

WORK ON PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS HAS BEGUN

Two Hundred High School Boys Worked This Afternoon on County Tract

Work on Eugene's public playgrounds was begun today by 200 or more high school boys under the direction of Principal Hug. Classes were dismissed this afternoon and the students, armed with hoes, rakes, shovels and picks, made their way through the city and across the river to the tract of land known as the county park. Here they were put to work and by evening there will be a great transformation in the tract, which has been neglected during the past few years. This evening the workers will be given a lunch on the grounds.

Several years ago an effort was made to create a park out of this land and the trees were trimmed, stumps taken out and rubbish cleared away, but the work was not kept up and before this afternoon it was in almost as bad shape as it was before any work was done on it.

While the tract is covered with water on an average of every other winter, during freshets, it is thought that the improvements planned will be of such a permanent nature that the floods will not seriously damage the grounds. They will, of course, be used only in summer.

This movement was started a short time ago by the newly organized municipal league. It is in line with similar movements in other cities to provide a place for children to play while there is yet plenty of ground available and not wait until the city has grown to such a size that it will be practically impossible to secure such grounds.

JOAQUIN MILLER SUFFERS RELAPSE

His Daughter Leaves for New York and Poet Gets Worse

Oakland, Cal., March 21.—Following the departure of his daughter, Juanita, to New York, to arrange her affairs, so she can devote her entire time to her father's care, Joaquin Miller is reported today to be suffering from a relapse and considerable anxiety is felt over his condition.

Miss Miller went east yesterday and since leaving his side, he has been constantly calling for her. She is expected back soon and it is expected that the poet will be more cheerful then.

Miss Miller has definitely decided that she will not leave her father's home, known as "The Heights," on the mountain side back of Oakland, but will have him taken to a home where he will prepare for him in a more closely settled district in Oakland. The physicians said today that it was probable that Miller would never again see the home where he has lived for almost half a century.

It was a hard blow for Miss Miller to give up her study of art in New York, but she has decided that her father shall never be found sick and alone again.

CONFUSION RIFE OVER GAME LAWS

Sportsmen Are Entirely Up in the Air About Open Seasons

Owing to the passage of many game and fish laws in the last legislature, and the veto of more than half the number by the governor, there is a general misunderstanding on the part of sportsmen as to the time of open and closed seasons and much confusion has resulted. Dealers report that few purchases are being made for the reason that the majority of their patrons do not believe that the trout season will open until May 1st.

The attempt to extend the date of the closed season for trout fishing until May 1st was ineffectual. The season now, as in the past, will open on April 1st. Salmon trout may be caught at any time, and the governor filed, with his approval, the bill which allows Dolly Varden trout to be caught in any month. The law in relation to Dolly Vardens, however, will not go into effect until the latter part of May.

The salmon season for hook and line fishing is now open and will continue so until April 15th, when it will close for two weeks.

GOVERNOR THANKED BY GRAND JURY

Medford, Or., March 21.—Governor West accepted service at the hands of Sheriff Jones while in Medford Monday and appeared before the Jackson county grand jury in answer to its summons, only to find that they had issued a subpoena to him and their official thanks to him for vetoing the Pierce fish bill which could have reopened Rogue river to commercial fishing.

While here Governor West took steps to rush building of an adequate highway at the Ament dam.

One of the finest houses to be built in Portland this year will be Bishop Scadding, to cost $20,000. It will be on Portland Heights, will be of brick and English, half timber.

WOMAN INVOLVES 'VARSITY PRESIDENT

Fair Moscow Prisoner Says Dr. McLean Married Her 14 Years Ago

Moscow, Idaho, March 20.—The mysterious woman calling herself Mrs. Charles Williston, of London, Canada, who was arrested by Sheriff Brown as insane while she loitered in the administration building of the university, declares she is the ex-wife of James A. McLean, president of the University of Idaho.

That, she says, is the real reason of her appearance here 14 years after her alleged secret marriage to Dr. McLean, at Boulder, Colo., when she was a student and he professor of history in the University of Colorado.

This statement is made by the woman after she testified in court that she never saw Dr. McLean before coming to the University of Idaho Tuesday.

