FOR THE BLOOD

Just now everybody is thinking about taking something for the blood.
A Spring medicine as we speak of it. And it's a good thing to do, but you want to get the proper medicine. If you consult your physician he will tell you to Take a GOOD LIVER MEDICINE

and that, because the liver has everything to do with the blood. If the liver is sluggish the system is clogged, the blood becomes impure, and the whole body suffers. Every medicine recommended for the blood is supposed to work on the liver. Then get at once the "KING OF LIVER MEDICINES."

BLUE BUCKET MINES.

An Old Pioneer Who Still Hopes to Discover These Rich Deposits.

The Dallas T. M. says: In conversation with an old pioneer yesterday who arrived in Oregon in 1845 we learn that his faith has not abated in eventually finding what has been termed by those immigrants who took the Meek Cut-Off the Blue Bucket mines. He recollects well while passing through a dry gulch of picking up the bright yellow chunk of some kind of mineral, and says that a bucketful could easily be procured. When they camped at night they took the nuggets out of their pockets and beat them between stones and proved they were perfectly malleable. But they did not know where they were, winter was approaching and they were anxious to reach the settlements. Weary and footsore, with sickness and death as constant visitors, they had little inclination to think about gold, and their only desire was to reach the Willamette valley and rest after their toilsome journey. There are certain landmarks which our informant discerned in the Harney country a few years ago, and some day he calculates to spend some time in locating the spot where the precious metal covered the ground in as great profusion as pebbles do a rocky beach.

THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS

—Was Fought January 8, 1815.—

January 12, 1848, Abraham Lincoln made his first speech in Congress. Lincoln has been dead for thirty years and still the lineaments of his kindly face are firmly impressed upon the minds of every living American. He was good, he was just and beloved by all, but his clothes fitted him none too well.

7,000 CATTLE.—Prineville Review: Frank Hampton, who has been operating in cattle in the Willamette valley during the winter, arrived in Prineville Thursday morning. He believes there has been near 7,000 young cattle bought and shipped out of that valley during the past winter and spring, average price, $10 per capita. Mr. Hampton thinks that business will not resume and good times appear again until the currency question is settled. This, he says, is the prevalent opinion among all business men.

PURE ALCOHOL.—Wm. Renshaw

tie White.

University of California.

EDITOR GUARD.—So many of your readers are interested in educational matters through the influence of the noble State University located at Eugene, that it has occurred to me to send you a few hastily penned items about the University of California.

It is located at Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco, and adjoining Oakland. It is within easy reach of a population of 400,000 people. It has a noble site, backed by high hills, and fronted by San Francisco Bay. There are several large buildings besides cottages for students, shops, etc. The new mechanical and electrical building is very fine, costing $85,000. The endowment fund amounts to $1,895,- 757.92 according to the report of the secretary for 1893. The value of the grounds, buildings, etc., is $3,209,424-05. And the annual expenses are over $200,000. The president's salary is $8,- 000 and a house. The professors receive from $3,000 to $4,000.

The new register of the University of California shows the total number of students enrolled at the colleges at Berkeley to be 1124, of which 399 are women. This is an excess over the sister University at Palo Alto of 24, they having increased 13 per cent while the State University's increase is 36 per cent. Including those enrolled in the affiliated colleges in San Francisco, the grand total amounts to 1781.

A brief account of the last commencement will be of interest. There were 112 graduates, an increase of 37 per cent over last year. The exercises were held in the gymnasium which is a very shabby place for so great an occasion. It was packed to the doors.
There were no students on the platform, only professors, regents and other dignitaries. President Kellogg wore his gown and cap. The graduating class sat in a body at one side.

There were four speakers. The subjects might be considered dry by an Eugene audience. They were treated as it seemed to me without any special reference to the audience. As addresses I should say they were heavy and ineffective. As essays or review articles they were able and scholarly. The following are the subjects of those who spoke: "The Value of Liberal Science," "Is the Method of Jurisprudence Exclusively Scientific," Poem, "Misan-thropos" and "Faith in the Moral Consciousness." The poem was very good, delivered fairly well, though not perfectly committed. The speaker held the roll of manuscript in his hand. Both of the other young gentlemen placed the manuscript on the desk before them and referred to it frequently. Neither of them showed any oratorical training. One of them paused painfully between sentences.
The other was sometimes indistinct in utterance and varied his delivery only by thrusting his hand into his pocket up to his elbow. It was very evident that in this school no particular attention is paid to public address. On the contrary you would say grace of speech was held in contempt. At least judging by this commencement oratory is not at a premium in U. C.

