

G TUNNEL ON NEW LINE NEARLY COMPLETED

Cheshire Says Only 70 Feet Remain to be Built—Other Tunnels Finished

Dr. W. L. Cheshire, camp surgeon of the Utah Construction company, is the chief of the camp. He says that there are very few laborers at work in any of the camps. The Williams river now for reason that little can be done in construction work on account of the weather during the winter. All the numerous slides have occurred frequently, greatly hindering work, and early in the winter contractors began laying off the numbers of laborers. The company says there are only about 350 at work on the job at present. At work on the job at present in the spring, or as soon as the weather settles so that work can be done, large numbers of men will be employed again.

The tunnel about 70 feet of the big tunnel at the further end of the contract remain to be completed and work will be finished early in the spring, says Dr. Cheshire. This tunnel is designated as No. 3, which is designed as No. 3, is 2100 feet long, and will be longest on the whole route between Natron and Klamath Falls. Nos. 1 and 2, this side of big tunnel, have already been completed. No. 2, which is 600 feet long, in December, and No. 1, 400 long, in January.

Idabel, Okla., Feb. 14.—Detective Brown, of Los Angeles, today identified as one of the men wanted in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times, David Caplan, a prisoner in a local jail. The capture is said to carry a reward of $15,000.

ST CARLOAD OF SAND LEFT RED WING, MINNESOTA, TODAY

Other Carloads Shipped on 4th and 9th Inst., Respectively

The last carload of sand for Eugene's new firm, that now has its arrival, left Red Wing, Minn., today. The first load of tons left on the 4th and another the 9th. Mr. Bagby, the local entrepreneur, expects the first load during this week. The sand is in sacks and it is some little to unload and place in the fill. He expects the other cars to come as fast as he can handle them.

Mr. Sissensvane, of the filter company, is doing all possible to hurry delayed sand shipment. The following is a portion of his letter just received by Mr. Bagby: "Also received a wire from Mr. Bagby, and you can state to him, we advised you yesterday, that 40 left Red Wing, Minn., from the Wing Filter Sand company, on 4th, and another car will leave on 14, which will include the whole amount of sand. You might advise him that the C. M. & S. P. and the O. R. & N. are advised as the car numbers and will trace it in the time it leaves Red Wing, Minn., but they can have the local at Eugene wire Mr. Levy, chief of freight department, Wells Fargo bldg., Portland, who will give all the information required. I made arrangements that those were to be traced from the time their shipment and the S. P. R. promised to facilitate matters so we would be no delay."

OTTAGE GROVE MAY HAVE FREE DELIVERY

The postal receipts at Cottage Grove for the first half of the fiscal year, which ends June 30, reached 100, an increase of several hundred dollars over the same period of last year. If the business continues increasing proportionately during the remaining six months Cottage Grove may secure a free delivery upon application. There has been a gradual increase in postal receipts here during the past several years, but at no time has the cent been as large as during the last six months.—Sentinel.

PERTS ROB SAFE IN SEATTLE STORE

SPRINGFIELD

EDDY COWES CROWD ON MAIN STREET

Springfield, Feb. 14.—Some real excitement stirred Main street yesterday when Chief of Police Holmstrom endeavored to arrest a drunk and disorderly named Eddy. Holmstrom had the man and was taking him down the small alley by the city hall to the calaboose in the rear. The two stumbled as they reached the rear of the building and the drunk arose with his hand on his hip pocket and dared the officer to arrest him. Holmstrom had no gun and did not desire to mix with the man's supposed gun. He did, however, secure the drunk's derby hat, which the man demanded from the officer. His demands were loud and accompanied by oaths, and a large crowd assembled at the noise. A humorous situation arose at the efforts of the officer to have the man step up and take his hat, and his requests for the crowd to hold him. The crowd, however, cowed at the possibility of gun play, sought advantageous places of refuge. The man told the officer that he was not as drunk as he might have been and backed off through the alley, making his escape.

The officer secured a revolver and followed the man as he went down Main street toward the house of his brother on Mill street. The man made a run for the house and Holmstrom shot after him. As the officer went into the house after him the man went out the rear door and hiding in a nearby barn or escaping along the river he eluded capture.

DEATH OF DANIEL HAYNES, AGED 88

Springfield, Feb. 14.—The funeral of Daniel W. Haynes, father of S. W. B. Haynes, of Eugene, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Harbit, Saturday evening, was held from the Walker undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon. Interment took place at the Odd Fellows' cemetery in Eugene. The deceased was 88 years of age and death was due to pneumonia.

The funeral of B. Matteson, who died at Fall Creek, was held Thursday in the Walker undertaking parlors, with interment at Laurel Grove cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Roberts, who died in Springfield, of old age, was held Friday, February 10th, at the Walker undertaking parlors.

BIG REGISTRATION AT UNIVERSITY

The largest mid-year freshman class to enter the University of Oregon was enrolled yesterday morning with 25 registrations of new students up to noon. Never before has the total number of mid-year entrances been as large as this. This number represents only the figures for the half day and new students will continue to arrive all during the week. It is thought that the total number will reach more than 50. In addition to the 25 enrolled yesterday Registrar Tiffany has knowledge of large number of others who have filled their credits and expect to enter the University. The majority of the new students are freshmen, who have graduated from the high schools at mid-year. There are a number of transfers from other colleges, and several have returned to college who dropped out in previous years.