Father on Way Here.—There is not much doubt as to her identity, since the receipt today of a telegram from George Hunt, her father, from Chicago, saying he would leave for Moscow Tuesday. She tried today to send her father a message not to come to Idaho, but was prevented. Her father's telegram is in response to a message sent by Judge Morgareidge urging him to come to Moscow at once.

Mrs. Williston refuses to be interviewed. She has, however, become more communicative with her attorney, Warren Trull. Today she telephoned for the editor of a local weekly paper for which she had been a subscriber for many years under the name of A. M. Hunt, of Argyle, Fla.

Letters Are Recalled.—It is now recalled that she is responsible for the flood of anonymous letters denouncing President McLean, some of which have been referred to the postal authorities. The anonymous letters were directed to prominent residents of Moscow, who are often mentioned in the local papers, from which it is thought their names were obtained. It has also developed that Mrs. Williston had the names of all attorneys in Moscow in her possession on her arrival here last Tuesday.

FORTY OR FIFTY MEN AT WORK ON OREGON ELECTRIC EXTENSION

Getting the Preliminary Detail Ready for Beginning of Construction

Salem, Or., March 22.—Forty or fifty men are employed by the Oregon Electric in doing the preliminary work before actual construction is begun or contracts are let. The work is being pushed with all possible speed.

Four right-of-way men are working overtime. This is slow work, as the property owners have a lot of questions they wish answered. The land must be surveyed and blueprints made.

Four surveying crews are at work continually and several engineers are kept busy tabulating and working up the data collected. District Attorney John H. McNary, legal representative of the Oregon Electric, hardly gets time to sleep.

"I did not realize how much there was in a problem of this kind, but we are rushing it along as fast as we can," said Mr. McNary.

HORSE RACING GAME IS GONE FOR GOOD

New York, March 21.—Horse racing is dead in New York state for this year at least. The jockey club issued a statement tonight saying that because of adverse legislation it had been decided to make no application for dates.

This news came out almost simultaneously with reports from New Orleans that horse owners believe the sport beyond redemption there. The jockey club announcement, signed by A. Daingerfield, secretary, says: "At a meeting of the representatives of the Coney Island jockey club, the Brooklyn jockey club, the Westchester racing association, the Saratoga association, the Queens County jockey club, the Empire City racing association and the Metropolitan jockey club, held today, it was decided to make no application to the State Racing commission for racing dates.

As the so-called directors' liability law remains on the statute books, the same reason exists, as in September, 1910, for keeping the course closed, and it was further decided to make this public announcement."

Racing Gone: Park to be Sold.—New Orleans, March 21.—When the directors of the New Orleans jockey club meet next Thursday it is reported they will consider a plan to dispossess the City Park racing plant. It is said the owners do not believe racing can be revived in this state.

The groom is a member of the firm of Gibson Bros., proprietors of the grocery store and meat market at the corner of 5th and 6th streets, and the bride is a popular young lady of her community.

PORTUGAL HOLDS ELECTION ON APRIL 30

Members of Constituent Assembly to be Chosen on That Date

Libson, March 22.—An official proclamation was issued today calling for a national election of members of a constituent assembly on April 30 next. Since the revolution which overthrew the monarchy and sent King Manuel into exile, Portugal has had only a provisional government. Public confidence in the future of the republic is now apparently greater than ever, owing to the general and rapidly increasing prosperity, which has marked the new regime. Wages of workmen have nearly doubled in the last few months and farmers and tradespeople share in the benefits. Malcontents are permitted to publicly advocate the restoration of the monarchy, but they gain few adherents among the rank and file of the people.

It is practically certain that the administration candidates for the national assembly will be elected by an overwhelming majority except possibly in some of the remote country districts, where the influence of the clergy remains supreme. The platform of the government includes planks favoring compulsory universal education in free state schools, to be modeled after the system in vogue in the United States; universal suffrage for all adults, regardless of color, sex or property qualifications; economy and strict supervision in the expenditure of public funds; complete independence of the judiciary and the absolute and final separation of the church and state.

