder, of Corvallis, on the subject of irrigation. This is the first irrigation meeting ever held in the community, if not in the county, and owing to the apparent need of irrigation in the valley this spring, it is expected the subject will draw a large crowd.

How to live on 15 cents a day. The mind as well as the body is benefited by economy in eating. The only health giver like a diet of Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. In a startling way it keeps you going. 35c. tea or tablets.

T. H. Fenton, of Dexter, spent last night in the city.

Johnstown, Pa., May 31.—With the decoration of the graves of the unknown dead and the holding of memorial exercises, Johnstown today observed the twentieth anniversary of the great flood that laid waste the Conemaugh Valley in 1889. It was on May 31 of that year that the breaking of the great reservoir dam let the waters sweep down the valley and into the city of Johnstown dealing death and destruction in the upward rush. Millions of dollars in property and a total of 2295 lives were lost in the disaster. More than six hundred of the victims were never identified, while an almost equal number of bodies were never recovered.

At Tomb of Lafayette.
Paris, May 31.—The annual Memorial Day ceremony of decorating with flowers the tomb of Lafayette in Picpus Cemetery took place today. The event was attended by a representative gathering of Americans, including the staffs of the embassy and consulate.

Memorial Day Widely Observed
City of Mexico, May 31.—American residents in this city, including the members of the local post of the G. A. R., observed Memorial Day with appropriate exercises today. One of the features of the observance consisted in the decoration of the graves of the American soldiers buried in the United National Cemetery.

Mobile, Ala., May 31.—In Mobile and elsewhere in Alabama the G. A. R. and camps of Confederate veterans united in decorating the graves of the dead.

Springfield, Ill., May 31.—Decoration Day services were held today at the tomb of Lincoln, in Oak Ridge cemetery. The graves of about 1500 Federal and 700 Confederate dead in the National cemetery were decorated by the local G. A. R. posts.

New York May 31.—An almost total suspension of business marked the local observance of Memorial Day. The principal feature was a parade of Grand Army veterans, in which regular and State troops participated. The procession was reviewed at Grant's tomb at Riverside Drive, while vessels of the navy lying in the Hudson river near by fired a national salute.

Washington, May 31.—Memorial Day was observed in the national capital with solemn and impressive ceremonies. All of the departments of the government were closed throughout the day. Graves of the veterans buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, in St. Elizabeth's Cemetery and other burying-grounds in Washington and vicinity were decorated by the G. A. R. and other patriotic and memorial organizations.

LITTLE ZEPHYR
WIPED OUT BY
REAL BIG ZEPHYR

Brownwood, Tex., May 31.—A tornado of great fury struck the little village of Zephyr, in the eastern portion of Brown county, at 1 o'clock this morning and left a path of death and destruction seldom paralleled. The death list, the number of seriously or fatally injured will reach 50.

The storm formed a half mile southwest of Zephyr and swept down upon the village, cutting a wide swath directly through the residence and business districts. Nearly 50 houses were demolished. Lightning started a fire which destroyed one entire business block.

No effort was made to fight the fire, as the care of the dead and injured demanded the attention of every one.

A section employee rode a handcar to Brownwood and spread the alarm. In two hours the Santa Fe railroad was spouting a special train to the scene of the storm with men, surgeons and a score of Brownwood citizens.

MISS NICKLIN IN PHILHARMONIC CONCERT

This morning's Oregonian gives an account of the closing concert of the Spitzer Philharmonic Society at the Hellig theatre and pays the following tribute to a Eugene girl:

The soloist of the afternoon was Miss Nina Nicklin, who has frequently played as a member of this orchestra, but on this occasion her violin playing never arose to greater heights of excellence. Miss Nicklin is now a talented young artist over whose musical future it would be interesting to speculate, and she plays so well she is the equal of many professional violinists who have greater reputations because they are more extensively advertised. Indeed, there are some of them who could not duplicate the musical feat successfully performed by this young girl, yesterday—that of playing from memory the difficult, long-drawn-out, but beautiful Bruch "Concerto, G Minor, op. 26." To master its technical difficulties is also no easy task. Miss Nicklin also played two other solos very well, indeed, and for an encore gave with fine effect the "Tolstoi Serenade," composed by Mr. Spitzer. The piano accompanists were Miss Alicia McElroy and Miss Jessie Lewis.

