PORTLAND MARKET.

Local wheat values are showing another loss today. For track delivery of wheat exporters and millers are not offering over 95c for club, bluestem #1, red Russian 93c, forty-fold 96 1/2c, Willamette Valley 95c@96 1/2c a bushel. The difference between bluestem and fortyfold has been increased another half cent, the spread now being 3 1/2c a bushel.

Livestock Market Prices.
The livestock market today was a rather quiet affair. Receipts reported at the yards were 220 cattle, 1016 sheep and 93 hogs, but a considerable portion of the mutton stuff went on to the Sound, leaving but a moderate amount for disposition in this market.

There were no developments of importance in prices. All lines held steady to firm at the last range, and the prospect is for a comparatively steady market for the remainder of the week. The cattle and hogs brought in thus far this week have averaged slightly better in quality than the arrivals of some time past, but complaint is still heard of a lack of quality stock in all lines. Fancy steers and hogs are a rarity at the yards.

Hops.

While a hop crop materially under the average in size in this state this year is counted as a certainty, it is now a matter of general belief that the yield will be considerably greater than was thought possible a year ago. Members of the local trade are generally raising their estimates of a few weeks back, and it is now believed that the coming crop will total from 70,000 to 80,000 bales.

Oregon Potatoes.

New Oregon potatoes are coming in freely and the market for the time wears a weak appearance. Quotations to the growers generally range from 75c to $1 a hundred, but sales at prices under 75c have been reported this week.

Home grown cucumbers are also in good supply and prices are down, the product selling at 25c to 50c a dozen.

Fancy Oregon tomatoes are selling at 75c to $1 a box, while inferior California products go at 40c to 50c.

Cantaloupes Are Higher.

Higher prices are ruling in the cantaloupe market here, as a result of the high figures in the south. Dallas "cants" have made their appearance, and are showing very strong quality. However, there is an extreme scarcity of good cantaloupes while there is a surplus of poor and indifferent quality. Hawkers are the principal buyers of the cheaper stuff, which is high at any price.

APPROACH TO FERRY

BEING IMPROVED

(Special Correspondence.)
Harrisburg, Aug. 4.—The bill at the east approach of the ferry here is being worked down this week to a one-in-eight grade. This much needed improvement has been delayed some time but the county officials are redeeming themselves by placing our best road-builder, D. H. Harris, in command of the work. This insures the best possible job. The improvement will be appreciated by the traveling public and especially by local traffic.

Harvesting is in full swing in this section. Haying is done, and most of the haying, fall wheat bound and in the shock, and the threshers will all be in the field by the last of the week. The crops, notwithstanding the hue and cry of crop failure, are turning out a splendid yield.

The stock of merchandise purchased by Shishler & Sons from Carter & Son, is being improved this week, and the firm will be ready for business very soon.

Miss Ruby Scott, one of The Guard's excursionists to the A-Y-P, is very profuse in her expressions as to the pleasures of the trip. She says that she is fully paid for all her traveling and for the time spent with the trip will be kept green in her memory as long as life shall last and as a distinction she can say she is the only one of the Scott family who has set foot on foreign soil.

LOST VALLEY NEWS.

(Special Correspondence.)
Lost Valley, Aug. 2.—We attribute the scarcity of news to the fact that everyone is so busy in their grain harvest to do anything which would pass as news.

Wm. Williams and family went to Fall Creek blackberry last week. They report excellent success.

H. M. Parvin is preparing to start his threshing outfit next week. He will add a cook wagon to his outfit this season.

A. B. Addington and T. H. Fenton made a three days' trip to Point Lookout last week, fishing. They reported over one hundred "red-sides." The boys say they saw some deer—but, well it was closed season when they were out, so of course they didn't (?)

After the Baptist meeting Sunday the ordinance of baptism was administered to a candidate.

Miss Anna Haskell, of Harrisburg, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ruby Fate.

Mr. Keever and family, of Bend, Oregon, were visiting with his daughters, Mrs. B. E. Williams and Miss Grace Keever, last week.

PORTLAND BUSINESS COLLEGE.
The attention of our readers is asked to the advertisement of the Portland Business College appearing in this issue of The Guard. The advantages of the school mentioned are set forth in forcible, straightforward language. The motto or slogan in the line following the ornamental script heading is full of meaning. "The School of Quality" should be both inspiring and encouraging to young people who desire to prepare themselves for commercial careers. Anyone interested in a practical education will do well to send for a catalogue of the school mentioned. It is a beautiful specimen of the printer's art, and contains full information about the several courses of study, besides a number of specimens of penmanship, samples of business forms, etc. It may be had for the asking.