The provisional government has already accomplished much toward the realization of this program. In all the cities and towns free schools have been established and thousands of Portuguese youths of from fifteen to twenty-one are attending school for the first time. The compulsory education clause will hardly be necessary, as practically every young man in Portugal is fired with a holy zeal to obtain an education, and the illiteracy which obtained under the monarchy is already in a fair way to become a thing of the past. Although the provisional government is composed of men who are pronounced anti-clerical and agnostics, it is generally admitted that the church has been treated fairly and with every consideration. The former king, Emanuel, too, has been dealt with magnanimously and has been awarded all of his personal property. The only serious difference of opinion among the government officials is on the question of universal suffrage, some of the ministers advocating the imposition of the test of literacy.

AGED WOMAN MARRIES YOUNG MAN

Reversal of Usual Order in the Wedding of Gotham Couple

New York, March 22.—A reversal of the usual order in May-and-December matrimonial alliances is likely to be the outcome of the romance involving Mrs. Clifford Barney, aged fifty-seven, the widow of an oil banker and prominent in Washington and New York society, and Christian Dominick Hemmick, a twenty-six year old clubman of Washington. Reports from Paris today state that the elderly widow and her impassioned young wooer will be married the latter part of April, when the month's residence clause of the French marriage laws has been fulfilled. Mrs. Barney, who has won fame as a playwright, artist, and dabbler in the "occult," has two grown daughters, Laura and Natalie, who have been spending the winter in Paris with their mother. The Barneys recently gained considerable notoriety from the report that a piece of statutory exposure to public view in the front yard of their Washington home had been posed for by one of the Barney girls.

Mrs. Barney is an adherent of the Bahai cult, a strange religion imported from the orient, and one of her daughters is high priestess of the sect. Mr. Hemmick is wealthy and it cannot be alleged that he is attracted by mercenary motives in his wooing of the aged lady. He is a son of Ronald Hemmick, former United States consul at Geneva, Switzerland.

Mrs. Barney was Miss Alice Pike, of Cincinnati. Her father was a whiskey distiller and proprietor of Pike's theater. As a girl, Mrs. Barney spent many years in Europe, where she studied art under Whistler. Returning to America, she married Alfred Clifford Barney, an Ohio banker. He died about seven years ago, leaving five million dollars to his widow and $2,500,000 to each of his daughters.

HAD TOOTH PULLED WHILE CAR WAITED

New York, March 22.—Those who brag of the swiftness of the metropolis find it difficult to reconcile their statement with the existence of horse cars, which are still in use on many thoroughfares. It is a standing joke that those who are in a hurry use their legs instead of the horse cars, but even at that the passengers on a Stanton street car were made somewhat peevish when the conductor stopped his conveyance at a corner, left his car, and entered a building nearby, where he remained about ten minutes. When he finally reappeared he was tenderly nursing his jaw with one hand. When a group of passengers complained at the delay, the fare-collector, in surprise, at such indecent haste, explained that he had had a toothache, and had merely stopped to have the offending molar extracted. Apparently satisfied that such an explanation would satisfy any reasonable person, the conductor pulled the bell-rope and the car ambled on its way. By this time, with a run of good luck, the passengers have probably reached their destinations.

TARIFF REVISION MAY PROLONG SESSION

Democratic Leaders Not Likely to Heed President Taft's Advice

Washington, March 21.—Two weeks from today the sixty-second congress will convene in extraordinary session to take up the Canadian reciprocity matter. That the session will not stop at that, however, is certain from the statements given out by the democrats, who will control the lower house. Present indications are that immediately upon the convening of congress, a resolution will be introduced which will have the effect of putting President Taft upon the grill in regard to the sending of troops to the Mexican border. The President will be called upon to make an unserved statement in regard to the matter. Certain senators and representatives opposed to the administration openly insinuate that the "interests" having great financial stakes in Mexico were responsible for the assembling of American soldiers on the threshold of a friendly nation.

Both Speaker Clark and Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, declare that a downward revision of the tariff, cutting the schedules to a tariff for revenue basis, will be undertaken at the special session. The woolen schedule, it is now definitely known, will be the first subjected to the cutting process.

Cotton, steel and textile schedules will follow. If the democrats succeed in getting these schedules approved, with the aid of progressive republicans in the senate, it is probable they will wait until the regular session next winter to tackle other schedules. The Canadian reciprocity agreement will almost certainly be passed by the house as it comes from the president. Some radical democrats want to tack on some other tariff measure, requiring the president the leaders oppose this plan.

