As to Spraying of Hops. Harrisburg, Or., July 18.—I have carefully noted the particulars of T.

In regard to spraying, I am of the opinion that there is ground for further experiment. Last year my neighbors expended heavy sums of money and labor in spraying, with a resulting loss from mould of 25 to 40 per bors expended heavy sums of money and labor in spraying, with a resulting loss from mould of 25 to 40 per cent, while I did not spray and suffered no loss whatever. However, I keep a full supply of spraying material for use when condition requires, Hop lands vary as to strength of soil and depth to moisture so much that each grower is compelled, in order to succeed, to solve the problem for himself.
