

DON'T PAY HIGH PRICES

Asked by other stores when you can buy regular $18.00, $20.00 and $22.50 Suits and Overcoats at this store for

The high standard of quality and workmanship is more in evidence in these garments than in ones you have had to pay from $3.00 to $7.50 per suit more for. And when buying here you don't have to help pay for a lot of magazine advertising boosting some line of clothing made in the East from wool grown by an Eastern farmer. Keep your money at home by patronizing home industry, and if you want good all-wool clothing for less, you must come to this great Mill-to-Man Store, where there is no middleman's profit to pay.

Our Woolen Goods Sale is still going on, and in the past three weeks hundreds have taken advantage of this great annual event to save. There is no need of extended argument in favor of buying here, but if you want the best in Wool Socks, Wool Underwear, Wool Shirts, Wool Sweater Coats, Woolen Blankets--and in fact everything in Woolen Goods, you can save quite a lot by trading here.

We have just received a lot more damaged Blankets, which we are going to sell at just half price, but in order to get the best of these you must come early, for they won't last long.

After the new switchboard equipment in the telephone office is in use next month, if you think that you hear an automobile siren sounded in your home or office, go hang up the receiver. It often happens that the receiver is left off the hook accidentally and when this is done the operator cannot ring the bell to notify the party or call them or anyone else on the line. Often times a line will be out of order just because somebody's receiver is down. An ingenious device has been installed at the telephone office with the new equipment. It is nothing more than ringing a party through the receiver, but the sound is so loud and penetrating that if anyone is about, the receiver will be quickly placed on the hook. This device can only be used by the chief operator.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS WILL HOLD BIG ROLL CALL

Helmet Lodge, No. 33, Knights of Pythias, of this city, is making extensive preparations to hold its first roll call of members and to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the lodge on the evening of November 10th.

D. E. Yoran, G. W. Griffin and L. T. Harris comprise the committee which has the matter in charge and they are now sending to each member of the lodge, whether he lives in Eugene or a thousand miles away, asking them to be on hand on that occasion. The letter to the members, which is unique, is as follows:

Dear Sir and Brother:—
7:30 p. m. That's the hour.
Thursday, November 10. That's the date.
Castle Hall, Helmet Lodge, No. 33, K. P. That's the place.
ALL members of Helmet Lodge and visiting Knights. That's the crowd.

Can you preach? Learn a sermon. Can you talk? Get a spellbinder. Can you orate? Study a book. Can you sing? Practice a new one. Can you make music? Play a ditty. Say something! Do something!
All these elements are going to be joined together for an annual Roll Call and grand celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the institution of Helmet Lodge.

EVERY MEMBER IS EARNESTLY REQUESTED TO BE PRESENT IN PERSON, but if you are unable to be present, you are ordered to send a letter to the committee which will be read when your name is called. Now brothers, let us make this, our first annual roll call, one of pleasure and knowledge long to be remembered by everyone present. It can be done if you will only do your part. We trust you will, for you will miss it if you miss it. Be sure and come, but if you can't come, write.

D. E. YORAN,
G. W. GRIFFIN,
L. T. HARRIS,
That's the Committee.

C. E. Groesbeck, a high official of the Byllesby company, with his office in Portland, was in Eugene today on a trip of inspection. The report that he brings back will figure largely in the appropriation of the office in Eugene will receive.

The P. E. & E. Railway company today began suits against two more of the College Hill bonus subscribers. They are Jos. Aubel, who subscribed $400 and still owes $207, according to the company's complaint, and Samuel Rugh, who subscribed $750 and from whom the company claims there is yet due $350.

Alex Maxwell, the Lane county youth, under indictment in Multnomah county on the charge of manslaughter, is at liberty under $2,000 bail.

PROMINENT CALIFORNIA MAN SUICIDE COMPACT CAUSED DEATH OF TWO MEN ON POLITICAL INDEPENDENCE

S. C. Graham, a prominent member of the Republican party and a man who was active as a member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in the recent primary campaign, has been elected to the presidency of the Good Government Organization, a non-partisan body that has done and is doing splendid work in the selecting and endorsement of fit candidates for public office. Mr. Graham has expounded his convictions on the subject of electing the right kind of men to office rather than voting a straight ticket that contains unfit candidates, as follows:

"While the Good Government organization is absolutely non-partisan, most of its members are party men in the sense that they have party affiliations. They believe, however, they are serving their party, as well as their country best, when they oppose the election to office of candidates of their party who in their judgment are unfit. They believe it as much the duty of every man to his party to assist in the defeat of unfit candidates as it is to assist in the election of fit ones.

"The only reason men should have for associating themselves together as political parties is to improve conditions and advance the public welfare. It is not the complacent men within a party, willing to accept any policy and support any candidate labeled with the party name, who have kept the old parties alive and vigorous, but it has been the men of independent thought and action who have protested against having the party of which they were members made responsible for vicious policies of government or for the actions of ignorant or dishonest public officials.

