COTTAGE GROVE WOODMAN DAY NEXT SATURDAY

Saturday is the day set and extensively advertised as Woodman of the World day at Cottage Grove, when a great harvest picnic will be held in the city park during the day and a big initiation and banquet will be pulled off in the Woodmen hall in the evening. Among the distinguished visitors and speakers will be Head Consul I. L. Boak, Head Manager, Congressman W. C. Hawley, Head Manager Hon. John Patton, General Organizer F. B. Fitchner, Special Organizer J. B. Smith, and many others. It is planned to make this the greatest fraternal occasion ever recorded in southwestern Oregon, and a large representation of the Lane and Douglas county camps is expected to be in attendance. A fine program will be carried out at the city park and a splendid basket dinner will be served, meat, bread, beans and coffee being supplied free by the Woodmen. An exhibition between Deputy and Tyler B. in two heats resulted in even honors.

WING AND WING TAKES MATCHED RACE TODAY

Wing and Wing won the last two heats of the matched race between him and Dolly McKinney this afternoon. Considerable money changed hands on heats, as well as on the final race. Dolly McKinney took the first heat easily in 2:45. Wing and Wing was crowded off his feet on the first turn of the second half mile and broke badly. In the second heat Dolly McKinney broke from the start and it took her half a minute to get her feet again. Wing and Wing was two or three lengths ahead at the finish. Time, 2:35. Wing and Wing took the lead from the start in the last heat, and held it all the way through. The mare came up well at the finish, however. Time, 2:30. In a running race for three-eighths of a mile "California" beat "Swiftwater Bill" by twenty yards or more. An exhibition between Deputy and Tyler B. in two heats resulted in even honors.

SIUSLAW ROAD IS SURE TO PAY WHEN BUILT

That the Siuslaw railroad will receive a splendid patronage when built, and that it can be built with a continuance of the "set together spirit" was the conclusion reached at the meeting at the Commercial Club rooms last night of about eighty Eugene citizens. A. F. Campbell explained that the asset company was the holding company in securing rights of way, surveys, terminals and other preliminaries are to be turned over when construction time arrived. He referred to the matter of going ahead with surveys as soon as $50,000 of the required $150,000 is subscribed, an assessment of fifteen per cent to be levied for that purpose. Among other speakers were M. Svarverud, J. H. Hartog, the booster man, L. E. Bean, who once lived among the Siuslaw forests and apple orchards, and O. J. Johnson, the man who is providing the brains behind the movement. The chief reasons that the road is expected to pay so well in freight are the dairying possibilities, the fruit-producing capacity, and the vast amount of timber that is awaiting the saw.

Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly they will come. Sold by all dealers.

DR. LEONARD FINDS GOOD ROUTE FOR THE SIUSLAW RAILROAD

Dr. Leonard and his party of surveyors, engaged by the Lane County Asset Co. to make the preliminary survey for the Eugene-Siuslaw railroad, returned to Eugene today, having been called in by the company for further instructions in regard to the route and other matters. Dr. Leonard to a reporter this afternoon said that he found an excellent route for the railroad by way of Elmira as far as a point a few miles beyond Goldson. He intended to return here from there by way of the Lake creek valley and Franklin, but will make that route later. He expects to be sent out again in a couple of days.

APPLE CROP WORLD OVER WILL BE PLENTIFUL

An apple summary gives the following estimates: New England group—The crop is somewhat spotted, with Maine and Massachusetts having the best prospects, but all states promise a better crop than a year ago, ranging from one-half more to double last year's crop. Central group—Eastern New York will have a full crop and make up for any shortage in western New York; Baldwin were heavy last year and will be lighter this year. Pennsylvania's crop will equal last year's, as will New Jersey's, but Delaware will be short. Ohio's crop will not equal even the poor output of last year. Michigan makes the best showing of any state in the group. Middle West, or Ben Davis group—Last year the crop was exceedingly light, in some sections almost a total failure. None of the states shows a large crop this year, but the group shows quite an excess over a year ago. Arkansas will have 75 per cent of the full crop of two years ago. Missouri and Illinois are light in many sections, but will turn out a considerable quantity in the northern sections. Kansas, Iowa, and Oklahoma show no effects of spring frosts. Nebraska looks better than a year ago. Indiana promises something better than a year ago, but this is partially offset by increased acreage in bearing. California about the same as a year ago. Colorado promises a crop much in excess of last year and sufficiently large to offset the shortage in other states of the group.

The estimates make the Canadian group much better than last year and advises that the crops of Great Britain and continental Europe promise well. While Eastern Oregon suffered the loss of a normal school as well as Ashland, Eastern Oregon was well taken care of by the Legislature in other respects, so eastern Oregon does not feel the sting as severely. Eastern Oregon was given a brandy asylum and a really lenient law, and very valuable to the residents of the section, and there was also an appropriation for the portage road to the falls, for State Senator S. J. Sinnott obtained $75,000 for this purpose. In Southern Oregon, however, nothing but bruises were received. It is from Salem politicians, however, that Southern Oregon has been dealt the blows which have aroused the desire to be divorced from the Willamette Valley. State Senator Smith, of Marion county, a Salem politician, took the lead in withdrawing the Normal schools when he proposed abolishing the four Oregon Normal schools, and establishing one at Portland. Senator Jay Bowerman was in the forefront of battle against the Normals, Bowerman hailing from Eastern Oregon, but Bowerman was given liberal encouragement by Smith of Marion. Southern Oregon Senators, led by L. L. Mault, did their best to protect the Normals at Ashland, but without avail, and the fate of the Normals was keenly felt in the South.—Telegram.

