

THAYER LEAVES TOWN, ALSO LEFT NUMEROUS BILLS

Where is H. H. Thayer, lessee of the Eugene race track? That is a leading question with a number of merchants of the city and with the county fair management. It appears that he has left the city, leaving a lot of bills behind and failing to leave his future address behind him.

Thayer evidently left the city on one of the early morning trains, but it is not known which way he went. At eleven o'clock last night he sent the boy who stayed with him in the bungalow at the fair grounds down town to get some headache tablets, and left instructions for the boy not to disturb him upon his return to the bungalow. The boy did as directed, but upon going to Thayer's room this morning, he found that he had gone and the bed had not been slept in.

Bills left behind by Thayer are said to be all the way from $200 down. It is probable that efforts will be made to locate the fellow by some of his creditors.

FOREST SERVICE CLERK EXAMS IN EUGENE

Portland, June 3.—The United States Civil Service Commission announced yesterday that it has selected to the sheriff this morning, says the Albany Herald. In short, Hostetter was converted at the tabernacle last night and confessed having forged and cashed a $70 check a year ago, at Red Bluff, Calif. He had met a young man, Red, at Sacramento, who was short of funds, and wrote to the boy's father in Oklahoma for money, and cashed the Sacramento order at Red Bluff himself.

The man was not locked up today as the authorities do not know anything about him. He secured two dollars from Evangelist Johnson and is roaming the streets today. He has been in Albany before, was working in Eugene some time ago, and came here over the ties from Salem. He had a letter addressed to him from Indiana. The sheriff will take action as soon as they hear from California authorities.

The examination will consist of spelling, arithmetic, penmanship, letter-writing, copying from rough draft, and typewriting and stenography. Applicants should at once apply either to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or to the secretary of the board of examiners at any place mentioned above, for application for 324.

JOHN DOWNER, COLORED MINER, IS DEAD

(From Thursday's Daily Guard.) John Downer, the old colored miner, who has been here and at the Blue River mines for the past twenty or thirty years, died at the General hospital yesterday morning from cerebral hemorrhage.

"Old John," as he was called, was an honest man, square with everybody with whom he had occasion to deal in business and was a hard worker. Hon. T. G. Hendricks, president of the First National bank, this morning said: "Downer was a white man, even though his skin was black."

FOREST SERVICE TO FIGHT THE SCAB

During the grazing season of 1909, the forest service will again cooperate with the bureau of animal industry and the state officials in efforts to stamp out the disease known as scab, which exists among the sheep in a number of western states and territories. This work has been carried on by the bureau of animal industry for several years past. The forest service has endeavored to assist the bureau, as well as the state authorities, in enforcing the law by refusing to admit any sheep on a national forest reserve within the prescribed states, that were not accompanied by a certificate of inspection, signed by the inspector of the bureau of animal industry, to the effect that they were free from the disease or had been dipped in accordance with the regulations of the bureau.

Good Blood

Means good health, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has an unapproached record as a blood-purifier.

It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 30 different ingredients. There is no real substitute for it. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In small liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsastablets.

EUGENE SCHOOL EXHIBIT SENT TO SEATTLE

The Eugene educational exhibit for the Seattle exposition was shipped yesterday and is expected that it will reach the Oregon building this week, and be ready next week for the inspection of the thousands who will visit the building during the exposition.

The exhibit consists of photographs of the several school buildings in Eugene, four exhibit cabinets that were used at the Lewis and Clark exposition and some 1500 volumes of matter selected from the daily work in the grades. It is explained in the exhibit that to take the daily work of the pupils without error in editing was most difficult matter and showed just what the pupils do every day, than to pick out the best samples that could be found and correct them and prepare them for the exhibition.

If possible, Superintendent Stockton says he will have the exhibit back in time for the district fair here this fall, but as the exposition will not be over by that time, he hardly thinks they can be secured for that purpose.

