Needlework occupied the afternoon, followed by dainty refreshments.

The Misses France and Winifred Kelly gave a very pretty and china shower for Miss Ruby Pratt, a popular bride of the month, on Tuesday afternoon. The Kelly home on south Willamette street was attractively decorated with autumn leaves, red roses and hearts. Hearts afforded the afternoon's entertainment, at which Miss Hazel Humphrey won the prize. Campbell, in honor of Mrs. Brown, the new resident secretary of that association between the hours of 3 and 5. additional guests of the club were Mrs. Dye, Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. Mink.

A very enjoyable meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Calkins, East Eleventh street. Under the leadership and with the untiring efforts of the president, Mrs. T. H. Ellis, the year has been one of work and victory, not only in raising money for the cause, but in creating temperance sentiment and interest in our work and in enlisting an army of young people and children for the war against intemperance. There has been raised and paid out during the year for the work, nearly five hundred dollars besides $175 that was secured by the president's personal effort for the Law Enforcement League. The union gave $50 to the Y. M. C. A. building. There has been added 77 regulars and 10 honorary members and the Young People's branch now has 129 members. They have sent through the Y. M. C. A. 21,000 magazines. Along all lines, caring for sick and giving garments and fruit when needed, in flower mission work, hundreds of bouquets have been given to sick in hospitals and elsewhere, caring for a sick woman a week, and having charge of one funeral. Literature was sent to the mines and camps about 46,619 pages. Work in scientific temperance in our schools and pledge cards sent to Sunday schools and largely signed by members. Have paid $152 for talented lecturers. Conducted a circulating library, and co-operated with workers in forming a parents' and teachers' association. This report is a gleaming of what we have done, as it is impossible in this space to give all that is done by the busy workers, but true to our name of Christian Temperance Union, we stand pledged to do all we can for the cause, looking to the consummation of our hopes for a state free from the blighting curse of rum. Mrs. Ellis' health not permitting her to serve another year, the officers elected for next year are: Mrs. Devereaux, president. Mrs. Palmer, Cor. Sec. Mrs. Day, Treas. Miss Beckley, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hayes returned this morning from San Francisco, where they have been spending their honeymoon. While in the bay city a number of dinner parties and informal affairs were given in their honor.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents at Irving Wednesday night, when Miss Leda Zumwalt, one of Lane county's fairest daughters, was married to Marvin Kelso, by Rev. Mr. Downs, of Junction City. The bride was attended by Miss Beattie Condon of Portland as bridesmaid, and Miss Jewell Ellmaker played Mendelssohn's wedding march in a beautiful manner. The interior of the residence was prettily decorated with ferns and asters and in the parlor the white scheme was carried out while in the dining room pink prevailed. The bride's gifts were numerous, showing the esteem in which she is held. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon at Newport.

Meesham, Getchell and Gordimer were guests of honor. The rooms were decorated with choice roses and asters. The past time was needlework, repartee and music. An appetizing luncheon was served by the hostesses, assisted by the young daughters. A pleasant and profitable afternoon was enjoyed by the favored guests.

Following is an account of the wedding of Dr. O. R. Gullion of this city, to Anna Elizabeth Wright from the Norborne, Missouri, Democrat, of Sept. 9:

"One of the most beautiful and impressive weddings ever held in Norborne, united in marriage at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of Judge M. V. Wright, his youngest daughter, Miss Anna E. to Mr. Omar R. Gullion, of Eugene, Oregon. Rev. D. P. Mason of Independence, with impressive ceremony united the loving hearts. Miss Gloria Carr, of St. Louis, a class mate of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. G. G. Wright, a brother of the bride, acted as best man for the groom. Mrs. W. S. Monroe played Mendelssohn's wedding march, Master T. O. Wright, Jr., preceding the happy couple, strewing flowers in their path.

"Miss Anna is one of Norborne's fairest and dearest girls. She has lived among us, or near us, lovable and loving, all her life and has numbered her friends only by the number of people she has met. She has been educated in the best schools of the land and brings to her husband a dowry of many accomplishments, with the elegance and grace of a truly cultured woman. The community joins the Democrat in congratulating Mr. Gullion upon winning her for a life companion to grace and adorn his home.

The groom is a physician, having a lucrative practice in his home city of Eugene and is a man of excellent character and station in life.

"The happy couple left Thursday for their Western home from whence the Democrat hopes to hear occasionally of their happy life. May they live long and always retain the affection of their courtship."

CHASED DOG SHOOTERS IN HIS AUTOMOBILE

Webby Stevens made good use of his automobile Wednesday night in running down two fellows who made themselves obnoxious by shooting his pet dog. Mr. Stevens had retired for the night but was awakened shortly after by the report of a gun. He soon learned that his family pet had been shot through the shoulder. He hurriedly dressed and jumped into his auto, started after the rig which he overtook about two miles north of town. He stopped the horse, which were driven by two men, and demanded an explanation but they flatly denied knowing about the shooting. He was alone but the thought of the cowardly act gave him courage and single handed he started a search, resulting in the finding of a gun on the person of one of the young bloods. By this time the would-be bad men were willing to explain.—Springfield News.

Albany Democrat: Two of Frank E. Alley's trotting horses fared badly in the races at the state fair at Salem Tuesday. His Stalene, a brown mare, was distanced in a field of nine entries, in the 2:15 trot for a purse of $1,000. Phyllis Wynn, a bay mare, finished third in the only two heats of the 2:25 trot for 3-year-olds, in which four horses contended. Yankee Doodle, the running horse, who led Confederate in the derby at the last racing meet held here, finished second in the 6 1-2 furlongs dash, the winner being Dixie, in the time of 1:19.

Sublimity is practically deserted, nearly everyone having gone hopping, says a correspondent of the Stayton Mail.
