

COUNCIL IS AFTER STREET CAR COMPANY

Getting after the delinquents was the duty of the city council last night and two parties got a good calling down for neglecting to comply with the city ordinances. The Portland Eugene & Eastern railway, as a result of neglecting to comply with the terms of its franchise, is in danger of losing their license unless they make good at once. And the block at sixth and Willamette streets as well as the Underwood house is under the eye of the law and health committee for unsanitary conditions.

With Councilman Garrett in the chair in the absence of the mayor, those present were Ness, Berger, Koppe, Dorr and Henderson. The first matter that was brought up was the P. E. & E. street question. It seems that this company has torn up several streets for its tracks and left them impassable. The point about it, however, that brought down the ire of the city council was the railroad company's apparent disregard and disrespect for that body.

After an introduction, quoting the terms of the company's franchise by which they are obliged to keep the streets about its tracks repaired, it said in brief: "Whereas, the P. E. & E. street car tracks are not in the center of the grade on 13th street and that the tracks on a portion of it impossible in crossing from one side to another."

"Whereas, that on Moss avenue the road was graded and graveled at the expense of the property owners and the railroad was appropriated a portion of the gravel and neglected to restore the street to the same condition as the large portion of said street is impassable."

"Whereas, the same condition exists on other streets. "Whereas, the railroad has torn up a large portion of South Willamette street, West Eleventh street and other streets in the southwest portion of the city, and that said company has refused and neglected to restore the same to street traffic and still refuses to do the same and that such action is a direct violation of its franchise, is a violation of the rights of property owners, and is a violation of the rights of the public who are obliged to use these streets."

GREAT THROG ON FLETCHER'S FIELD AT MONTREAL

Montreal, September 10.—Today's session of the Eucharistic Congress opened this morning with the celebration of pontifical mass in St. Patrick's church. A general meeting will be held this evening in the ancient church of Notre Dame.

The crowning incident of the great congress will come tomorrow afternoon, when a public procession in honor of the blessed sacrament will be held through the streets of Montreal. The sacrament will be carried by Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal legate, who will have as his personal guard many laymen of prominence, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, prime minister of Canada; the Duke of Norfolk, city officials and judges. The procession will be witnessed by thousands of Catholics of Montreal and from distant cities of the United States and Canada.

Today 75,000 people gathered on Fletcher's field for the first open air session. The preacher of the day was Monsignor O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, who said in part: "When, ages ago, this fair portion of the earth rose above the subsiding waters, the eternal God from the glory of his heavens smiled upon the earth and in this place the great ones of the world would gather here around the altar of His love to offer Him, hidden beneath the Eucharistic veil, all the homage of their hearts. Ages before the sons of men built their habitations on the banks of this mighty river the all-seeing eye of God beheld reflected from this majestic stream the gleam of Jehovah's banners and today's long train of triumphal procession bearing alpha hymns and anthems of great Sacrament of His presence. Centuries and centuries before the city of Mary had reared her glorious cathedrals the peons of praise which we raise here under the blue dome of God's great session of nature had sounded their choes aloft to the very throne of God; so that before the inhabitants of this beautiful city had framed the laws by which it is governed, or planned the spacious streets through which we now have passed, God's favor had rested upon this place and His blessings had descended over it."

WILL SET OUT APPLE AND PEACH ORCHARD, 67 ACRES

C. W. Dyer, local agent of the Capital City nursery at Salem, has just sold 5000 apple and peach trees to Hollenbeck & McMurry, Geo. W. Taylor and T. D. Devaney, who will set them out on tracts on Fern Ranch, Hollenbeck & McMurry will set out 67 acres, Mr. Taylor 12 and Mr. Delaney 10.

SENATOR LORIMER RESIGNS FROM CLUB

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Senator Lorimer has resigned as a member of the Hamilton club, owing to the Roosevelt incident.

PREPARING FOR STATE DAIRYMEN'S MEETING

Dairymen of Lane county should keep the fact in mind that the state dairymen's convention will be held in Eugene on December 8th and 9th of this year. At this time several hundred men interested in the dairying industry will be here and some important addresses and papers will be read. Among the features will be a post mortem demonstration and examination of the carcass of a slaughtered cow that had previously been inoculated with the tuberculosis germ, by Dr. W. H. Lytle, of Pendleton, state veterinarian. This should be very interesting to every dairy owner. There will be speakers here of national importance.

FARMERS TAKE NOTICE

The low rates from the east to Oregon starts on September 15. They will buy many farms. I have sold several this summer. I expect to sell several more. If you will list your farm or acreage tract, with me before they come, I will do my best to sell it for you. Come in and see me when you come to town. My office is in the front end of the Hoffman house, corner of 9th and Willamette streets. J. W. ZIMMERMAN

INTEREST FARMERS IN THIS YEAR'S COUNTY FAIR

The Lane county fair board met last night and decided to send committees to various communities in the county to interview farmers and stock raisers in the matter of bringing exhibits to the fair which will be held in Eugene September 21-24.