IN MEMORIAM.
They died to keep the nation one.
For north, for south, their work was done,
And done so well that now we stand
A great and undivided land
Whose strength is union and whose good
Is sealed in lasting brotherhood.
Tene!
Light's out!
Asleep!
One flag, one country,
Shall forever keep
These dead as sacred
And on the soil which covers them
Shall set a blossoming diadem.
W. J. LAMPTON.

MEMORIAL OF THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD VICTIMS

Johnstown, Pa., May 31.—With the decoration of the graves of the unknown dead and the holding of memorial exercises, Johnstown today observed the twentieth anniversary of the great flood that laid waste the Conemaugh Valley in 1889. It was on May 31 of that year that the breaking of the great reservoir dam let the waters sweep down the valley and into the city of Johnstown dealing death and destruction in the upward rush. Millions of dollars in property and a total of 2295 lives were lost in the disaster. More than six hundred of the victims were never identified, while an almost equal number of bodies were never recovered.

At Tomb of Lafayette.
Paris, May 31.—The annual Memorial Day ceremony of decorating with flowers the tomb of Lafayette in Picpus Cemetery took place today. The event was attended by a representative gathering of Americans, including the staffs of the embassy and consulate.

Memorial Day Widely Observed
City of Mexico, May 31.—American residents in this city, including the members of the local post of the G. A. R., observed Memorial Day with appropriate exercises today. One of the features of the observance consisted in the decoration of the graves of the American soldiers buried in the United National Cemetery.

Mobile, Ala., May 31.—In Mobile and elsewhere in Alabama the G. A. R. and camps of Confederate veterans united in decorating the graves of the dead.

Springfield, Ill., May 31.—Decoration Day services were held today at the tomb of Lincoln, in Oak Ridge cemetery. The graves of about 1500 Federal and 700 Confederate dead in the National cemetery were decorated by the local G. A. R. posts.

New York May 31.—An almost total suspension of business marked the local observance of Memorial Day. The principal feature was a parade of Grand Army veterans, in which regular and State troops participated. The procession was reviewed at Grant's tomb at Riverside Drive, while vessels of the navy lying in the Hudson river near by fired a national salute.

Washington, May 31.—Memorial Day was observed in the national capital with solemn and impressive ceremonies. All of the departments of the government were closed throughout the day. Graves of the veterans buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, in St. Elizabeth's Cemetery and other burying-grounds in Washington and vicinity were decorated by the G. A. R. and other patriotic and memorial organizations.

LITTLE ZEPHYR WIPED OUT BY
REAL BIG ZEPHYR

Brownwood, Tex., May 31.—A tornado of great fury struck the little village of Zephyr, in the eastern portion of Brown county, at 1 o'clock this morning and left a path of death and destruction seldom paralleled. The death list, the number of seriously or fatally injured will reach 50.

The storm formed a half mile southwest of Zephyr and swept down upon the village, cutting a wide swath directly through the residence and business districts. Nearly 50 houses were demolished. Lightning started a fire which destroyed one entire business block.

No effort was made to fight the fire, as the care of the dead and injured demanded the attention of every one.

A section employee rode a handcar to Brownwood and spread the alarm. In two hours the Santa Fe railroad was spouting a special train to the scene of the storm with men, surgeons and a score of Brownwood citizens.

MISS NICKLIN IN PHILHARMONIC CONCERT

This morning's Oregonian gives an account of the closing concert of the Spitzer Philharmonic Society at the Hellig theatre and pays the following tribute to a Eugene girl:

The soloist of the afternoon was Miss Nina Nicklin, who has frequently played as a member of this orchestra, but on this occasion her violin playing never arose to greater heights of excellence. Miss Nicklin is now a talented young artist over whose musical future it would be interesting to speculate, and she plays so well she is the equal of many professional violinists who have greater reputations because they are more extensively advertised. Indeed, there are some of them who could not duplicate the musical feat successfully performed by this young girl, yesterday—that of playing from memory the difficult, long-drawn-out, but beautiful Bruch "Concerto, G Minor, op. 26." To master its technical difficulties is also no easy task. Miss Nicklin also played two other solos very well, indeed, and for an encore gave with fine effect the "Tolstoi Serenade," composed by Mr. Spitzer. The piano accompanists were Miss Alicia McElroy and Miss Jessie Lewis.

IN MEMORIAM.
They died to keep the nation one.
For north, for south, their work was done,
And done so well that now we stand
A great and undivided land
Whose strength is union and whose good
Is sealed in lasting brotherhood.
Tene!
Light's out!
Asleep!
One flag, one country,
Shall forever keep
These dead as sacred
And on the soil which covers them
Shall set a blossoming diadem.
W. J. LAMPTON.

