JOHNSON'S BREAKDOWN CAUSING NO SURPRISE

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Reports that Jack Johnson had broken down at Lowell, Mass., caused no surprise among the friends of the colored champion in Chicago. They have been expecting just such a collapse for a long time, they say.

The next time Johnson fights there will be a new heavyweight champion also, is the prediction of those who know him. Jack has not been taking the best of care of himself, and coupled with the strain of his theatrical work, this has affected his general health.

Johnson is scheduled to arrive in Chicago Saturday, and preparations for a big reception are being made by the negro colony.

HETLING DECISION IS AFFIRMED

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The decision of Judge Thomas P. Craham of the Pacific Coast League, in the Cus Hetling case was affirmed by the National Board today, and the Spokane and Portland clubs each were fined $100 for tampering a player.

President Graham ruled that the Portland club had no right to play Hetling after having sent him to the Spokane club of the Northwestern League. The ruling was made on a protest by Manager Wolfson, of Oakland, at three games which Portland won against that team and in which Hetling played.

WASHINGTON HIGH BEATS JEFFERSON

Portland, Nov. 19.—Coach Earl's fast Washington High school football machine "waded" through the Jefferson team yesterday afternoon at Recreation Park. Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets, the final score being 24 to 0. All the scores were made in the second half. During the first two quarters of the game several substitutes were played, but Coach Earl detailed his best men into the game and they walked away with the light Jeffersonians.

COLUMBIA DEFEATS SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

Portland, Nov. 19.—Columbia defeated Salem High school here this afternoon on a sloppy field, 8 to 0, outplaying and outweighting the locals. Owing to the condition of the field, the entire game was uninteresting and lacked features, but it was apparent that Salem was outclassed.

FAIRMOUNT

Mr. Richards is building a windmill tower and tank for his place on East Eleventh street. The stronger company has graded East Thirtieth street on both sides of the car tracks, between Moss and Agate avenues, which is a great improvement.

Lucian Hardesty has been very ill this week at the home of his brother, G. L. Hardesty, on Moss avenue. He ate some canned oysters in a Cereval restaurant at the big football game a week ago, and is suffering from ptomaine poisoning, but is now slowly improving.

James Carson, who recently returned from a three years' residence in Constantinople and is familiar with Turkish affairs and ways, will be one of the speakers at the thank offering service at the Congregational church tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

MISS GARRETT'S PAPER READ AT CONDON SCHOOL

The Condon school division of the Patron-Teachers Association held its regular session Tuesday, November 15.

The program was carried through to the letter as published. The discussion "Imagination as a Practical Faculty," by Miss Lida Garrett, was highly appreciated, so much so that it is here reprinted, regretting that the printed words must lack the personality of Miss Garrett, which added greatly to the interest of her discussion.

The subject was discussed enthusiastically by those present, until the close of the time allotted to this part of the program. Mrs. Dugald Campbell and Mrs. Larson presenting their views in an especially interesting manner. The part taken by the school children in the program was much enjoyed, the second grade pupils of Miss Evans presenting a dramatization of a story that showed much of the influence of imagination in the work of the lower grades, and a piano duet by Flora and Ion Campbell was appreciated and admired.

Someone was heard to remark at the close of the program that every patron should be present at these meetings. Please do not wait for special invitations. Everyone is cordially invited to be present with us, and to listen to the programs at each of which the children of the school will take some part, and to take part in the discussion and exchange of ideas between teachers and parents. Announcements of meetings are made in the papers several days before each session.

Miss Garrett's excellent paper was as follows:

"In thinking over these topics the first question that arises to our mind is: What is the faculty called imagination, and just what bearing and significance does it have in connection with the human life? Using the fitting words of Caroline Ghelidon, we find that the imagination is often understood as meaning the act of calling up in the minds objects, incidents, chains of events, totally different from anything the imaginer has ever heard of or seen. "But upon closer observation and questioning, we find that instead of being the fantastic painter of unrealities, imagination is the power to recognize certain things, persons or happenings, in such a way as to produce new forms, thus taking incidents almost forgotten, marshalling them to the front and for the time being, looking at them through the light of a new day.