CONVERTED, CONFESSES TO OLD CRIME

A sensational story is that of Pearl Hostetter who gave himself up to the sheriff this morning, says the Albany Herald. In short, Hostetter was converted at the tabernacle last night and confessed having forged and cashed a $70 check a year ago, at Red Bluff, Calif. He had met a young man, Red, at Sacramento, who was short of funds, and wrote to the boy's father in Oklahoma for money, and cashed the Sacramento order at Red Bluff himself.

The man was not locked up today as the authorities do not know anything about him. He secured two dollars from Evangelist Johnson and is roaming the streets today. ## SOUTHERN EXTENSION OF OREGON ELECTRIC

McNary, local attorneys of the road, in regard to certain matters in connection with the proposed extension of the road south to Albany. ## OBITUARY.

James Higgins, one of Eugene's most respected citizens, passed peacefully away at the Eugene General hospital on Sunday evening at 9:05, after an illness of five weeks. Deceased was born in Burlington, Vermont, on November 23rd, 1839. He was married to Mary A. Sargent of North Brookfield, Mass., in 1852. In 1855 they came west to Wisconsin, locating at Janesville, and a few years later moved to New Hartford, Iowa, where they lived until 1888. In May of that year they moved to Eugene, and have lived here continually since that time, thus making him one of Eugene's oldest citizens. He was buried in the Masonic cemetery Wednesday afternoon, June 2, 1909. He leaves to mourn his loss, one daughter, Mrs. M. A. Wolcott of College Hill, Eugene; also three sons, Will, Asa and Irving Higgins. He has one brother, John Higgins, a sister, Mary Connor, both of North Troy, and another sister, Mrs. Libby Mitchell, of Holyoke, Mass.

Walter P. Edris, a native of Eugene, has been recommended to succeed Edward T. Harston as postmaster of Spokane, and will take charge early in September. His parents crossed the plains in a wagon drawn by an ox team, from Pennsylvania in 1852 and were married after arriving in Oregon. His father was the first flour miller on the Oregon coast, owning a mill in Eugene for many years. Mr. Edris attended the academy which is now the Hill Military school in Portland and later went to the University of Oregon. He has never before held any political office.

A marriage license was granted by the county clerk this morning to Burton Henry Buoy and Miss Nettie Francis Welch, both of Creswell.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF MAN IN THE HILLS

There is no light on the mystery of the charred remains of a man found yesterday in the hills about two miles from Goshen and five miles south of Eugene by Rufus Cop-haver, a farmer, who was out looking for stray cattle.

Cop-haver yesterday afternoon suddenly came up to a clearing in the woods where there had been quite a brush fire. He was horrified to find the skeleton of a man, the body having been burned in the fire and every vestige of his clothing was destroyed by the flames. All that was found besides the bones were the metal frame of a revolver with the chamber full of cartridges, several buttons from the man's clothing four one-cent pieces, a watch charm with the picture of the government building at the Lewis and Clark exposition on one side and the advertisement of a blacksmith supply house on the other, a pocket knife and the metal from the man's shoes.

The revolver was a 32-calibre and the shell in the barrel had been exploded by the hammer, the others being exploded by the fire. There were three more shells nearby, evidently having been carried in the man's pocket. All, of course, were exploded.

The remains of the fire indicated that it had burned over a year ago, although there is no way of telling just how long ago it was. Sheriff Bowen and Coroner Gordon were notified of the discovery of the skeleton late yesterday afternoon and they at once drove to the scene. No inquest will be held over the remains.

How the man came to his death is mere conjecture. The fact that the shell in the barrel of the pistol had been exploded by the hammer might indicate that he had committed suicide, first building a big fire around himself so that the dead body would be incinerated. Another theory is that he was murdered and the body dragged to that lonely spot by the murderer.

No one in this vicinity, as far as can be learned, has mysteriously disappeared in late years. From that it is supposed the man was a stranger here.