At the fair last fall some of the sections of the county were not represented with exhibits, at all and the stock exhibits was an entire failure, not enough stock being there to make any kind of a showing at all. Special attention will be given to this feature and if present plans are carried out the exhibit of livestock will this year be the best ever seen here and will compare favorably with even that at the state fair, only on a smaller scale, of course.

Efforts are being made by the board to arrange for a series of milk tests at the fair. It is planned to take the milk from cows of various breeds for two days and weigh it and test it as to its quality and quantity of butter fat. This is done at all large fairs and would be an attracting feature here, but the board is not certain that it can be arranged.

CRESWELL SCHOOL OPENS ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

New Building Will Not Be Completed Until Middle of October

On Monday, September 19, the Creswell school opens for the 1910-11 year. While each year in the past has been a success, it is doubtful if any looked as promising as the one about to open. The new $10,000 school house will not be completed in time for the opening of school, but it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by October 15. Until that time the old building, which now stands on the corner of Oregon avenue and Third street, will be used.

The school will have a strong corps of teachers, and among them will be some who have previously taught in this city. Prof. P. E. Baker will be principal in place of Professor Hooker, who acted in that capacity last year.

Miss Claire Stacy, who taught here last year, will have charge of the seventh and eighth grades.

Prof. G. E. Richards, who has been connected with the local schools for two years, will have charge of the high school work.

Miss Edna Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weber, a recent arrival from Minnesota, will teach the third and fourth grades, and Miss Richardson will have the primary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Moxley returned Friday from their trip to eastern Oregon. They report a pleasant trip but say it was hot and dusty everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hill, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who have been visiting with Mrs. Hill's sisters, Mrs. R. O. Brady and Mrs. E. M. Thompson, started for their home Saturday.

James Lane sold his cottage near the Methodist church last week to D. Y. Butler, who recently arrived here from Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Butler will occupy the house.

C. C. Mittan has sold his place in the north part of town to J. Cochlin. Mr. Mittan and family left the first of the week for Florence near which place they will make their home.

Mr. Arthur Demarest and Miss Lulla Moxley are to be married at Springfield at 10 a. m. today. Both the bride and groom are well known in Creswell and vicinity and have many friends who will wish them well. A more extended notice will appear next week.

Moxley & Hager shipped a car of goats to Portland Sunday. Mr. Hager accompanied the stock. He says that the animals are shipped from Portland to Tacoma and Puget Sound points, where the animals are butchered and sold among the foreigners who consider the meat superior to any other.

H. H. Schmitt made a trip to Salem last week, where he looked over the work being done on the Bohrnstedt orchard land near the capital city. Mr. Schmitt says the company has some excellent holdings there but he does not consider the tracts there superior in any way to those owned by the company here.—Chronicle.

DR. BELL'S ANTI-PAIN

For Internal and External Pains.

Terrible Suffering

Eczema All Over Baby's Body. "When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema, and at sixteen months of age, his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Barab, Maine. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

BOUND OVER ON CHARGE OF SETTING FOREST FIRE

J. H. Gregg, Arrested by Austin Farrington Recently, Taken to Portland. J. H. Gregg, the man who was arrested recently by Austin Farrington of this city, forest ranger in the Cascade reserve on the upper Willamette, was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner W. W. Calkins, and bound over to appear for trial in the federal court. His bond was placed at $2500, but being unable to furnish it, he was remanded to the custody of the deputy United States marshal sent up from Portland and he will be taken to that city on the next train. Gregg says he has folks there and thinks he will be able to furnish the bond when he communicates with them.

While there was no direct evidence that Gregg set any fire in the reserve, the government introduced testimony to the effect that he was present when a fire started. On the strength of that he was bound over.

OKLAHOMA MAN HAS SUCCEEDED J. M. STARK AT HOTEL SMEEDE

J. W. Maxey Takes Charge of Popular Hostelry and will Hereafter Conduct it. J. W. Maxey has taken charge of the Hotel Smeede, having purchased the business and fixtures of the hotel succeeding J. M. Stark as manager. The new landlord is recently from Aere, Oklahoma, and is thoroughly familiar with the hotel business. There will be no change in the present policy of the place and the same employees that have served under Mr. Stark will be retained.

Mr. Stark has conducted the Smeede for the past three years and has built up a fine business. It is on account of his poor health that he has disposed of the business. He and his estimable family will remain in Eugene.

