PRESIDENTIAL PIETY.

Louisville Courier-Journal: George Washington was a member of the Episcopal church, and a great believer in prayer.

John Adams was a Congregationalist and came from a long line of Puritan ancestors, but was very liberal in his views as to religion. Thomas Jefferson's ideas on religion are difficult to classify. He was an admirer of the great Tom Paine, the agnostic, but believed in future life.

John Quincy Adams was a Congregationalist like his father, and wrote a hymn.

Madison and Monroe were Episcopalians in good standing.

Andrew Jackson was notoriously irreligious in his early manhood and mature life. After his retirement from the presidency he became converted and joined the Presbyterian church.

Martin Van Buren never made any religious confession, but was a man of irreproachable morality.

William Henry Harrison was an Episcopalian of strong convictions, which prevented him from fighting duels.

John Tyler was an Episcopalian. James K. Polk made no profession until on his death bed, when a Methodist minister sprinkled him. Zachary Taylor didn't give the question any thought but meekly paid his wife's contributions to the Episcopal church. Taylor knew but little about theology and cared less.

Millard Fillmore was a very quiet but pious man, and affiliated with the Baptists.

Franklin Pierce was an Episcopal communicant.

James Buchanan was always pious, but didn't join the church until after his retirement from the presidency, when he became a Presbyterian.

Abraham Lincoln, according to Col. Bob Ingersoll, was a disciple of Voltaire, but he expressed Christian conviction, and was inclined to spiritualism.

Andrew Johnson was not a member of any church, but a tacit believer in Christianity. He was inclined toward Methodism.

U. S. Grant was a Methodist.

James A. Garfield was a member of the Church of Christ, Campbellite church. He once tried his hand at preaching.

Chester A. Arthur was an Episcopalian.

Benjamin Harrison is a Presbyterian and attends church quite regularly.

Grover Cleveland gets his supply of Christian fortitude from the Calvinistic fount also.

"A Happy New Year" to all our readers.

The GUARD believes that 1895 will be a prosperous year for Eugene. Confidence is returning and a number are talking of building during the coming summer.

The matter of the confirmation of the Oregon Pacific railroad will be heard by Judge Fullerton, at Corvallis, next Thursday morning. The people of Lane county hope the judge will see his way clear to confirm the sale.

The Florence West: Much has been said about the Oregonian "reading out" of the republican party all those who favor the free coinage of silver. If such is the case it can place on its "out" list three-fourths of the republican voters in Lincoln, Linn, Lane and Douglas counties. Any number of republicans in Oregon have a right to differ from that journal on any question, and as a majority of them do on the silver question, it would be folly to attempt to coerce them to accept that paper's ipse dixit in regard to free coinage of silver.

The promoters of the San Diego Pacific railroad have a novel scheme by which they propose to build the road. They propose to issue stock of a value of $10 a share and payable in monthly installments of 50 cents each. It is further proposed to enlist in the enterprise the services of all the A. R. U. strikers possible. It is estimated by the inducement of employment being held out to men who have the project in charge, that if 100,000 persons can be induced to take stock on this basis it will supply a sufficient amount of capital to build five miles of road every month.

HER ENTRANCE

—Into society, and womanhood as well, is an extremely critical period in every girl's life. At this time she needs advice, and what's more—help of the right sort. If she puts her faith in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription it can bring only good results. It's a medicine that's made especially to build up women's strength and cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial, and bracing nerve; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless. For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womanhood, the "Favorite Prescription" is specific.

TERRIBLE PAIN AND FADING SPELLS.

Mrs. J. W. FERRIS, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir:—When I commenced taking your medicine I was very sickly. I had frequent spells of fainting, terrible pain in my head, and life was a burden to me. I was attended by one of the best physicians in our town, but with no good results. At last a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and after taking one bottle I felt greatly benefited. I would advise all ladies similarly afflicted to try "Favorite Prescription."

A book of 168 pages, entitled "Woman and Her Diseases," sent sealed in plain envelope for 25 cents in stamps to pay postage. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

A FOOL AND A GUN.

Another Man is Shot by a Companion While Hunting Deer.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 29.—Frank King was accidentally shot yesterday by Wm. Lawhorn while the two were out hunting deer. Lawhorn, who had separated from King, saw a deer and opened fire, the second shot hitting King. Lawhorn says he was within fifty yards of King and that the latter was thirty yards out of line of the deer. The bullet, which was from a 44-calibre rifle, struck King on the inside edge of the right shoulder blade and ranged downward and forward through the right lung and remained in the body. King is still alive but is in a critical condition.

A Nine-Ounce Baby.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 31.—A special to the Journal from West Creek says that the smallest child on record was born of Norwegian parents there on Wednesday. The babe is a boy, is as perfectly formed as a babe could be, and at its birth weighed only nine ounces. A ring worn on the little finger of the father was slipped over its foot nearly up to the knee. The probabilities are that it will live.

SHOULD BE CONFIRMED.—Hon. Chas. Knowles, of Portland, speaking to a reporter of the Corvallis Gazette, says: "The sale of the O. P. ought by all means to be confirmed. The purchasers have abundant capital and will push the road to an eastern connection and will probably build a feeder to Eugene in the spring. The construction of this line and the Astoria branch during the present depression will advertise Oregon as nothing else will. The prosperity of the Willamette valley and even of the entire state depends largely on the confirmation of the sale to Messrs. Bonner & Hammond. They are pushers and it would be almost impossible for the road to fall into better hands than theirs."

Miserable EXTREME. HANDS COVERED with SORES. CURED BY USING

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Several years ago, my blood was in bad condition, my system all run down, and my general health very much impaired. My hands were covered with large sores, discharging all the time. I had no strength nor energy and my feet were miserable in the extreme. At last I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed a change for the better. My appetite returned and with it, renewed strength. Encouraged by these results, I kept on taking the Sarsaparilla, till I had used six bottles, and my health was restored."—A. A. TOWNS, prop.
