

This contractor got results.

He knew how to feed his men. Some years ago a contractor building a railroad in a warm climate was troubled a great deal by sickness among the laborers.

He turned his attention at once to their food and found that they were getting full rations of meat and were drinking water from a stream near by.

He issued orders to cut down the amount of meat and to increase greatly the quantity of Quaker Oats fed to the men.

He also boiled Quaker Oats and mixed the thin oatmeal water with their drinking water.

Almost instantly all signs of stomach disorders passed and his men showed a decided improvement in strength and spirits.

This contractor had experience that taught him the great value of good oatmeal.

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, ETC. Potatoes—50c. Onions—Per cwt., $1.75. Lemons—$5.00. Grapes—$2.50@3.75. Livestock Market. Good cows—2 1-2 at 3 1-2c. Common cows—2 1-4 at 3c. Steers—3 1/4 @ 4 1/4. Veal—Prime dressed, under 125 lbs., 19@20c.

GRAIN AND FEED. Flour—$7.75. Wheat—Per bushel, $1.05. Bran—Per ton, $21. Mixed feed—Per ton, $23. Shorts—Per ton, $23. Baled Hay—$17. Oats—Per bushel, 50c. Rolled Barley—$33.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT. Portland, Or., April 21.—A market will be found for all the wheat left in the Northwest, according to T. B. Wilcox, president of the Portland Flouring Mills Company, who says the supply available is not so large as some people declare.

W. H. & H. Le May, London.—There is a little more inquiry for 1909 English hops and some business has been done. Worcester.—There has been very little doing on the Worcester market since the holidays, but a few inquiries are now coming to hand.

This was mostly done in anticipation of reaching the highest prices of the year before, when bluestem went to $1.25 and other wheats to $1.10 and $1.15; but at no time has the European market justified the extreme prices paid here.

"As usual, when there is a reaction from extreme high prices, the tendency is to go to extremely low prices. Whether the market has got to the bottom is difficult to say, but prices are now down practically to where the market opened last September. European buyers anticipate lower prices but their prices today are fully as high as during September and October.

"I do not imagine any great amount of wheat is held by the farmers in the Northwest, nor do I find as much in the country as has been claimed by some experts. Estimates of 10,000,000 bushels I consider excessive, the probable amount of wheat in the country being nearer half of that."

Foreign Hop Market Conditions. English market conditions are reported by the Kentish Observer of April 7, as follows:

"Trade in hops during and since the holidays has been very quiet, but any transactions that take place are at full quotations. There is now a rather better demand for useful copper hops, but consumers seem unwilling to pay the prices, which are comparatively high in consequence of the small supply. Continental hops are very scarce and full hold the highest quotations. American markets are unaltered."

The latest trade reports of the English hop factory say in part: Wild, Neame & Co., London—Our market generally is quiet, though buyers are showing rather more disposition to trade, and further purchases for consumption have been effected during the past week.

Manger & Henley, London.—The trade has been slow during the past week in consequence of the holidays. Prices remain steady.

Dallas Mohair Pool. The Dallas mohair pool sale Saturday, instead of clearing the situation, as was expected, appears to have left the market in a more uncertain position than before.

The mohair this year is worth materially more than a year ago is conceded in all quarters, but just what the stuff is worth the event of Saturday at Dallas seems not to have determined. There is a good deal of caustic comment afloat about that transaction, and it is reported by some local traders that the reported sale at Dallas was not a sale at all—nothing but a hocus-pocus sort of manipulation on the part of the management of the pool.

It is currently reported that the highest bid submitted at the sale in question was 30 1/2 cents, William Brown, of Salem, being the bidder. This offer, after a conference of the management of the Polk County Growers' Association, is said to have been rejected, whereupon one of the officials of the pool, as reported to have bid in the pool himself, at 32 1/2 cents, and to have turned it over to Mr. Brown.

As a result of the deal local dealers today declared that the mohair market was as much "in the air" as ever, and some of them had little or nothing to say as to what the stuff was actually worth. One dealer expressed the belief that 30 to 30 1/2 cents represented the market for the time, while another quoted 30 to 32 cents, the last figure only on picked and strictly fancy lots.

Local Berry Crop Looks Heavy. Advice from various centers indicate that the production of strawberries, and in fact all berries, in the Pacific northwest this season, will be the greatest in the history of the industry. The plants never looked in better shape than they are today.