ILLINOIS PICNIC AND PROGRAM

About Three Hundred Present At End of Car Line Yesterday (From Thursday's Daily Guard) The Illinois people met at the end of the carline July 28, and held their first picnic, which was a grand success. About three hundred were present and at 12:30 dinner was announced. Everybody sat down to the long tables, which were loaded down to the guards with good things which the ladies of Illinois are experts at preparing. The lunch surpassed anything we have sat down to in the grove.

CONDON ESTATE GIVES TO STUDENT FUND

The largest single gift ever made to the Student Loan Fund at the University of Oregon has just been received. The heirs of the late Dr. Thomas Condon, who for many years was connected with the University of Oregon as head of its department of geology, are establishing a loan fund of $2000 of which $1000 has already been paid in. The fund will be known as the Condon memorial loan fund. A committee consisting of President of the University and the secretary of the board of regents, will have charge of the loaning of the fund.

Disagreeable at Home.

Lots of men and women who are agreeable with others, get "cranky" at home. If you find in yourself that you feel cross around the house, it is the things worry you, just buy a bottle of Ballard's Herbine and get your liver in shape. You and everybody around you will feel better for having been the Thaw family for having been the Thaw family.

HARTRIDGE, THAW'S LAWYER, TAKES STAND

White Plains, July 29.—Clifford W. Hartridge, former attorney for Harry Thaw, was a witness in the hearing before Justice Mills today. Previous to Hartridge's appearance that Hartridge brought out the fact that Hartridge now has a suit pending against the Thaw family for alleged unpaid attorney's fees. Hartridge testified to having paid out considerable sums of money, but that his instructions did not come from Harry. He instructed Harry gave him a small amount of money for Mrs. Merrill and instructed him to tell the woman to say nothing about "Mr. Reed." Mrs. Merrill was recalled and testified to specific instances when Thaw is alleged to have whipped girls. Thaw followed Mrs. Merrill on the stand. Jerome's first question was "Was Thaw insane when he killed White?" To this Harry replied he did not know. He said he was not medically insane because doctors had told him he wasn't. Thaw and Jerome kept up a continual verbal sparring match. Thaw holding his own. Sherman & Hunter expect to begin brick work on the new Osburn hotel about Monday. They are now waiting for a carload of lime.

MOVEMENT OF PEOPLE FOR NEWSTATE

Disgusted with being handicapped, held back and harassed by Willamette Valley people in general and Salem citizens in particular, seceders from Oregon and the creation of a new state is being advocated in Southern Oregon. Declaring that the southern part of Oregon is being neglected and that the northern part of California is similarly treated, the suggestion is made that Southern Oregon and Northern California pool their interests and carve out a state of their own, and the name offered is the state of Sikikyon.

Attention for the secession has already made its appearance in print in the territory affected, and the campaign will continue unless the people of Southern Oregon are convinced that their interests are better served by clinging to Oregon rather than in establishing a commonwealth. The idea of a new state is meeting with favor in the extreme southern part of the Beaver State, and the people across the line in Northern California are even now discussing the prospect.

Two Sore Spots. Two events of recent occurrence have precipitated the demand for a new state. The first came with the slaughter of the normal schools by the Legislature. The second sore spot was when a lawyer of Salem blocked the appropriation of $100,000 for the Crater Lake road.

While Eastern Oregon suffered the loss of a normal school as well as Ashland, Eastern Oregon was well taken care of by the Legislature in other respects, so eastern Oregon does not feel the sting as severely. Eastern Oregon was given a brandy asylum and a really lenient law, and very valuable to the residents of the section, and there was also an appropriation for the portage road to the falls, for State Senator S. J. Sinnott obtained $75,000 for this purpose. In Southern Oregon, however, nothing but bruises were received. PULLIAM LEFT NO EXPLANATION OF HIS DEED

New York, July 29.—President Pulliam, of the National Baseball Association, who suicided last night, had been in poor health for a long time. Particularly his nervous condition had been such as to cause alarm among his friends. He spent several months in the south this spring, returning to his duties about a month ago, seemingly much improved by his long rest. His health soon gave way again, and it is reported that he recently spent a week in a sanitarium. Pulliam was in his office yesterday and went to his room at the New York Athletic Club last evening. At 9:30 a signal was thrown on the telephone switchboard and the operator answered, but received no answer, and sent a messenger to his room to see what was wanted. Pulliam was lying on the floor in his underclothing, with a bullet wound through his head. He had apparently knocked the phone receiver off the hook when he shot himself. The coroner attempted to remove a statement of the reason for the shooting from the semi-conscious man but the only reply was: "What shot?" No note or other explanation of the suicide was found in his room.

There were about six hundred people on the excursion to Newport Sunday, two train loads. Coming back a second trial had to be made up one of the hills. With Constable John Catlin on board no more disturbances are reported. There are said to be about half as many people at the Bay this year as usual. Preparations had been made for a much larger crowd, and the result is seen in a good many things, particularly extra eating houses, etc.