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 for Women." It tells of Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. Tells how these soothing, healing, anti-septic suppositories bring quick and certain help. The book is free. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. All dealers.

RIVAL CAMPS

RESORT TO FORCE

Grass Valley, Or., Aug. 1.—In spite of the injunction issued in the Circuit Court yesterday, Porter Bros. today put 75 men, armed with pickhandles, axhandles and in a few instances guns, on guard at the locked entrance to the Gurtz ranch. Again Twohy Bros. sent teams to the front, and again they brought the back with wagons loaded, but the return was not made until after one four-mile freight wagon and a pack train of three horses had been forcibly ejected from the ranch by the 75 men. The ejection was accomplished without the breaking of any heads or the injury of any one, by unhitching the mules from the first wagon through the gate and the men pulling the wagon out backwards. Owing to being overwhelmed by numbers, the Twohy drivers had to submit.

Twohy Crew Outnumbered.
It is the contention of Johnson Porter, who arrived on the scene this morning by automobile from The Dalles, that there has not been sufficient service of the injunction to put it into force. The injunction was served last night on Superintendent Griffin, who is the Grass Valley representative of Porter Bros., and another copy was also served on the regular gateman at the ranch.

WANT CO-OPERATION

OF THE FARMERS

A statement by the McKenzie Valley Power and Irrigation Company—Every one present at the Irrigation meeting last Saturday afternoon will concede that the addresses on the benefits of irrigation for Willamette valley lands were most valuable for Lane county farmers to hear, but it is due to our people and in the interest of the cause of irrigation that a statement should be made on the problem of securing water to irrigate Lane county farms.

There is water available other than that stored in Waldo Lake, and in as great quantity. Furthermore, those who control these sources at the headwaters of the McKenzie river propose that they shall be applied to make the farms of this county of double productivity on terms which covering the cost of the construction of a durable irrigation system. The McKenzie Valley Power and Irrigation Company has from its start proposed to co-operate with the farmers and with the people of Springfield and of Eugene, and not to dictate to them. It will in a few days submit the details of a proposition to the farmers, embodying this principle of co-operation in the largest measure. MCKENZIE VALLEY POWER AND IRRIGATION COMPANY.

MARRIED

Warren J. Hunt and Mrs. Lillian McElroy Luckey were married in Portland Thursday last. The announcement was received last week by Salem friends of the young people, and they have many. Mr. Hunt is well known at Salem where he has resided for many years, and just before going to Portland was engaged with a local orchestra. He is an accomplished musician, as is the bride, and it was while the two were in a Salem orchestra that the romance developed which culminated in the marriage in Portland. She is a musician of more than ordinary talent, being accomplished as a violinist, as well as a pianist. The McElroy family is one of the oldest and the best of this city. They will make their home in Portland where they have both become widely acquainted in musical circles.—Statesman.

MONROE ITEMS.

Monroe, Aug. 4.—Virgil Rexroad while playing Saturday, fell from a cherry tree and broke his arm. It is mending nicely.

Mrs. Mary Cartwright has returned after a short visit at Eugene. The combined harvester is doing nicely.

The Zierolf and Taylor threshing machine started up Monday.

Misses Ida and Florence Zierolf returned Friday from a visit with relatives in Portland.

$1500 FROM HUNTING

AND FISHING LICENSES

About $1500 has been collected so far this year by the county clerk for fishing and hunting licenses, and the demand for hunting licenses has hardly begun. Nearly 700 fishing licenses have been taken out and over 150 combination hunting and fishing. Owing to the fact that a large number of licenses have been issued by the game warden and deputies of Clerk Lee which have not yet been reported to that official, it is difficult to determine the exact amount.

The clerk took in during 1908 the sum of $1705 for hunting licenses alone, and this mark will probably be passed this year. The number of licenses issued in that year was 1442. For residents of the state the fee is $1, but for non-residents it is $10. So far 650 fishing licenses have been issued, 481 hunting licenses and 161 combination licenses. During the past few days the demand has been heavy for hunting permits.

ALIENISTS ASSERT

THAW IS INSANE

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Three alienists united in the supreme court today to make it unpleasant for Harry K. Thaw, who demands release from the Mattewan asylum as a mentally normal man.

All three testified that he is insane, and when Thaw took the stand briefly, after some disconcerting testimony, he was plainly rattled and nervous, but Mr. Jerome dismissed him after a few comparatively unimportant questions.

Of the alienists who testified Dr. Flint, Dr. William Hirsch and Dr. Amos T. Baker, the last named gave testimony of the most importance. He is acting superintendent at Mattewan, and appears as a witness without compensation. Justice Mills called attention to this fact, and took a hand in questioning him. Dr. Baker said that in his opinion Thaw is insane, and is a dangerous person to be at large.
