

GREAT AEROPLANE CONTEST FOR JAMES GORDON BENNETT CUP ON IN NEW YORK

Grahame White Wins the James Gordon Bennett cup.

Belmont Park, Oct. 29.—Two contestants, Alfred Le Blanc, of the French team, and Walter S. Brookings, of the American team, were injured by the wrecking of their aeroplanes shortly after the start today in the race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, an international event of the aeroplane meet here. Neither was seriously hurt.

Claude Graham White, of the English team, covered the course of 62.1 miles, or twenty times around the Belmont course, in one hour, one minute and 1.4 seconds, flying in a northwest wind that varied from ten to fifteen miles an hour. Other eligible contestants are waiting for milder air conditions before they will start.

Latham, another aspirant for the Bennett cup, got such a fright when the wind almost blew him into the crowd that he quit precipitately in the fifteenth round. The tips of the great wings of his machine came within a few feet of the heads of the people who lined the turn in the far stretch. As his bucking aeroplane started toward them a cry of terror went up and men ran, while the women burrowed down into the bodies of their automobiles to escape impending injury.

conest now lies with Hamilton and Drexel, neither of whom took their machines out of the hangars this morning. Ogilvie, English, flew only two laps and quit, so strong was the wind. Drexel crossed the line five minutes before the time limit—3:30 p. m.—and J. Moissant, American, started one minute before the expiration, but neither remained in the air long.

UNION WORKERS STRIKE TO AID NON UNIONISTS

Occurrence Is Unparalleled in the Annals of Union Labor

New York, Oct. 29.—An unparalleled feature of the express strike, which has tied up thousands of dollars of perishable freight in the Jersey City and New York terminals, is the fact that the fight is for the open shop. Primarily the organization of helpers, who struck for a wage increase of $5 a month, but a second demand, unprecedented in the annals of labor, is that there shall be no discrimination against non-union men.

COUNTERFEIT BANK NOTES PASSED BY CLEVER OPERATOR

Washington, Oct. 29.—Counterfeit notes of the First National Bank of Portland, Or., are being passed freely in New York city. Secret service men are convinced the notes are being circulated by the same gang that is passing the counterfeit notes on the National Bank of First Angeles, California, and the First National Bank of Williamsport, Pa. The Williamsport notes were passed on the Pacific coast and the Western notes are being passed in the East.

MRS. B.F. ROWLAND FATALLY HURT AT SALEM

Wife of Former Eugene Minister Crushed by Elevator in Bank Building

Mrs. B. F. Rowland, wife of Rev. Mr. Rowland, who served as pastor of the Eugene Methodist church several years ago, and who has been superintendent of the Salem district for several years, was badly injured at Salem yesterday. A dispatch to the Oregonian from that city tells of it as follows: Mrs. B. F. Rowland was crushed between an elevator and a floor in the United States National Bank building this afternoon, and little hope is held out for her recovery.

Examination of Mrs. Rowland showed that the left leg below the knee and the ankle were badly lacerated and the bones crushed; her right leg was broken just above the knee; the muscles of her left arm just above the elbow were mashed almost to a pulp and the radial bone of her left arm was broken between the elbow and the wrist.

Fifty Years Ago Today, Oct. 29.

Nathaniel Gordon, William Warren and David Hale indicted before the federal court in New York for piracy. Their offense was "being engaged in the slave trade," which, like true piracy, carried the death penalty.

ST. LOUIS, TOO, HAD A PROHIBITION PARADE TODAY

Good Government League Got Up Pageant in Missouri Metropolis

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—With the submission of the prohibition question to the voters of Missouri now only ten days distant, the "wets" and "drys" are lining up in battle array prepared for a fight to the finish. A great parade under the auspices of the Good Government League was held today as a means of arousing enthusiasm for the "dry" campaign. Men, women, and children marched in the long procession, while other women and youngsters rode in carriages and on floats. Hundreds of banners emblazoned with "dry" sentiment and appeals to down the "rum demon" were carried in the parade.

While the "dry" element is working and praying, the "wets" have not been idle. As one of the greatest brewing centers in the world, St. Louis would suffer severely through the passage of a prohibition law, and the arguments of the "wets" are based principally on economic grounds.

As an argument in favor of continuing the present local option system, the "wets" point out that the tax rate in Missouri is much lower than in any prohibition state, being $1.70 for every $1,000 assessed, as compared with $12.50 in the adjoining "dry" state of Kansas.