The Colors On Memorial Day

BY R.K. MUNKITTRICK

Of the roses and the lilies and the violets today
Are the old red, white and blue, which, like the flag, in bright array,

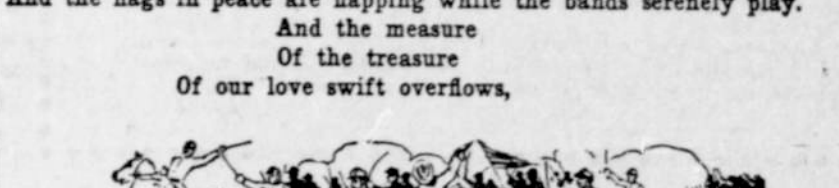

All are blowing
And a-glowing
In their beauty far and near.

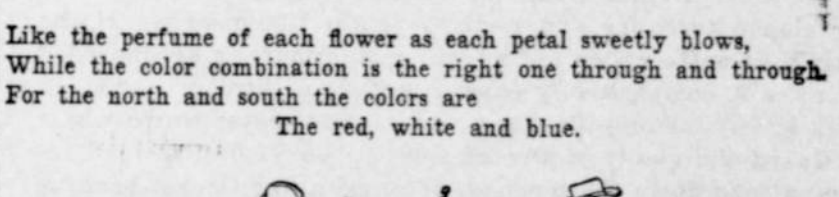

In the northland and the southland now they joyously appear,
And they know that for the soldiers they're the colors fast and true.
For the north and south the colors are
The red, white and blue.

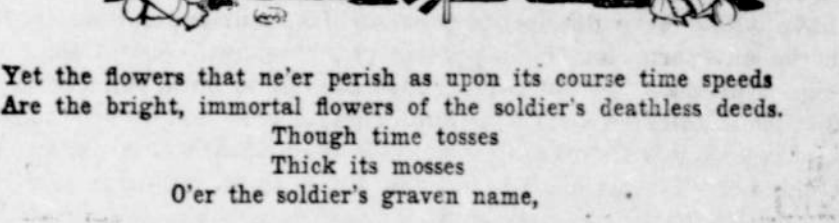

There is not a cannon banging; all the guns are still today,
And the flags in peace are flapping while the bands serenely play.
And the measure
Of the treasure
Of our love swift overflows,

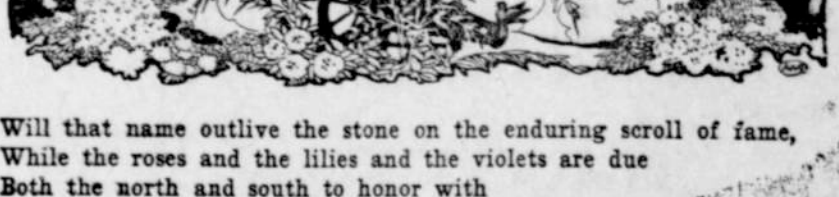

Like the perfume of each flower as each petal sweetly blows,
While the color combination is the right one through and through.
For the north and south the colors are
The red, white and blue.

Yet the flowers that ne'er perish as upon its course time speeds
Are the bright, immortal flowers of the soldier's deathless deeds.
Though time tosses
Thick its mosses
O'er the soldier's graven name,

Will that name outlive the stone on the enduring scroll of fame,
While the roses and the lilies and the violets are due
Both the north and south to honor with
The red, white and blue.

Will that name outlive the stone on the enduring scroll of fame,
While the roses and the lilies and the violets are due
Both the north and south to honor with
The red, white and blue.

HILL-HARRIMAN DEAL PERFECTED

New York, June 1.—The agreement between the railroads controlled by E. H. Harriman and those controlled by James J. Hill, for joint use of tracks leading into Seattle, has been signed, sealed and delivered. The representatives of the two parties to the agreement were in conference in this city today, adjusting the legal details of the agreement, but counsel said this was being accomplished without friction and that for all practical purposes, the agreement was now in force.

TRAIN ROBBER SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Spokane, June 1.—W. D. Woods, now in jail in Omaha, charged with holding up the overland limited train, was positively identified from portraits furnished by Officer Chester Edwards as being Dan Downer, frequently arrested here. Edwards states he assisted in arresting Downer and Fred Torgenson at Everett, last October, and found in their grips nitroglycerine, fuses, caps and a complete safeblowers' outfit. Torgenson is now with Woods in the Omaha jail.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC
Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.