"Indeed, I cannot refrain from quoting Mrs. Sheldon again, when she says, in her charming way that the imagination is a kind of embroidery in which the shreds and patches of everyday life are wrought into patterns whose colors no dyer can outvie, whose golden threads shine with the glory of the gold of Ophir.

"But now, we must turn to its bearing on actual life, because in this practical day of the world, anything must have a definite use and purpose.

"We sometimes told that the imagination is a dangerous faculty; that it leads to dreaminess, idleness, and oftentimes to the neglect of the everyday duties. But what faculty may not become dangerous if it developed and trained along unworthy lines? For instance, one's speech may be harmful or uplifting; those with whom he associates; one's actions may be gentle or rough; the results clearly show whether or not the training has been accomplished by the right methods.

"But seriously speaking, what can be accomplished without aid from the imagination? Does not the architect have to see the completed image of the house with his mind's eye, before he can make manifest his plans on paper. Does not the poet have to see the lofty mountains and the river ever rolling on before he can describe them so vividly to us? William Wordsworth must have seen and heard the "Waters of the Mighty Deep" just as clearly as if he had been sitting on the beach, drinking in the marvelous sights and sounds around him. Herbert Spencer tells us that celebrated painters have possessed the power of calling up objects so distinctly before the mind's eye, as to read the process of depicting them little more than copying from nature.

"Then turning again to the average human life, we feel that the reason childhood days are considered by most people to be the happiest period of life, is no less than because of the vivid imagination the average child enjoys. The baby boy takes as much pleasure with his broomstick as he would with a real horse, and the child will ask you to tell the same story over and over again. Why—because he sees the characters and events in a new way every time.

"Since we have discussed the practical and pleasurable benefits of this imaginative faculty, let us see whether or not some ethical or moral benefits can be derived. What in most cases causes friction and quarrels? Simply because each person or party is unable to see anything but his own side of the question. When we shall have learned not only to see ourselves as others see us, but also to see things in general as others see them, then, and not till then, will we realize the significance of the old French proverb: "To understand all is to pardon all."

E. M. Harvey, who has been employed at the Red Cross Drug store for some time past, has bought the store from O. J. Hull and J. M. Wells and has taken charge of the business. Mr. Hull has also disposed of his interest in the Willamette Valley Land company, having been associated with Mr. Wells and G. G. Gross. He will hereafter devote his attention to the phonograph business and will be located next door to the drug store.

The annual thank offering service of the Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational church will be held Sunday evening, November 20, at the church. James Carson, who has lately returned from three years residence in Constantinople, will be one of the speakers. Miss Ruth Edging, Miss Wilkins, Mrs. E. C. Galey and others will assist in the services. A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends of the church.

W. H. Bedolfe, one of the engineers on the new line of the Southern Pacific company, at Natron, while riding his horse near tunnel No. 2, his knee struck against a post with such force as to cause the injury. Word was sent to Eugene and the injured man started for the city, being met by Dr. Paine and Con Dillon in an automobile at Pleasant Hill. Mr. Bedolfe was brought to the Eugene hospital.

The high school division of the Patron-Teacher association will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This meeting is for women only and the afternoon will be devoted to women's practical work in the schools. The girls' gymnasium class will be visited during the first part of the meeting, and then adjournment will be taken to the assembly room, where Miss Muhr will talk on physical culture. All ladies are invited to be present.

The Commercial club will hold a social session on Tuesday night for all members and their wives. At that time many new members taken in recently will be made welcome.

Ed Small and T. Baker were fined $2 each in the police court today for riding their wheels on the sidewalks last night. Another man was caught but he has not yet appeared in court.

SPRINGFIELD TO BE EUGENE Y. M. C. A. DISTRIBUTING STATION AND WORK IT IS DOING

Electric Company Will Erect a Big Building on Main Street

A deal that has been pending was yesterday closed, through the Rhoads & Sutton real estate firm, whereby The Northern Idaho & Montana Power Co., purchased from W. M. Sutton, the east 35 feet of lot 8 block, 9, in Kelly's addition to Springfield, the consideration being $190 per foot or $2590, says the News. This property is situated on Main street at the corner directly east of the Sutton block and is a choice building site.