The prohibitionists maintain that the loss of these sums would be more than made up in decreased cost of government under prohibition. The "wets" enter the battle with approximately 1,000,000 of the 3,200,000 people of the state living in "dry" territory, made so through the local option law, enacted over a score of years ago. Of the 64,415 square miles comprising the territory of the state, 26,912 square miles are "dry" territory.

CO-EDS EXCLUDE BOLD BAD BOYS FROM JINKS

"Children's Party" Held Last Night in Gym—All Were Dressed as Juveniles

"Keep it dark; at the gym tonight: no boys." This was the word that was whispered about the campus yesterday among the co-eds. Last night when the boys called for their lady friends they found them not at home. The first annual "Children's party" was held last evening by the girls in the gymnasium. There was no masculine eyes there. All the freshmen were dressed to represent babies. Sophomores were dressed to be not over two years of age, and upper classwomen not over 12. Rumors that leaked out afterwards declared that it was a big success. The games played were ring-around-the-rosy, drop the handkerchief, and the like, and the refreshment consisted of milk, stick candy and animal cookies. In the freshman baby show, the following took prizes: Marie Zimmerman, Portland, for the cutest baby; Meta Goldsmith of Eugene, for beauty; Miss Sandstake of Portland, for her smile; Miss Dorris Plummer, of Portland, for her teeth.

The affair was given by the Y. W. C. A. to raise money for the girls' new bungalow, which is soon to be erected, each girl paying 10 cents. However, although they declare that it was not a rally and was not to get even with the boys for not inviting them to their stag football rally a few weeks ago, it is understood that the boys are to consider themselves stung for not receiving invitations.

LOOK OUT FOR NEW GIRLS.

The University Alumnae association met last evening and besides electing officers planned for the year. To make all out of town girls feel at home in the Eugene homes, was the slogan that was adopted and an effort will be made especially to hunt and look out for all the new girls. A reception will be given by the graduate association of the women during the next ten days to all co-eds in order that they may get in touch with all the girls, especially the freshmen.

The following officers were chosen for the year: President, Mrs. L. E. Bean; vice-president, Miss Emily Muhr; Secretary, Miss Pauline Davis; Treasurer, Mrs. L. H. Johnson.

An Agnes, Curry county man, landed a fish that measured 51 inches in length and 26 inches around the waist and weighed 38 pounds. A Klamath Falls store offered prizes to the farmers bringing in the best specimens of vegetables, and many fine specimens were brought in. Willamette valley farmers say the ground never worked better than it is working this fall. It is in perfect condition for plowing and seeding.

MRS. ARMOR TALKS TO GREAT CROWD AT TABERNACLE

She Goes After Home Rule With a Vengeance and Makes Many Telling Points

Two thousand people were held spell bound by Mary Harris Armor, the Georgia whirlwind, at the Tabernacle last night. Mrs. Armor's argument were straight out from the shoulder and seemed unanswerable. She very effectively answered the arguments made by the Home Rule Association and its high-salaried exponents. She left no doubt in the minds of her audience as to how the Bible stands on the great question before the people. Verse after verse of scripture was quoted, showing the vigorous way in which the Bible denounces the liquor traffic from all standpoints.

Mrs. Armor advocated mental suasion for the man who thinks, moral suasion for the man who drinks, legal suasion for the drunkard-maker, and prison suasion for the statute breaker. She said that Mr. Darrow's principal argument for liquor drinking was that it tasted good going down, and she supposed that most of the men in his audience wished they had necks as long as a giraffe. Mr. Darrow, who is getting $50,000 for his tour of this state vigorously flayed the rich and pleaded for the poor man's right to drink all the liquor he wants; but when Mrs. Armor heard him she saw saloon men with diamonds as big as chestnuts cheering for the down-trodden poor man. He maintained that the fact of the prohibitionists is to take from the poor man everything that makes life worth living. Mrs. Armor said she was a prohibitionist because she was a friend of the working man, and of the starving women and children, who are being deprived of their personal liberty.