"If the attitude of these men is disloyal to their party, as some say it is, the more of such disloyalty we have, the better for both the party and the country. That man is an undesirable citizen whose loyalty to party is so strong that he forgets loyalty to country, and is willing to support all kinds of vicious men and measures because a few men in control of the organizations have declared it to be the policy of the party to do so.

"The independent voters are as they always have been, the hope of the country. Thank fortune, there are more of them now than ever before. If it were not for the uncontrolled vote a few men in control of a party organization once established in power could never be displaced.

"It is disloyalty to party to oppose a continuance of the almost arbitrary power in shaping and controlling legislation of a man like Cannon, or of any other kind of a man, for that matter."

"In a representative form of government, such as ours, the people should never permit or tolerate the possession or exercise of such power by anyone.

"I have always been a republican, because, taken as a whole, I have believed the principles and policies of that party to be the best, and I claim that I am no less a republican because I have sometimes opposed the election of candidates of that party, or because I have not at all times agreed with all of the expressed policies of that party—policies in a great many cases which have been changed from time to time and which have been in a great many instances adopted for expediency's sake, and not as a matter of principle.

"In this city I believe a great mapority of the people are satisfied that conditions are very much better than they were in the past. The change has only been made possible by the spirit of independence largely created and fostered by non-partisan movement and organizations. The gratifying results in the last primary election was due to the same cause, but while the good work has been well begun, it is not by any means completed.

"The city government has been improved, but the county government is in very much the same condition as it has always been in, and this organization must continue active and energetic until the will of the people is effective in the court house, as well as in the city hall. In fact, I do not believe the time will ever arrive when a non-partisan organization will not be needed.

"When I resigned from the republican county central committee to become chairman of the Good Government organization, I did not do so because I regarded it as inconsistent to occupy both positions, but for the reason it would be impossible for me to properly attend to the duties in both places.

"I do not believe it is necessary for even a member of a party central committee to vote the ticket from top to bottom, and in fact, very few of the members of any committee do so. There are, of course, exceptions, but the chances are the man who tells you he has done so is not quite honest about it.

"The old-time politician who makes his appeal to party regularity and loyalty and who retained himself in control by that method in the past, will find it hard to understand the new conditions that have arisen. People are insisting on doing their own thinking and are becoming for that reason more independent. The time has gone by forever when any man or any party can secure and retain power through an appeal to the prejudices of the people. Let us return thanks for this and move forward to still better and higher achievements in the future."

Well-Known Residents of Imperial County Die by Own Hands

El Centro, Oct. 29.—Two suicides in the Imperial county court house within the last 12 hours of men well-known in this community, led to the belief that a suicide compact had been carried out. George Sexsmith and Jake Meadows both died today of bullet wounds at their own hands. Sexsmith was a civil engineer and shot himself in the sheriff's office, and while alone all indications point to a suicide. Jake Meadows was deputy sheriff and an intimate friend of Sexsmith, and on learning of the latter's death remarked he was glad that Sexsmith had got off, and he was going the same route.

Last night he fired a bullet into his heart and died in two hours.

SPRINGFIELD WORKING AGAINST NESMITH

Springfield, Oct. 29.—Springfield county campaign, and literature has been sent all over the state through the efforts of the Springfield merchants. Although saying little in the county, the mill city is devoting its work to the rest of the state. A circular informing the voters has been distributed about the cities any where one who has friends in any other part of the state is sending as many of these as he can furnish addresses. Some are doing even better than this and are sending several of the circulars to friends whom they know, with the request that they place them in the hands of the others. Several thousand circulars have been sent out in this way and they are covering territory where the vote is important.

Springfield itself will cast a solid vote in opposition to the division plan as well as all the other parts of this county.

DIED

At the county home at Thurston October 21, 1910, James K. Crabb of old age. Interment took place in the Mt. Vernon cemetery Sunday at 2 p. m.

At his home in Eugene, on the afternoon of October 28, 1910, E. W. Miller, aged 81 years, after a stroke of paralysis.

He was born in Ohio and has been married 56 years. He is survived by his wife and three children; Albert L. Miller, of Birmingham, Alabama; Mrs. George E. Young, of Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, and George E. Miller, of this city, with whom he made his home. There are five children dead.

The funeral services will be conducted at Gordon's chapel on Monday at 1:30, by Rev. Wilkinson, and interment will be made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

W. T. Adams left today for points in Washington.

A Great Musician

may master one instrument—piano, violin, flute or cornet—and much of the music composed for that instrument. But is the universal musician. Because it masters not only one instrument but all instruments. And it masters these instruments, not simply individually but collectively—it masters the entire band, the whole orchestra, the singing voice of the Grand Opera stars and the speaking voice of the monologist.

The Edison Phonograph brings to your home all of the best music of every character. It plays both Standard and Amberol Records—and Amberol Records play twice as long as Edison Standard Records, which means that on Amberol Records you get the many beautiful selections that are too long to be played on ordinary records.

Can you afford to buy an instrument that offers you less than the Edison?

The Amberols $200
There are Edison dealers everywhere. Go to the nearest and hear the Edison Phonograph play both Edison Standard and Edison Amberol Records. Get complete catalogs from your dealer or from us.
