PROSPECTS OF THE HOP-PICKING MACHINE.

The hop-picking machine is surely coming, although its progress is necessarily slow. C. C. Green, the New York state inventor, who has spent much time on the picking machine, is still at work and continues to see success in the near future. He has good reason for sanguine expectations, for he has already a machine which will pick hops rapidly and well, but his ideal is high and he is not yet satisfied. Writing to American Agriculturist Mr. Green says:

"I did not send a photo of my hop-picking machine because it was not completely successful in every way and I had none taken. When I was ready to go to the field with the machine, picking had been in progress several days. I made several experimental attachments which proved of no value. I also made a new experimental trial in the separator of leaves, etc., from the hops after they were picked. This was of no account. It was then too late to make a separator after the principle of the one I had used, which would have showed a good sample of picking. I therefore dressed out by hand the hops as they passed on the carrier to the bag. There is no serious difficulty in working a separator such as there has been in working a picker, only the season for picking is so short each year to practice. My present experience will enable me to make a reasonably good one for next season's operations, when I intend to take contracts to pick a few yards, something I could not attempt before. I am now building a hand machine for two to feed in vines, intended to be capable of picking a kiln of 35 to 40 boxes per day, a very economical condition for the many small growers of this state. This machine is calculated to be moved in the yard as boxes are now for hand picking. It is possible I will finish by February."

THE "OLD ROMAN" DEAD.

Allen G. Thurman died suddenly at his home in Columbus, Ohio, Thursday. He was one of our purest and noblest statesmen. He was born at Lynchburg, Va., November 13, 1813, a descendant of Joseph Hewes, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. When six years of age he accompanied his parents to Chillicothe, Ohio, and was educated at the academy in that city. He began life as a surveyor, but studied law in the office of Gov. William Allen, and was admitted to the bar in 1835. In 1844 he was elected a representative in congress, and served one term, declining a re-nomination. In 1851 he was elevated to the supreme bench of Ohio, and for two years was chief justice of that tribunal. He was the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio against Rutherford B. Hayes in 1866, but was defeated. He became United States senator March 4, 1869, and was re-elected in 1874. As senator he formulated what is known as the "Thurman Act," to compel the execution by the Pacific roads of their contracts with the government, and secured its passage. At the national Democratic conventions of 1876, 1880, and 1884 he was a candidate for presidential nomination, and, at the convention of his party in 1888 was made the candidate for vice-president. He made a vigorous campaign, but was defeated, and has since remained at his home in Columbus, Ohio, where he has resided since 1853.

THE TWO FACTIONS.

Portland Chronicle, Rep.: "It is well known in political circles that a strenuous fight will be made for the mastery in the June election between two republican rings as the party is split owing to the desire of many of its followers to be leaders. This has resulted in the two factions being formed, one having as its head Mayor Frank and District Attorney Hume and the other Jos. Simon and Harvey Scott. As possession is nine points in law and the Frank-Hume combination are in office, the probabilities are that they will stand the best chance of being successful in the local campaign. Joseph Simon is well known as a wizard in city politics and wisecracks doubt not but that he will manipulate the wires to his own satisfaction and that of his constituents. The combat will involve every republican politician in Portland as there is not a partisan who is not in sympathy with either one or the other rings. With the entire police and fire departments at his back, together with several score of minor office holders the ousting of Frank would be a deed requiring infinite diplomacy and tact, both of which qualities are personified in "Little Joe." In any event, be the outcome what it may, the campaign will be one of the most exciting ever witnessed in this city and a veritable monkey and parrot time may be safely predicted without fear of contradiction."

Walterville Items.

Plenty of rain, and plenty of people with colds, but no one very sick. J. W. Shumate is contemplating a trip to Portland soon. The farmers of this neighborhood have not got all their farms plowed. Oscar Millican killed twelve large hogs last week. He will not put them on the market now. Rev Mulkey's appointment was filled by Rev Eugene Finn at the school house. There will be a school entertainment on the evening of the 20th of December at the Walterville school house. Everybody interested will be welcome.

Life: Apropos of Bloomers: Mr. B.—You are trying very hard to be a man, it seems. Mrs. B.—Well, don't you think we need one in the family?

Fair and beautiful
—the woman who keeps at a distance the complexion beautifiers, paints and powders, which soon ruin the face. A healthy glow to the skin, a face without wrinkles, and sparkling eyes, will be yours if you keep the system and the special internal organs in good condition. The young girl, or woman, often grows pale, wrinkled and thin, eats little, everything wears her, she complains of herself as aching and sore and as sleeping poorly. Often she is troubled with backache, or a tender spine, with a bearing-down weight in the abdomen, or at periods she may be irregular, or suffer extreme pain from functional derangements.

Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., in his long and active experience, must have cases of this kind, for which he used a prescription which was found to cure such difficulties permanently in ninety-eight per cent. of all cases. Having proven so successful, Dr. Pierce put his "Favorite Prescription" on the market, and it is today sold more largely than any other medicine for the ills of women.

For all functional derangements, displacements, ulceration, inflammation, and the catarrhal drain from the lining membranes of the special internal organs of women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription reaches the origin of the trouble, and corrects it.

Mrs. MARY CRIM, of Frankfort, Franklin Co., Ill., writes: "A few years ago I took cold, which resulted in female trouble, and affected my whole system. About a year ago, I took chills, had one or two months; they were very weakening. Had pains in my sides more frequently in left side; gradually grew worse until, finally, I had to take to bed. I had a bad cough and could not rest. I commenced taking your medicine, took it about four months, taking seven bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and five of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' My weight has increased, and I feel better and stouter than I have for years."