ROBBERS ARE FULLY IDENTIFIED BY DETECTIVES

Omaha, June 4.—Gordon M. Gil-den is the correct name of the bandit who calls himself Godon. He is a brother of Chas. R. Shelton, the man arrested in Denver, according to Detective MacDonal, of Spokane, who has thoroughly identified all the robbers. Togenson, MacDonal says, would bring a big reward in the Northwest, where he is wanted for a desperate crime.

MAN AND WIFE MAKING LONG WALK

"Can't give me a cent, can't borrow a cent, couldn't start with a cent, but I and my wife are going to Seattle to earn $1,000, just the same," said A. Wood, a one-armed man with a genial face and plenty of resourcefulness, this morning. He and his wife had just arrived in Eugene and were hastening out to make a sprint between here and Seattle on the long trip from Los Angeles to that city.

The couple started from Los Angeles on April 4, and until they reached northern California made a little over 25 miles a day. There sickness overtook them and delayed them seventeen days. However, the people that are offering them $1000 for the walk withdrew the time limit, and they are finishing as soon as they can get to Seattle.

ROOSEVELT PARTY STARTS FOR SOLIK

Jijabe, B. E. A., June 5.—The Roosevelt expedition left here at 9 o'clock today for Solik district. Between Kijabe and the objective point there is a waterless tract that will take two days to traverse. Water for expedition will be carried in ox wagons.

Brown Hansaru and Dick Spong were arrested at Springfield yesterday by Marshal Lyons on the charge of conducting a "blind pig" and were each fined $200 in the recorder's court.

SENATOR DOLLIVER MAKES SCORCHING ANSWER TO SPEECH OF SENATOR ALDRICH

Washington, June 5.—Taking the floor when Aldrich asked for an eye and no vote on the cotton cloth schedule today, Senator Dolliver made the senatorial rafters ring with his denunciation of the speech made by the Rhode Island senator on that schedule last night.

"I desire to avoid any harsh criticism of what has been done," he said, in opening his remarks, "but I am not able to avoid a plain straightforward statement of what this committee now asks the senate to do. Men are asked to cast their votes here, not upon testimony, but upon the authority of a committee, and it becomes my duty to inquire into the sacredness of that substitute for facts and figures."

Dolliver criticized certain statements of Aldrich, and remarked that thirty years ago he had traveled with speeches of Aldrich on tariff so that he could refer to his statistics, in which he said he then had faith, but which was gradually slipping away.

Aldrich arose to leave the chamber. "I hope the senator will remain an hear what I have to say," suggested Dolliver.

Aldrich pleaded an engagement, whereupon Dolliver reminded him he had an engagement in the senate chamber and Aldrich remained. Doliver, Aldrich and Flint participated in the debate.

Dolliver ridiculed the possibility of "equalizing" rates without raising or lowering others. Equalization had been effected, he said, by leaving the high rates up and bringing the lower ones nearer their level. Speaking of need for accurate information, Dolliver said:

"Senators cannot convert the senate of the United States from a great deliberative body to an aggregation of intellectual come-ons."

Responding to a side expression of surprise by some senators near him, Dolliver added:

"That is a green goods proposition," and declared he suspected that various people who had dealings with the New York custom house of having "agents on the payroll engaged in the administration of the customs laws."

At last night's session Chairman Aldrich replied to LaFollette's assaults upon the work of the finance committee and made a general defense of the amendments which he asserted were necessary. Aldrich said that estimates of the ad vaorem equivalent of specific rates could not be accurately figured when the value of the goods ranged from 7 to 30 cents a square yard. He said the committee's rates were lower than those intended by the Dingley law, although they might be higher than those under which certain goods are now admitted because of misrepresentation in courts. He declared that nobody but importers have protested against the senate bill rates as being too high. He read a letter from an appraiser in the New York Custom House stating that goods affected by the decision placing certain cotton cloths under the paragraphs for cloths assessed according to the count of threads amounted to 10 to 12 per cent of importations.