The property was purchased by the Northern corporation for the Northern Idaho and Montana Power Co., and the object of the last named firm in securing it is for the purpose of making Springfield a general substation and distribution point of power for the entire Willamette Valley. The company will at once commence the erection of a two-story brick building on the lot and it is to be ready for occupancy in February or March. It will be 90 feet in length and may possibly cover the entire lot. The front portion will be utilized for offices and the rear rooms will contain the transformers and be used as storage rooms. The right has been secured from the Southern Pacific company for crossing their property with the transmission line from the power house, and it will extend down Sixth street to F. Some idea can be formed of the magnitude of this enterprise when it is said that the main line alone to be installed, will cost $150,000, and will be strictly modern. The building, we are told on authority, will be a first-class structure, the exterior being of artistic design, and both the inside and out will be brilliantly lighted.

MAY HAVE THROWN UP R. R. CONTRACT

Springfield, Nov. 18.—It is understood from fairly reliable authority that the contract on the remaining distance of the Natron extension between here and Klamath Falls, which was recently let to the Erickson & Peterson company, has been thrown up by them. It was understood that the Southern Pacific company, under the circumstances, will endeavor to construct this piece of road by themselves. There will be no big contract, but the whole will be sublet. By this they think that they can save money. It is not known why the Erickson & Peterson company have given this up.

MEASLES HAVE BROKEN OUT AGAIN

Springfield, Nov. 18.—The measles have again broken out in Springfield and this time are confined older people. There are several cases that are quite severe and the epidemic is worrying the doctors. The sickness has been prevalent for several weeks and all the work at the public school has been daily interfered with. It was thought a week ago that the epidemic was past, but new cases have broken out, and this time among the adults where it is much more serious.

Springfield Brevities

Springfield, Nov. 18.—City Recorder John Mullen made a short trip up the McKenzie river yesterday on business. He reports that things up there are looking in splendid shape, especially the farming conditions. He declares that he saw wild

The Y. M. C. A. aggressively stands for the following proposition: That no man, however well developed physically, or however well trained or developed for mastering his trade or profession and for discharging his social obligations, can reach his highest proficiency or stand on the pinnacle of well-rounded manhood until he has put prejudice aside, faced the claims of the world's greatest teacher, and the only man who ever lived a perfect life—Jesus Christ—and has squared his own life in its purposes and intentions to that standard.

The religion of the Young Men's Christian Association is non-sectarian and of the wholesome, virile type. It is not something promoted by a special department exclusive of all other departments, but it is rather a spirit, an atmosphere, which permeates the Association's activity, insuring life. It is the dynamic force which makes the work of the Young Men's Christian Association go.

The Association was born and has developed its present strength with Christianity as its dominant factor, and to this fact must be attributed its phenomenal growth. We believe that the Biblical standard of manhood is the highest standard, and that the highest type of man is the Christian man, and as an organization having as its chief object the making of men, we cannot consistently be satisfied with ideals short of the best.

In working this out, two lines are followed: (1) Conduct of meetings where men may gather and face the problems and obligations of manhood. (2) Bible study.

The Association is managed by a board of directors and a board of trustees. The board of directors at present consist of the following men: Samuel Roome, president; E. E. DeCou, vice-president; Ray Goodrich, treasurer; J. O. Holt, recording secretary; H. B. Leonard; Guy C. Stockton; C. W. Southworth; C. A. McLain; F. R. Wetherbee; C. P. Devereaux; G. D. Linn; F. L. Chambers; A. W. McLaughlin; F. S. Dunn.

The following men are the trustees of the Association: R. A. Booth, chairman; F. L. Chambers, secretary; P. E. Snodgrass; G. D. Linn; F. R. Wetherbee, treasurer; P. L. Campbell; T. G. Hendricks; C. S. Frank; S. Roome.

The following are the chairmen of the various committees: G. D. Linn, finance committee; A. W. McLaughlin, religious work; G. C. Stockton, educational; H. B. Leonard, physical; C. W. Southworth, social; F. R. Wetherbee, membership; C. P. Devereaux, auditing; E. E. DeCou, visiting; Mrs. P. L. Chambers, women's; F. S. Dunn, University of Oregon committee; Ray Goodrich, Bible University committee; C. A. McLain, High school committee.