Ten students have been dropped from college for failure to pass in the required number of subjects. In the required number of subjects. In order to remain in college each student is obliged to pass in nine of the 15 average number of recitation hours a week. Failure to do so keeps him out of college for one semester. A repetition of this acts as a permanent disbarment from the University of Oregon. The number dropped this year is smaller than on previous years, and this in spite of the fact that there has been much sickness.

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Eugene Phelps' Experiences

Occasionally attacked by backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass for a time, but return with greater intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swelling below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Eugene prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy. Mrs. Alma Hunt, 565 W. Sixth St., Eugene, Or., says: "I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills, having used them with the best of results. For two years kidney trouble clung to me and I was frequently annoyed by pains in the small of the back. I tired easily, was languid and nervous and often had dizzy spells. I have used only one Box of Doan's Kidney Pills so far but have improved so greatly that I intend to continue taking this remedy." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. ANTICORPORATION BILLS KILLED IN SENATE

Upper House Postpones All the Bills Aimed at Railroads, Etc.

Guard Special Service.
Salem, Or., Feb. 14.—Anti-corporation legislation was wiped off when half a dozen measures aimed at corporations were indefinitely postponed. Those affected were railroads, telephones and other utility companies.

The senate passed a bill raising the salary of the state engineer, with an emergency clause attached. The house adopted the deficiency appropriation bill amounting to $152,000.

Governor West warned the authors of salary-grab bills that unless they comply with the referendum provision he will veto them. This caused a scurrying to amend bills already passed and in the hands of the governor.

The house ways and means committee of the whole was all afternoon discussing the compensation act.

SIX MEN DROWN IN OSKOSH WRECK

Gasoline Steamer Turns Turtle Off Mouth of the Columbia

Astoria, Or., Feb. 13.—The gasoline schooner Oskosh, which was en route from Tillamook for Umpqua river, turned turtle about noon today, three miles off shore and two miles south of the Columbia river jetty. She carried a crew of seven men and all were lost excepting George May, the engineer.

Those drowned were: Captain Thomas Latham, Master; W. R. Dean, Gus Ramrager, Al Davis, Charles Larson and Gus Chiberg. May, who was almost exhausted as a result of his terrible experience, is at the home of friends in Hammond.

May's fight for life was the most thrilling ever recorded here. For hours he struggled to free himself from his prison, the engine-room, and it was not till the boat was washed ashore two miles below the government jetty that it was rammed and May was able to escape.

JEWELRY STORE IN PORTLAND IS LOOTED BY ROBBERS

Portland, Feb. 14.—James Gilbert, clerk in a jewelry store in the heart of the business section, was beaten on the head and the store robbed while the proprietor was at luncheon today. The robbers escaped with jewelry and stones of considerable value. Gilbert is not seriously injured. Regaining consciousness, he dragged himself to the door and attracted the attention of passersby and again became unconscious. Later he gave a meagre description of the robbers.

Construction work on the new gas plant has been rushed and much has been accomplished during the last week. The frame for the fuel and supply house is up and the roof over it. The huge boilers, as well as the other heavy machinery, which includes the coke generators, the scrubbers and the other cleaning machinery are in place. The brick walls are up to a height of six feet or more and the whole building will soon be completed. The brick used is not the ordinary kind but a red pressed brick that would look well on a Willamette street front. All the iron work for the great gas holder is on the place and awaiting the arrival of the men with hammers to rivet the huge affair together.

The Eugene barbers declare that this epidemic of lappie and pneumonia is playing havoc with their business. Everybody is so afraid of catching cold with their hair cut, that the barber trade is left with no means of support save the 15-cent shave price. In one way it pleases the customers as there is not such a long wait for a shave, but the strong fingered wielders of the long shears and comb declare that their work is a reduction in the number of establishments if spring does not soon arrive and overthrow the rule of this February freak storm king. They also point with scorn at the long shaggy hair on the heads of the passers-by, who are neatly dressed below the scalp.

The enumerators for the Polk Directory company will begin work in Eugene within a week or ten days to make the yearly census taken by that company for its annual directory. FEW VALENTINES OF COMIC DESIGN

New York, Feb. 14.—Although Uncle Sam's mail carriers are staggering today under loads of valentines, there are among them few of the vulgar "comic" variety that were so prevalent a few years ago. Alleged "humorous" postcards have taken the place of the "comics," but they are necessarily of a less objectionable nature than the cheap colored valentines of former years. Dealers report that the demand for sentimental missives, especially of a new and novel variety, has been larger than ever this year.

GEO. A. DORRIS AT AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

One of the most interesting and practical talks of the short course session was given yesterday by Geo. A. Dorris of Springfield, on the opportunities for Vegetable Growing in Oregon. Mr. Dorris devoted particular stress to the cultivation of asparagus, giving his own practical experience on his 25-acre patch, upon which he is raising asparagus that ripens freely pronounced to be superior to the famed California product. He is now arranging to pack his entire next year's crop in cans for export sale and his advice to the students was to grow more and better gardens as than their daddies did.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON ICY STREETS