AVIATOR HAMILTON WILL RECOVER

Chicago Stockyard Method. This same method is illustrated in the Chicago Stock Yards. A fine, large, trained bull gallops out to meet the cattle designed for slaughter. He waits before them and becomes their leader. Following him in a grand rush for a narrow passage they crowd one another to the executioner, who knocks them senseless. A special place just large enough for himself is provided for the decoy bull, who, later, goes out to lead on another herd for the slaughter.

We do not mean to say that those who give their money are slaughtered or otherwise injured. We believe that they are blessed—that everyone is blessed who sacrifices anything heartily unto the Lord, or to what they suppose to be his service, whether it is or not. It is the method of getting the money from the people and the deception practised which we deplore. However, the Alliance has plenty of company in this method in larger Christian denominations. It is part of the "business" method of recent years. Some who did not understand this "business" method wondered where all the money apparently contributed to the "Christian Alliance" work was spent. An investigation of its financial accounts was made, which revealed the fact that they were chaotic, and other "business" methods were advised.

WORLD'S TROTTING RECORD IS BROKEN

Charter Oak Park, Hartford, Conn. Sept. 9.—Breaking the world's trotting record in an exhibition mile by a horse driven to wagon and with out shield, was the feature accomplished at Charter Oak park this afternoon by Uhlau, 1:58 1/4, driven by C. K. G. Billings, of New York.

Uhlau was paced by a runner and negotiated the mile in 2:01 3/4. The record established was by Hamburg Bell of 2:04 3/4.

The performance of the gelding today is considered the best of his career. The mark of 1:58 1/4 was made at Cleveland under track conditions decidedly more favorable than those of today, for the surface here was very wet, owing to the heavy rains early in the week. A strong wind swept the course.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT... "WHICH IS THE TRUE GOSPEL?"

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle. "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ" (Romans 1, 16).

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—The International Bible Students Convention in session here with an excellent attendance and deep interest manifested. Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle delivered two addresses today, one being in Jefferson Theatre. We refer one of them from the text forgoing: Three weeks ago today Christendom was startled by a communication which announced that the Christian Alliance had lifted a collection of $40,000 in a few minutes—$300 in cash, the balance in promises. They followed the startling announcement of Pastor Simpson, its President, that the collection lifted would probably be the last at Old Orchard, because the Camp Ground's Directors had rented its auditorium for three days for the use of our Association. He declared that he disagreed with our theology. This, of course, was a veiled threat that the Directors of the camp ground must break their contract with the Bible Students. This they promptly did, and we accepted back the money paid in advance, rather than go to law. It is for this reason, dear friends, that we are having our Convention "outside the camp." We are glad that its friends do not separate us from our great Redeemer and Teacher, the joy of whose blessing I see in your faces.

Secular editors were astonished. They had been congratulating Christian people that the days of the rack the thumb screw and the stake were past and that from every quarter were coming appeals for Christian Union which, it was hoped, might even ultimately include all denominations of Catholics and Protestants. Yet here they had to listen to the contrary—a suggestion that Christian people are at variance were so opposed to Bible Students that even a year would not be sufficient to purify the air of Old Orchard and to permit them to meet here next year to take up another collection. It seemed funny, too, to these editors, that anything could drive a Christian Alliance meeting away from a $60,000 collection!

Explanations Surely in Order. "Since Brother Simpson may not care to tell the whole truth about the matter and since the Christian public is interested and ought to know the facts, I must tell them. The unpleasant duty, however, will not necessitate my saying an unkind word concerning Mr. Simpson and the Christian friends who are in alliance with him.

There are two reasons why Brother Simpson thought it doubtful if he could come next year following our three days of this year. (1) He knew instinctively that his collections would be smaller, hardly worth coming for, if the people should begin to get the eyes of their understanding more widely opened respecting what really constitutes the Gospel of Christ.

(2) The $60,000 "raised" was not cash and a large proportion of it never will be. Some of it is promised over and over again and telegraphed over and over, as was the case with the young woman who in the spectacular manner offered her jewels from time to time and had it mentioned in the papers. Such repetitions of charitable work are considered entirely proper by many in connection with religious work in various denominations, "for the good of the cause." Subscriptions are given publicly without hope of payment, to influence others who are more sincere—some of whom in the excitement give more than they can afford.

Our Protestant Gospel. Our Protestant Gospel, of which we are so proud that we want to thrust it upon Jews and Catholics and heathens everywhere, we should thoroughly understand, enjoy and appreciate before we waste good time and money giving it to others. Here it is: Four centuries ago our forefathers were not Protestants but Catholics and believed in Purgatory, etc., as above. Then Movement set in. Catholics, Jews and infidels will admit with Protestants that a great blessing of enlightenment and civilization has come to the world in the train of the Reformation Movement. But none of us is prepared to admit that the Reformers were perfect, nor their work perfect.

