FIVE YEARS IN PRISON FOR JAMES M'AVOY

James McAvoy, who was convicted by a jury a few days ago of assault with a dangerous weapon, in the alleged shooting at Brakeman Connelly of the Southern Pacific company in the Eugene depot yards some time ago, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Judge Hamilton of the circuit this morning. The case of Mrs. Mary King, administratrix of the estate of Paul King, who was killed at the Booth-Kelly lumber camp above Wendling several months ago, occupied a greater part of the time of the court today. This morning the defense moved for a non-suit, but the motion was overruled. The testimony in the case was still being taken at a late hour this afternoon and it is thought the case will not go to the jury before tomorrow morning. A. H. Tanner, of Portland, and Smith & Woodcock, of Eugene, are attorneys for the company and F. H. Greenman and H. E. Slattery for the plaintiff.

ENGINEER ARTHUR P. DAVIS SAYS PRESIDENT TAFT AND OTHERS DID NOT TELL TRUTH

Washington, March 12.—Chief Engineer Arthur P. Davis, of the reclamation service, who yesterday flatly denied the truth of many statements made by Ballinger, Taft and others, continued today as witness before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee. Question further as to his interviews with Ballinger, he declared the head of the interior department had continued to constantly criticize the reclamation service, and within the last week had told the witness he thought the salaries paid in the service were too high, and that he proposed a new salary scale. Davis said the rumor was persistent that Director Newell was slated to go.

Senator Sutherland sought to show that much of the dissatisfaction in the West against the service was due to the fact that in some projects the original estimate of the cost of water was increased from $20 to $30 per acre.

Davis admitted that there "might" be some cause for discontent, but contradicted flatly as absolutely untrue a number of statements in the letter sent by Ballinger to the house committee on ways and means in support of the $30,000,000 bond issue for reclamation work.

When Davis' direct examination was concluded and he was being questioned by members of the committee, Davis suddenly remarked:

"I want it understood that I do not wish to insinuate in anything I have said that Secretary Ballinger has intentionally or consciously done a wrong act. I do not believe he has."

FORMER SECRETARY GARFIELD OPPOSES PRESIDENT TAFT IN RECLAMATION SCHEME

Washington, March 10.—The Ballinger-Pinchot investigation was resumed today with James Garfield, former secretary of the interior, on the witness stand.

"I do not believe the $30,000,000 bond issue recommended by President Taft to congress is necessary for the proper forwarding of irrigation work in the West."

This statement by Mr. Garfield greatly enlivened the hearing. He said this in defense of the co-operative agreement he entered into with the water users' associations and of the reclamation certificates he issued in evidence of the work performed, and which have come to be known as "Garfield currency."

Garfield declared it was evident that Attorney General Wickensham and President Taft did not have the proper facts before them when they reached the opinions adverse to the legality of the reclamation certificates. Witness immediately implied that Ballinger might have been responsible in this connection, but did not make an outright statement to that effect. He also took issue with Ballinger as to certain statements made by the latter in his reply to Taft, regarding the various charges made against him. He said he could not recall any conference with Ballinger regarding the Cunningham claims, although Ballinger said he had immediately conferred with Garfield after the receipt of Glavis' protest against the clear listing of the Alaska coal claims. Garfield admitted that in urging general coal legislation by congress early in 1908 he made the statement he was willing to condone the fraudulent entries in Alaska, provided the entries were compiled to pay an increased price for the land to the government.

DIED

At his home on Pearl street, at 10 p. m., March 15, 1910, James R. Yates, the well-known pioneer farmer and livestockman, at the age of 59 years. He had been ill for a long time and had been bedfast for several weeks. His funeral announcements are not yet ready, pending the arrival of a son from Arizona. An obituary sketch will appear later.

W. W. Branstetter, the barber, has bought the little building next to Pierce's grocery store at East Ninth and Oak streets where the Hendricks sisters' new brick block is to be erected and will move it on a lot recently purchased by his mother-in-law, Dr. Olive Waller, on Olive street, near the Central school. The work of moving the buildings off the site will begin by J. W. Barringer this week.

EFFORTS MADE TO ARBITRATE STRIKE TROUBLE

Philadelphia, March 15.—President Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association and three local labor leaders went into conference with George H. Farie, director of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, this afternoon, in an effort to settle the strike.

The fact that representatives of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and officials of the Central Labor union and Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railroad Employees were brought together late yesterday afternoon for a "friendly talk" is expected to lead to some definite proposition upon which negotiations can be opened, looking to a speedy settlement of the strike.

S.S.S. FOR RHEUMATISM. Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation; a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sustain our bodies. The disease is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which comes from indigestion, weak kidneys, constipation, and other irregularities of the system. This uric acid produces an inflamed and acrid condition of the blood, and the circulation of this blood into the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the irritating and pain-producing uric acid. We do not claim for S. S. S. that it is anything more than a first class blood purifier, and that is just what is needed to cure Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes to the blood, effectively and surely removes the uric acid and driving it from the system, causing pain and agony throughout the system. It becomes an invigorating, nourishing fluid, furnishing health and vigor to every portion of the body, and permanently relieving the suffering caused by Rheumatism. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and will not injure the most delicate system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.