PEERLESS ONE STILL SUPREME AS LEADER

Many Democrats Gather at the Banquet Board to Honor W. J. Bryan

Lincoln, Neb., March 20.—Between twelve and thirteen hundred followers of William J. Bryan tonight attended the complimentary banquet tendered him by the Lincoln-Bryan club. In point of attendance is excelled in number any similar function held in Lincoln for many years. The presence of recognized democratic leaders such as Champ Clark, Governor Shafroth of Colorado, Senator Owen of Oklahoma, Senator-elect Kern of Indiana and Senator-elect Hitecock of Nebraska gave it an interest more than statewide.

The promoters of the banquet, which took the form of a dollar dinner, made no attempt to conceal that the function was in part intended as a denial of the statement that Bryan had been repudiated as the leader of his party in his own state, and tonight several speakers emphasized that the guest of honor was still to them the leader of democracy.

The menu was unpretentious, with not a suspicion of anything stronger than coffee. It was remarked that it had consequently been named the "dry democratic dollar dinner." Dr. R. L. Hall, vice-president of the democratic national committee, presided.

ANOTHER SHOOTING AFFAIR ON SILETZ INDIAN RESERVE

Jim Warner, Indian, Shot by Loyal Chandler, White Homesteader

Newport, Or., March 21.—Word was received here this afternoon that another row on the Siletz reservation near Canoe Landing, four or five miles from the agency, has aroused the Indians. Loyal Chandler, a white homesteader, is said to have shot Jim Warner, an Indian, through the head with a 35-calibre Colt's automatic pistol. The bullet struck Warner over the right eye, passed out through the back of his head and lodged in a wall of the room where the shooting took place. After a physician from the agency dressed the wound, Warner walked about. Chandler, it is said, then went to the home of another homesteader named Bradford and threatened the whole family with death, boasting that he had already killed one man and wounded another. Bradford, armed with a shotgun, forced Chandler to go away.

Shooting was heard last night at Chandler's place and it is thought he may have killed some one. He is still at large, armed with a rifle and an automatic pistol.

Sheriff Geer and a posse are searching for him, but the rough and heavily timbered country makes his capture a difficult task.

AMUSEMENTS

To form the splendid dramatic and vocal organization which will present "The Merry Widow," at Eugene theatre, Saturday, April 1st, Henry W. Savage has drafted the best of the numerous artists under his managerial direction. Mabel Wilhelms, who will appear in the titular role of the delightful Viennese opera, is accounted the best of the many prima donnas who have been seen in the part. Charles Meakins, who will appear as Danilo has been with "The Merry Widow" ever since its American premier, and has played nearly 2,000 times in Lehar's masterpiece; R. E. Graham, F. Fear, and F. J. McCarthy, who played the three chief comedy roles in the original New York company are programmed among the cast that will be seen here. Harold Blake, considered by many of America's foremost light opera tenors, who will sing the role of De Jolidon, while Ivy Scott, a newcomer diva from Australia, will play Natalie.

In addition to this cast of rare excellence, the forthcoming production of "The Merry Widow" will be embellished by an ensemble that has won the pseudonym of "America's pennant-winning beauty chorus."

Two orchestras will interpret Lehar's score; the Savage grand opera orchestra under the able direction of Brahms Vandenberg, and the Hungarian Troubadours, who were imported from Buda-Pesth for this company.

SPORTS

HAYWARD SAYS OUTLOOK GOOD FOR TRACK TEAM THIS YEAR

After a gloomy outlook the track situation at the university has rounded into a shape that is very pleasing and Trainer Hayward is enthusiastic. He believes that he has the foundation for one of the strongest teams that he ever turned out. What pleases him the most is that there is a large number of men out daily and that there is material for all departments, insuring a consistent and balanced team. The veteran trainer is counting much upon his freshmen and he believes that there them. He declares that of the is some valuable material among twelve men who will go to California during April vacation, several will be freshmen. The old men will be all obliged to work hard to even hold their places in several instances. The material is yet rough but there is excellent quality.