The Reformers criticized the Catholic teachings which they had formerly believed. They examined their Bibles and found nothing there to the effect that Mary was the mother of God, nor that we should pray to saints, nor that we should use pictures or images in our worship, nor that their sacrifice of Christ in the mass was proper, nor that there was a Purgatory anywhere. The Reformers threw out these things as unscriptural. They completely demolished Purgatory in their minds, declaring that it had never been anything more than imagination. Then came another thought, viz: What must we do with the thousands of millions of mankind that we and our fathers for centuries supposed were in Purgatory roasting, stewing, tortured, but hoping for heaven. They had hearts and sympathies and felt that as it had devolved upon them to smash Purgatory, it must also devolve upon them to re-locate all these thousands of millions whom they had on their hands. They felt the weight of the responsibility. Could they demand of God that they should be put into heaven? Surely not! Surely only the saintly few are fit for heaven! They, as well as all, recognized that fact. Then, with blank consternation, they determined that they must crowd the entire mass into a hell of eternal torture and shut the gates upon them forever and write upon the gates, "Who enters here abandons hope."

Brother Calvin to the Rescue. Taking from practically all humanity all future hope the Reformers for the time being, it would be awful to do that for one person, but to thus "do" all humanity seemed terrible. And then to be obliged to label that gospel "Good Tidings" must certainly have been a trying experience for the Reformers.

But Brother John Calvin helped them amazingly and took from them their burden. He told them that they should not worry, because it was all God's fault and not theirs. God had predestinated them to that awful future long before he created man. Now they should merely try to think of themselves as the "elect" and try to forget everybody else. Of course, it seemed horrible to charge all these things against the God of all Justice, Wisdom, Love and Power. But it was the only solution which occurred to them. John Calvin's theories were afterwards embodied in the "Westminster Confession of Faith." And that confession of faith became the foundation of nearly all Protestant creeds. Brother John Wesley afterwards objected, but admitted that only the saintly went to heaven and everybody else went to eternal torment. His protest was that, instead of this being by Divine foreordination and intention, it was, on the contrary, because of Divine unwisdom and incompetency.

"Good Tidings of Great Joy." Surely no sane person can any longer defend any of the above "Gospels" as the true one, of which St. Paul was not ashamed! Surely St. Paul never preached any of those Gospels, nor did any of the Apostles—nor does the Bible support such theories, except by the turning and twisting of language, misinterpretations of some parables. The plain statements of the Scriptures are all directly to the opposite.

The Bible teaches that "the wages of sin is death," not Purgatory nor eternal torment. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." Adam, the perfect, was placed on trial for life eternal or death eternal. He sinned and the sentence against him was, "Cursed is the earth for thy sake; thorns and thistles shall it bring forth unto thee. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread until thou return unto the ground from whence thou wast taken" (Genesis III, 17-19. St. Paul declares the same: "By one man's disobedience sin entered into the world; and thus death passed upon all men, because all are sinners" (Romans v, 12).

Looking about us we find this true. Everybody who is not dead is dying. As the Bible says, we are living under a reign of Sin and Death. Nothing that man can do can either eradicate sin or lift us out of our dead and dying condition. God alone can help us! He proposes to help us and the message respecting that help is, in the Scriptures, called the Gospel. Its announcement by the angels on the night of Jesus' birth is full, complete, satisfactory, viz: "Behold, we bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be unto all people; for unto you is born this day in the City of David a Savior (life-giver) which is Christ the Lord" (Luke II, 10).

Ah, now we have the Truth! The penalty of sin is death. And the "good tidings" is that God has provided for our recovery from sin and death. The Savior gave his life for the cancellation of our sin, for the satisfaction of Justice, that is due time Adam and all his condemned and imperfect race might be released from the condemnation and be lifted out of the sin and death conditions which now prevail. That uplifting is Scripturally called the resurrection of the dead. Hence the preaching of the early Church was, "Jesus and the Resurrection"—the Redeemer and his work.

Still More Good Tidings. The good tidings for the race in general is that the Redeemer in God's due time will become King of kings and Lord of lords—the Messiah of glory, God's glorious Representative. For a thousand years the regenerating work for Adam's race will progress (Matthew xix, 28; Acts III, 19-25). God's Chosen People, Israel, will be the earthly agents of the heavenly and invisible King of glory. By the close of his reign the whole earth will have been transformed into the Paradise of God. "He will make the place of his feet glorious." And mankind will all be perfect again, in God's image. There will be no more sin, no more sickness, no more dying, because all the things of sin and death will have passed away and he who sits upon the Throne will have renewed all things (Revelation xxi, 5). All who, after coming to a full knowledge of the Truth of God's love and gracious provision, still love sin and hate righteousness, will be destroyed in the Second Death, from which there will be no redemption, no resurrection, no recovery; as St. Peter says, "They shall perish like brute beasts."
