THE LIMIT

When I am groaning with the gripe—an ill that sorely tries me—my neighbors, in good fellowship, come over to advise me. One says I ought to take some pills to stop my coughs and sneezes; another thinks a dose of squills would cure all such diseases. One tells me that I should go to bed and drink some warm molasses. Another says: "Go soak your head—that will dispel the gases." And every man who's sick endures this brand of mortal anguish; beneath a thousand kinds of cures he has to weep and languish. But patience still abides with him until he meets the doctor, who cries, with loud and brutal vim: "You only think you suffer! Get up, get up and cease your groans, abandon this confusion! You have no aching head or bones—it's all a cheap delusion! Why have the doctor make a trip, and bring his train of nurses? There are no things like colds or gripe, or sneezes, coughs or cures. Don't sit around and weep and sigh, and say things wild and woolly; swear you are well, though it's a lie, and you'll be feeling bully!" Such language jars me to the quick, when I am weak and ailing; what fun is there in being sick, if one must quit his walling?

OPPOSITION TICKET AND ITS SUPPORTERS

The morning paper asserts that its candidates for mayor and councilmen are in favor of municipal ownership. If that is true, then they have chosen a poor advocate for their cause.

The morning paper has opposed municipal ownership at every step. It has abused and vilified the men who were leading the fight for it, and everybody who knows anything at all knows that is why it is seeking now to defeat the officials who were instrumental in acquiring the water and filtration system and electric power plant owned by the people of Eugene.

If the morning paper is really supporting men for office who are sincerely in favor of operating these public utilities in the interest of the people, then it should begin the reformation honestly by humbly apologizing to the officials it has slandered and maligned without cause because they were faithful to their pledge of municipal ownership and have carried it through to a successful termination. If it now recognizes and endorses, as it pretends to do, the results of a policy it has opposed at every step of its progress, it can only make due reparation and convince the public of its sincerity by supporting these officials.

or the men who as candidates represent their views, at the coming city election.

But who expects the morningpaper, in the light of its course for the past five years, to be honest and sincere, or true to the interests of the people? It is the organ of the interests and is opposing the common welfare of the community now just as strenuously as it ever did, but takes a new tack in order to fool the people if possible.

Messrs. Berger, for mayor, and Ludford, Warnock, Striker and Pickard, for councilmen, stand on a clean-cut platform for municipal ownership of public utilities. The people know where they stand and they don't know about the opposition ticket, except that it is "agin the government" and is supported by the newspaper organ of private corporate "interests." It is presumed that the candidates, chosen by a select committee of the opponents of municipal ownership, are in accord with the views of those who nominated them and with the newspaper which is the special champion of their election. If they are in favor of governing Eugene in the interest of the people, their associations are, to say the least, not of a character to inspire public confidence.

DREAM COMING TRUE

Thinking people all over the world realize the wickedness and absurdity of war.

If, as it now seems possible, the United States and Great Britain can reach an agreement by which hostilities between them will forever be barred, one of the greatest advances along the road of civilization will be recorded.

If these two great nations can bind themselves to arbitrate their differences, an example will be set to the rest of the nations that they in time will follow.

War is economically wrong, entailing as it does the sacrifice of the best blood of the nations, a frightful waste of money and an awful destruction of property.

There never has appeared to be any good reasons why nations should not be forced to settle their misunderstandings in court, just as their subjects are obliged to adjust their differences.

It seems possible that those now living will see the day when wars will be no more.

This would be the fulfillment of what heretofore have been considered only the dreams of poets and other lovers of humanity.

The city of Eugene owns properties easily worth a million dollars at the present, and which with proper management will increase rapidly in value. That is why the people should vote on April 3rd to keep those who are friendly to the municipal ownership policy in charge of city affairs until these public enterprises are on a firm and substantial basis.

The Guard has the distinction of operating the first rotary press, printing from stereotype plates, of any newspaper in Oregon outside of Portland. Every real newspaper has to install such a press sometime, and it speaks volumes for Eugene that in this respect also it sets the pace for Oregon cities.

Yesterday the press dispatches stopped the advance of the American army into Mexico; today we may expect to have the war correspondents order an immediate advance.

This fine March weather pleases the thousands of incoming home-seekers; and everybody else, for that matter.

Medford is sending out a ton of new advertising literature. When it comes to boosting, they sure go some down there.

Colonel Roosevelt will speak on the University campus in Eugene on April 5th.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

TICKET, APRIL 3, 1911

- Mayor—Frank J. Berger. Councilmen: First ward—Fred Ludford. Second ward—W. J. Warnock. Third ward—A. J. Pickard. Fourth ward—A. N. Striker. City recorder—R. S. Bryson. City treasurer—Frank Reiser.

HORSE RACING GAME IS GONE FOR GOOD

New York, March 21.—Horse-racing is dead in New York state for this year at least. The jockey club issued a statement tonight saying that because of adverse legislation it had been decided to make no application for dates.

This news came out almost simultaneously with reports from New Orleans that horse owners believe the sport beyond redemption there. The jockey club announcement, signed by A. Daingerfield, secretary, says: "At a meeting of the representatives of the Coney Island Jockey club, the Brooklyn Jockey club, the Westchester Racing association, the Saratoga association, the Queens County Jockey club, the Empire City Racing association and the Metropolitan Jockey club, held today, it was decided to make no application to the State Racing commission for racing dates.

"As the so-called directors' liability law remains on the statute books, the same reason exists, as in September, 1910, for keeping the course closed, and it was further decided to make this public announcement."

Racing Gone; Park to be Sold New Orleans, March 21.—When the directors of the New Orleans Jockey club meet next Thursday it is reported they will consider a plan to dispose of the City Park racing plant. It is said the owners do not believe racing can be revived in this state.
