NOT IN IT.

The American new women does not appear "in it," from the following, taken from an English exchange:

A few days ago, at a shooting party in the North of Scotland, a lady appeared clad in the orthodox sporting outfit hitherto monopolized by the sterner sex. Although she expended a considerable number of cartridges, she did not succeed in bringing down a single bird. The gamekeeper, after the return of the party, expressed himself as follows: "She apit the gentlemen a' that she cut. She wore the same claes, she shmoked, drank a nip o' whuskey, ay an' a'nce gied a bit swear laich in, bit as for shutin' she eudna hit a barn-door at ten yairds, an' she never aince said 'thank ye' tae maseel. If ony mair o' her kind come about I'll thro wup ma job."

There are at the present time, says the Boston Herald, three English poets, each of whom has passed his 80th year and is living in retirement and in the enjoyment of a reputation that is in the past. One is Frederick Tennyson, now in his 90th year, who has carried his art into old age, and is even now preparing a volume for publication. The time was when he seemed to be a greater poet than his brother Alfred, but the laureate long ago left him behind in the race. Another is Mr. Aubrey de Vere, whose father, Sir Aubrey de Vere, was a friend of Wordsworth, and whose poetry is in some sense a reminiscence of the "Lake poets." He has written largely on Roman Catholic subjects, but his work has been better adapted for a small circle than for the multitude. The third is Mr. Philip James Bailey, who 60 years ago was famous as the author of "Festus," but who has so died out of recollection that few of the present generation has ever heard of him. Once he was rated far ahead of Browning in public estimation, and his admirers claimed that he would leave Tennyson out of sight.

Heppner Gazette: Hon W. R. Ellis departed for Portland last Saturday to have his leg, which was broken in the runaway over in Gilliam county during the campaign of '93, examined, and if necessary, again operated upon. Notwithstanding the fact that this limb was broken more than three years ago, it has given Mr. Ellis much trouble ever since that time, and for a few weeks past he has at times suffered great pain. If an operation is necessary we trust Mr. Ellis may soon recover from the same, and that he may again have perfect use of the injured limb.

The Pacific Mail steamer City of Sydney has established a new ocean record in making the run from Acapulco to San Francisco in five days 19 hours and 33 seconds. This is more than half a day less than the best previously recorded time. Acapulco is 1836 miles from San Francisco, so that an average speed of 13.16 knots an hour was made.

Jerry Simpson, when twitted for drinking champagne at Topeka the other night, said: "It is part of my purpose to secure some of the luxuries of life to the common people."

Klamath Star, populist: Hermann will go back to congress, as he has done on several occasions, and the kickers, as usual, will return sullenly to their kickswicksys and formulate some other plan to "save the country" from Hermann in 1898.

If Parker Pearsons Valentine will come forward and be hanged or take his chances of it, he can have $300,000. Valentine is wanted in Minnesota for murder, and they want to give him his big estate, bequeathed to him in the will of his mother, Mrs. Lucy A. Valentine. Mrs. Valentine died in Columbia county, Wis., two years ago. She had considerable property of her own; and she inherited about $35,000 from the estate of her half-brother, Hiram A. Pearsons, the capitalist who was drowned in Lake Michigan. A portion of the property is in San Francisco.

THE STUDY

of the action of medicines, or vegetable compounds, upon the stomach, and tests in many hundreds of cases, long ago convinced Doctor R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., that all cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint could be cured permanently if the right treatment were given. In support of his belief that he had discovered an alternative extract which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," that would cure these diseases, he collected from all parts of the country the evidence of those who had used his medicine, and he has asked the public to investigate for themselves, as he would be glad to furnish the names and addresses of thousands of people who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. All interested should send for a little medical treatise on Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, Constipation and Piles, published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and mailed on receipt of six cents in one-cent stamps. This book also contains the photographs and testimony of many persons who have suffered from diseases of the digestive organs.

THOMAS FLETCHER, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes:

"I suffered the terrible tortures for ten years with what your Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Discovery describes as Gastric (pain in stomach). I employed our home-doctor—looked down bottles of arsenic pills with no benefit; then I took one-half dozen bottles of a celery compound with no benefit; then eight bottles of iron tonic, yet I was no better; this was in 1888. I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which made a new man of me. I am now fifty-two years old, and for the past five years I have worked very hard on my farm. It is impossible for me to say too much for the 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"
