Haven't you noticed how few stores are ready with popular priced suits this season? Well, it was only foresight on our part, together with good fortune, that allowed us to be prepared. Way back in the early part of June we had a hint of labor troubles in New York and contracted for immediate delivery on popular priced garments to sell at the above prices. There are some suits today that would bring fully one-third more; you are welcome to look and you have our assurance you won't be urged to buy.
