TUESDAY, - - JAN. 21, 1896.

Eugene has an economical administration at the head of her city government.

The South Oregon Monitor wants the republican congressional convention of the first district held in Eugene.

While the people pray for relief from heavy taxation, it is not consistent to pray for a special session of the legislature.

The people of Oregon do not seem to want an extra session of the legislature. They got enough of the last one.

Ex: "In New York, there are ten thousand more women than men. The men are evidently emigrating to Chicago." And the women should go to the Siuslaw.

The Salem Post says that runaways have become so frequent in Salem that elderly persons and children are scarcely safe on the sidewalks and streets any more. Such has been the case in Eugene.

Eugene is now enjoying excellent freight service on the river, and the people are reaping much benefit therefrom. If we had some one to properly champion our cause we would have this service not less than nine months in the year.

There is nothing an extra session of the legislature can do now to relieve the taxpayers that could not have been done at the regular session. The people ask for nothing now but that which they asked before the last state election. It would be folly to try again to squeeze blood out of a turnip.

Editor Alley of the Florence West seems to have a special spite at the University of Oregon. Perhaps his contemplated removal to Eastern Oregon inspires him to speak with such feigned freedom on this subject: "Really it is an interesting condition of affairs since the State University has gone into politics, and since some of its leading professors are taking a lively interest in the disputed political questions on finance. The people pay these professors for educational and political work.

A representative number of populists in Marion county have prepared and presented to W. H. Spaugh, chairman of the executive committee of the Peoples' party of Oregon, a petition asking him to issue another call which shall determine the number of delegates and apportion them to the several counties of the state, on the vote cast at the last election, for the Peoples' party conditdate for governor; and they further ask that the time for holding the convention should be fixed at a date not earlier than that fixed by the old parties.

In calculating on the proposition of the city having its own electric light and water plant the figures used are something like this: The city at present pays the light company $3,340 per year for lights; the water company $1,000 per year for water. The total amount expended for light and water at present is $4,340 per annum. To put in a first-class plant would require a loan of $50,000, which can be had for 6 per cent, and possibly 5 per cent. The interest at 6 per cent would cost the city $3,000. Three thousand dollars paid in interest would be a saving of $1,340 on the $4,340 now being paid for light and water. It is calculated that the outside patronage of the plant would more than pay the expense of running and keeping it in repair.

The parties guilty of the disturbance at the Salvation Army barracks, whether yet apprehended or not, are deserving of severe punishment and should be apprehended and made to suffer a penalty justified by the conduct. Boys should learn to behave at any and all public meetings, and if not satisfied with the meetings they may attend they are at liberty to retire peaceably. Barring the doors of a building wherein a public meeting is being held might result in a great sacrifice of human life in the case of the upsetting of a lamp or other mishap. Fortunately nothing of this kind resulted Sunday evening, but for the safety of people attending such meetings the punishment in this case should be a wholesome lesson.

THE CHARLTON ENTERTAINMENT.—The following account of a social event in Portland given by people well known in Eugene, appeared in Sunday's Oregonian: "Last Thursday evening a few friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mr and Mrs A D Charlton at their home, at the Comstock. They were delightfully entertained by musical numbers by Miss Bauer and Miss Comstock, while Mr Weister gave an interesting stereoscopic trip to Alaska. Those present were: Captain F S Bosworth, Mrs H J Manning, Mr and Mrs A E Reames, Mr and Mrs A J Comstock, Mr and Mrs C B Comstock, Mr and Mrs A J McManus, Mr and Mrs A Waddell, Dr and Mrs Dutro, Rev Dr and Mrs Hill, Mr and Mrs Weister, Mr J Wallace, Mr Edwards, Captain and Mrs T B Howes, Miss Estella Comstock, Miss Della Pfluger, Mr and Mrs Charlton, Mr H E Coleman, Mrs F R Reed, Miss Jane Woodward, Miss Bauer."

GETTING WILD.—Col Alley of the West seems to have it in for Eugene more than usual this week. In his rantings he suddenly comes at us wild eyed in the following language: "Steelhead and chinook salmon are caught in this river and transported and sold in Eugene, under the very eyes and knowledge of a deputy game warden. But as there is no money in it for the warden, this violation of the law is left unheeded or unmolested. It is only wealthy canneryman's money that is wanted in Eugene! The law to the devil! It is coin we crave!