The employed officers are: Arthur C. Terrill, general secretary; Cassius H. Wood, physical director; and the strawberry blossoming along the roadside.

The street work has been partially stopped on account of the rain. The streets on the north side of town become too muddy to be worked when wet and the street work must be confined to the less level work on the south side of town. A wagon got stuck while hauling gravel from the street work on F street yesterday. The quarry force will be maintained for the present.

Charles L. Weaver, boys' work director.

Sunday Activities Men's meeting every Sunday afternoon at 3:00. Boys' meeting Sundays at 2:30.

Strong addresses and stirring music have been characteristic of the meetings in the past. A like policy will be pursued this season, with fellowship lunches as a popular feature for men. Bible classes will be made a strong feature.

The building is open on Sunday from 1:00 to 6:00 p. m.

Physical Department The aim of this department is to place before every man and boy in Eugene and vicinity an opportunity for physical development, athletic training, sports and games, in wholesome environment. For this purpose you have at your disposal a well-equipped gymnasium, with exceptionally high ceiling, gallery for running, and unusually good facilities for ventilating and lighting, fine swimming pool provision for handball, hot and cold shower baths, summer camps, medical and physical examination, class and individual instruction by an expert instructor, who is employed by the Association to give his entire time to the work. The boys' work director is also a trained physical director.

Boys' Department The purpose of the Boys' Department is to strengthen and equip the boy physically, morally and intellectually so that he can win out in the battles that he has to fight daily. The Association does not now, and never will, take the place of the home, the church or the school. It is rather intended to aid these agencies in their effort to make manly boys. The work is carried on by a system of committees and self-governing clubs. The latent abilities of the boys are brought to light and given opportunities for development.

The Association has made ample provision for the boys, because the management feels that this is a very vital part of the work. A special reading and game room, locker room, combined with the wash room, a fine fine shower room and the use of the swimming pool have all been provided. Various other things are planned for the boys' department. Announcement will be made from time to time.

The management of the Association is always glad to answer questions, if you want to know about any part of the work, ask questions. Visit the building and see for yourself. Visitors are always welcome.

Educational Department The Educational Department will provide efficient instruction for a small fee in any subjects for which there is a sufficient demand. Ample provision has been made for night classes in the way of class rooms, mechanical and manual training courses are being planned.

If you want to see a class started in any subject, ask for it. The Association can accommodate forty young men in the thirty-two comfortably furnished rooms, twenty of which rent for eight dollars per month each. The other twelve are somewhat higher in proportion to size and location.

Our rooms are intended for young men of clean life, who desire such environment as the Association can give. A comfortable home and an opportunity to get acquainted is assured.

Employment Bureau As the avowed object of the Association is to be of practical helpfulness to men, probably no feature of its many-sided work is more keenly appreciated by the public, especially the stranger, than its employment bureau. The unique position which the Association holds in the community gives it an opportunity to negotiate an introduction between the applicant and the situation in a particularly happy and effective way. Our employment department is growing. Applicants and employers will receive respectful attention and material aid whenever possible.

Strangers Always Welcome and are extended the courtesies of the free check room, the employee and information bureaus, toilet a lavatory, room and boarding house directory, city directory, telephone correspondence room with stationery furnished, and the use of a hon like and commodious reading room which has all the standard magazines and newspapers on file.

Membership Any self-respecting young man boy of good character may become member by filling out an application blank and purchasing a membership ticket at the office.

Marjory Muhr, the Portland actress who had both legs cut off being run over by a train, appeared in the Armstrong Musical Comedy theatre last night before a crowd house. Miss Muhr appeared in chair and sang two songs which were well received. There was a pathos note in her voice which brought tears to the eyes of many in the audience. She has a good voice. I company put on a creditable performance.

The second meeting of the Eut plan society will be held at the First Presbyterian church on Monday evening, November 23. At this dir Watts, the artist; Shelley, the poet and MacDowell, the composer, will be studied. The program committee consists of Mrs. L. R. Alderman, M.