The medalist of the class was a young lady. She declined the medal with thanks. Her essay was the best given. It seemed to interest particularly the venerable and celebrated Prof. LeConte. It was said to be diametrically opposed to the teachings of this most illustrious of the University's teachers.

The president gave a review of the year's work, which seemed to please everybody, after which degrees were conferred upon the graduates as they came to the platform in groups.

The University is one of the great institutions of the country, and is growing rapidly. Its athletic team is East now to meet the teams of the "Big Four" and it has already gained a victory over Princeton. The U. of C. is up to date. There is no moss anywhere unless it be on the elocution chair. However I think there is no such chair. They have outgrown it.
They have here plenty of money, professors of world-wide reputation, progressive, public spirited regents, an army of students and back of it all a rich, proud and liberal state.

STOLEN GOODS.

They are Found in the Trunk Left at the Hotel Eugene by Esther Tripp and C. E. Jones.

It will be remembered that at the time the postoffice at Pleasant Hill was robbed, about December 1, 1894, that a lot of clothing belonging to W.
L. Bristow, postmaster and storekeeper, was also taken. It will also be remembered that a couple representing to be man and wife and passing under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Jones stopped for some time during February at the Hotel Eugene and that shortly after leaving Jones was arrested at Salem and the woman was arrested at Portland under the name of Esther Tripp, the GUARD giving an account of their arrests at the time and the doings of the couple while here.

It was believed by the officers that Jones was connected with the robbery of the postoffice at Pleasant Hill and Marshal Day of this city and others have been corresponding with Mr.
Bristow ever since his arrest. Yesterday Deputy Prosecuting Attorney J.
M. Williams was at Pleasant Hill on business and while there conferred with Mr. Bristow in regard to the clothing in the trunk now held at the Hotel Eugene as security for the board bill of C. E. Jones and Esther Tripp.
Today Mr. Bristow came to Eugene and examined the goods in the trunk, identifying a number of articles as stolen from his store on the night of December 1. Among the articles were overshirts, men's hose, underclothing and a pair of engineer's overalls. Some of the articles bore Mr. Bristow's private cost marks. This will furnish conclusive evidence that Jones and his gang are the parties who robbed the Pleasant Hill postoffice and also perpetrated a number of other burglaries throughout the Willamette valley about that time.

C. E. Jones was in Eugene during November of last year, registering at the Minnesota hotel on the 8th of that month and remaining there until the 29th. Two men registering as F. M.
Hallett and S. C. C. Webb were also at the Minnesota hotel about that time.
These parties all left town owing more or less on hotel bills. It is now believed by the officers here that Janney and Sullivan, who are now in jail at Portland, are the same men who were here under the names of Hallett and Webb. It is likely this is true, for during the period between Nov.
8 and Nov. 29, 1894—the time that Jones, Hallett and Webb were in Eugene—a number of petty burglaries were committed in this city, and since that time none have been committed. These men doubtless belong to an organized party and are the ones who committed the robberies at this place as well as at other points throughout the valley.

Dr. Clark is Coming.

These are the words which every endeavorer in Eugene is saying to the next one. The largest hall in the city will be crowded to hear "Father En-deavorer Clark" next Wednesday evening, May 22. State President H.
S. Gile will also be with him. Mrs.
Linn will have charge of the music, and the choir of the city, and all others who will keep with the music will please meet at Mrs. Linn's home Tuesday evening. All Endeavorers and all others who wish to do so will please assemble at the depot at the coming of the afternoon local on Wednesday to greet our distinguished guests.

The Value of Coins.

The value of gold coin is in its weight; the value of silver coin is the government stamp on it. The value of Simmon's Liver Regulator is the relief it gives from biliousness and sick headache. A 25-cent package of powder has permanently cured many a one.