Declaring that the menace to the American cotton goods industry will be the manufacture of those goods by Japan, Aldrich said that Japan today has four large cotton manufacturing plants in operation, and that it would be hard to say what would be the result if in the next ten years Japan should go extensively into the manufacture of cotton. He called attention to the 6 cents a day labor in Japan and to the ability of Japanese in decorative work.

She expects to annex several valuable trophies for her already large collection this season. Followers of tennis never tire of watching Miss Sutton at play. She puts more action into the game than many men who are rated as stars.

SUPREME COURT UNABLE TO DECIDE IN ATWOOD CASE

For the first time in the history of the supreme court of Oregon, so far as can be ascertained, there was a tie vote upon the issues of a case on appeal in which it stood two for affirmation and two for reversal, and the rule in such cases being that in case of a tie or doubt the respondent is entitled to the benefit, the decree of the trial court is affirmed. This is in the case of the state against C. H. and C. H. T. Atwood, in which the defendants and appellants were convicted of having performed an illegal operation upon one Mable Roberts, in Portland, in 1908, and were sentenced to the penitentiary. Justices Moore and Eakin wrote the affirmative opinion and Justice King dissented for himself and Justice Slater. Justice McBride, who was on the bench, had no vote on the issue. One of the points at issue which caused a division of the court is a technical one, which does not bear of comment, and a second, which is decided in the affirmative, is that the indictment was properly drawn under Section 1939 of the code, generally known as the nuisance statute, when no other statute of the code provides a punishment for the crime charged.—Statesman.

GRIZZLED VETERANS REVIEW O. A. C. CADETS

Corvallis, Or., June 4.—It was a busy morning for the G. A. R. at Corvallis. Speeches, parades, flag raising and a review of the O. A. C. cadet regiment by the old veterans occupied the time. All of the principal streets were lined with townspeople and outside visitors as the parade marched by. It was headed by the O. A. C. cadet band and cadet regiment, and the boys of '61, aged and bent, but still full of loyal pride, 500 strong, followed amid the plaudits of the crowds.

DR. McCORNACK ON THIS YEAR'S FRUIT CROP

Dr. H. F. McCornack, who has one of the best orchards in the state a short distance west of the city and who is one of the best authorities on fruit culture in the west, was interviewed yesterday as to the prospects for this year's crop. He reported that the cherry crop will fall below the average on account of the late frosts and that the prune crop will be quite short on the same account. Apples, he said, will be short for two reasons, one that on account of the immense crop of last year they did not set very heavily this year and the other because of the frosts. The quality, however, promises to be excellent. Peaches were thinned out some by the cold weather, but they will yield very well in some places where the orchards were not thinned out, where there will be a fair crop of fruit this year averaging everything up," said the doctor. "While some varieties will be light, others will bring up the average."

The official figures of the attendance on the first day at the Seattle fair were 216 exceeding the opening day at Portland and Jamestown. California cherries are on the market.

AUTOMOBILE CAUSES HORSE TO RUN AWAY

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, June 4.—Just before noon yesterday H. C. Perry, who was driving to town, met with what might have been a serious accident. Just after crossing the railroad track coming into town on Smith street, he met W. L. Wright's automobile and his horse became frightened and started to run. When about half way down the block the Douglas machine came down Fourth street and turned into Smith, going west. The animal thought this was the limit, and was doing its best to get away. Mr. Perry thought that if he could get his horse around the corner and away from the sight of the machine he could get him stopped. However, in making this turn the buggy lurched to such an extent that he was thrown out and struck on his head and shoulders on the sidewalk, beside the M. E. church. Here the horse got entirely away and ran to the livery stable with the frost wheels still trailing behind him. Mr. Perry's scalp was cut about six or seven inches. He was carried to the hospital where the wound was immediately dressed and he is able to get around and attend to the business which brought him to town. He started with nine dozen eggs and says that he got 75 cents for what was left and that was better than he expected.