Local dried onions were scarce along Front street today and this has caused the price to steady considerably. Additional supplies are expected from the Sherwood district tomorrow.

Eggs are Cleaned Up. Egg market along Front street was quite well cleaned up this morning, although later in the day huge shipments came forward from the country. Sales were made late last night as low as 24 1/2c a dozen but the average quotation received on the street was 25c. Practically the same condition exists today.

Dressed Meats are Weaker. Dressed meat values along Front street are weaker. Veal is now being shaded because of the warmer weather and if heavy arrivals continue there is every likelihood of a break in quotations.

Were is not for the very small offerings of dressed hogs that market today, would show a break along the street. Even with the nominal supply the trade says it is harder to sell arrivals at the top.

Asparagus Market Steadier. Market for asparagus is steadier. With smaller arrivals from the south and local growers furnishing just about enough to take care of the trade, the market is healthier today than it has been since the season started.

New Potatoes are Lower. New potatoes are down to 4 1/4 a pound along the wholesale district today. Receipts from the south are more liberal and better sizes are now shown.

Livestock Market Report. Portland Union stockyard, April 20.—Lower prices were the rule in all lines of livestock today in addition to the lower range for cattle quoted in The Journal exclusively last night.

While no tippy cattle were in evidence today buyers assert that the extreme top prices they are willing to give is $6.50. This is 25c less than was offered yesterday and indicates that immediate requirements of killers have been filled.

Grass cattle were in from California today and an entire trainload will start from Merced during the day. According to advices received from there by local people, the cattle are in good condition and will likely enter the market here in excellent shape, considering the extent of the journey.

Sharp Cut in Swine Values. Hog market prices here show a sharp break for the day and the extreme top today is $10.50. The sharp price losses in the east and middle west during the past few days have had a disquieting effect upon local buyers and it is asserted that hogs can be landed in Portland today at an interior Nebraska points at $10.25 and $10.50. During the past two days the drop east of the Rockies has reached a total of $1 per hundred pounds and as packers here are compelled to secure the bulk of their killings from there it will follow their lead.

Lambs are 50c Lower. Market for lambs is 50c lower today and for spring stock the highest value today is $7.50. There was no change in sheep prices generally during the day because of the scant arrivals. Best wethers are quoted at $6 and ewes at $5. Yearling lambs sell at about the same price as best wethers.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK MARKET. Today's range of livestock—steers, $4.75 to $6.75; common steers, $4.25; cows, best $5.50; fancy, $5.40; stags, $2.50 to $3.00; bulls, $2.50 to $3.50; cattle—best steers, $5.50 to $6.50; good $4.50; best east of the mountains, $10.50; fancy, $10.40 to $11.15; stockers and feeders, $9.

Hogs—best east of the mountains, $10.50; fancy, $10.40 to $11.15; stockers and feeders, $9. Sheep—sheared best wethers, $6; ordinary wethers, $5.50 to $5.75; spring lambs, $1.50. Calves—best, $7; ordinary, $6; common, $4.50.

PORTLAND MARKET QUOTATIONS. Hops, Wool and Hides. Hops—1902, choice, 16@17c; prime, 15c; medium, 14c. Sheepskins—shearing, 19@25c each; short wool, 20@50c; medium wool, 30c; long wool, 70c to $1.25. Wool—1909, Willamette valley, 29@21c; Eastern Oregon, 12 1/2@18c. Hides—dry hides, 15 1/2@17c; green, 7 1/2@9 1/2c; bulls, green salt, 6c; kips, 5 1/2c; calves, green, 15@16c. ALDRICH AND HALE TO RETIRE FROM SENATE

Washington, April 19.—Senator Aldrich today made public a letter he wrote to Governor Pottinger, of Rhode Island, last Sunday, announcing that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Augusta, Maine, April 19.—The positive announcement of the early retirement of Eugene Hale from the United States Senate was made here today. The news came in a confidential telegram from Washington, but gave no particulars.

Senate Is Stunned. Washington, April 19.—The announcement of the prospective retirement of Hale, following so closely on the similar announcement of Aldrich, seemed to have a stunning effect on the senate. Hale is the oldest member in the senate, in point of service.

No Politics in It. Speaker Cannon, speaking of the prospective retirement of Aldrich and Hale, said politics had no bearing, and that they are influenced wholly on considerations of health.