Mrs. Amor's description of the poor man's club was very realistic. They are good fellows who drink. A man does not drink liquor because he is mean. If he drinks it long enough, it will make him mean. The hearty "hello, Bill, come in and have one on me," is a common sentence on the lips of the saloon keeper. "He knows very well that before Bill gets through treating the crowd he will have forty-eleven dozen on himself. She said: "They talk about a greater Oregon, but who ever saw any man made greater by drinking liquor—except in one direction? The reason we call those who are behind the Home Rule Association nice men is because they wear nice clothes and live in nice houses." Mrs. Armor declared she wouldn't give a red cent for what a man has got; it's what a man is that counts, and added, "I'm free, white, and twenty-one. The size of my pocketbook is not the important thing."

The reater Oregon Home Rule Association has sent out a number of pamphlets and letter to fool the people," she continued. "They are de-

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN SHOPS OF SANTA FE

Nine Hundred Cars, Worth Half a Million Dollars, Are Destroyed

Topeka, Kans., Oct. 29.—Fire here today in the storage yards of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway destroyed 900 freight cars, and the loss is estimated at $800,000. The big shops of the company were saved through the efforts of 3900 men employed in them.

John Purcell, superintendent of the Santa Fe shops, says a revised estimate is that 700 cars were destroyed. Part of these were undergoing repairs, so that the loss may fall as low as $500,000, he says.

DRY GOODS MAN CHARGED WITH FRAUD IN STOCKS

Kansas City, Oct. 29.—An indictment charging fraud against C. E. Mitchell, of the defunct Mitchell Dry Goods Company, which went into bankruptcy on December 28, 1909, has been found by the grand jury. The indictment charges Mitchell, as president and principal stockholder, with having increased the capital stock from $150,000 to $250,000, and offered preferred stock for sale when the firm was in a failing condition. The debts aggregated $500,000 and the assets sold to the highest bidder for $83,150.

DRY PARADE MILE AND QUARTER IN LENGTH

Greatest and Most Unique Pageant Ever Seen in Eugene

EXTENDED LENGTH OF SEVENTEEN BLOCKS

Estimated That Fifteen Hundred People Participated

The longest parade ever held in Eugene, was the temperance display this afternoon, when a line 17 blocks long, (a mile and a quarter), marched over Willamette, Olive and Pearl streets. The line of peopled floats and automobiles was so long that it took half an hour for it to pass a given point, and the head of the parade was at the end of the march as the last wagon fell into line. More than 1500 people took part. It was an impressive affair, doing much for the cause. A noticeable feature of it was the number of men that left their business to take part, in addition to the women and school children. Many of the floats and take-offs were very novel, and a half a hundred signs and banners carried pointed remarks and statistics that made the crowds think. As the unique floats and attractive lines of children passed, or as some organization gave its yell of temperance cry, cheers went up from the spectators.

In the first quarter Portland made a place kick, scoring 3, to Eugene's nothing. In the second and third quarters the same score was made, making a total of 9 for Portland and none for Eugene. Each score was made by Boster. Another place kick and safety was scored in the last quarter, making the final score 14 for Portland and nothing for Eugene.

O. A. C. WINS FROM W. S. C. BY 9 TO 3

Portland, Oct. 29.—O. A. C. defeated W. S. C. here this afternoon by the score of 9 to 3.

It is declared to be a felon to search for liquor and contrary to law. They pretend to be working against State Wide Prohibition because it will kill local option, and yet this search law was copied word for word from the local option law, which we now have had for six years. Her description of the search of one's bedroom at midnight, and the tearing off of plaster to find a bottle of whiskey, was very amusing, and she made it pretty plain that our six years experience with the law ought to take away our fear. Strenuously upholding local option and yet making their chief fight against Prohibition because of that part of the local bill which has been copied into the new law is an inconsistency.

Mrs. Armor said that she was going to use the Oregonian to prove her case against the saloon, and she caused considerable laughter by saying, "You don't think it is a Prohibition paper, do you?" She then (Continued on Page 7.)

WILLIAM O. MARKS DIES AT YONCALLA

Young Man, Well-Known As a Cartoonist, Victim of Consumption

A telephone message from Yoncalla brings the news of the death there this morning of William O. Marks, after a lingering illness. The deceased was born in Douglas county, May 8, 1876, and early exhibited a talent for drawing and cartoon work. Later he took up the work as a seaman and for several years was employed on various prominent eastern papers, and produced some very clever work. Falling health caused him to return to the country at Yoncalla, where he has relatives, several months ago, lung trouble having developed. He gradually grew worse until death came this morning.

Mr. Marks was a member of the B. P. O. E. and Woodmen of the World. The funeral will be held at Willbur, Douglas county, next Monday under the auspices of the latter order.
