Electric railroads are proving of great benefit to the farmers in Maine. The trolley lines run out from the large cities and towns to villages far removed from steam railroad communication, and in several districts arrangements are making to run trolley milk trains, vegetable trains, and the like, to enable the farmers to get their produce quickly to market. It is even proposed to run trolley coal trains, to supply coal to small towns that now use only wood.

RETURNED.—L N Roney and crew returned yesterday afternoon from Hendricks ferry, where they were engaged for a week in rebuilding the ferry boat. They had just got ready for work when the river commenced to rise and they experienced any amount of difficulty in accomplishing their work, and part of the time were assisted by ten or more men living in that neighborhood. The boat was cut down and made smaller, and then moved down the river about one hundred yards from where it has been the past year, as the current of the river has changed so as to make this necessary. Mr Roney states that even now it will be difficult landing the boat, but there was no better place for it either above or below.

SPHITUALISM.—Prof Root, of Boston, a spiritual medium and astrologer has taken rooms over Rhinehart's grocery store, and holds meetings each evening. Sunday evening the meeting was free and was well attended, but for most of the meetings an admission fee is charged. Astrology is fortune telling by means of planets under which a person is born, and many have great faith in this method. The meeting will be free again tomorrow evening.

A Citizen's Views. EDITOR DAILY GUARD: That hoodlumism is on the increase in our city—is evident to all observers, and such will be the case until some means of punishment is devised for such offences that are so common. What, I ask, are the authorities doing that a good large rock pile is not in readiness to welcome this and every other class of offenders who defy our laws? The present mode of punishment (?) is inadequate, for to be placed in a comfortable building, this stormy weather and to be fed at the expense of the taxpayers on the fat of the land is just what these criminals desire. Will those who are supposed to administer our laws attend to this without delay? WE'LL SEE.

CIRCUIT COURT CASES.—John McCollum has entered suit against Lane county in the circuit court for the recovery of money. The complaint alleges that in May 1893 the plaintiff entered into a contract with the county court for the keeping of one Daniel Harkins, he to receive $1.25 per day for the care, board and lodging of said Harkins. He now has a claim against the county for $213.75 for said services and asks for interest on the same from August 10, 1894. The complaint alleges that the court tendered the plaintiff $50 but he refused to accept that amount. A suit has also been entered by G R Christian against R Smoole to recover money.

SUPREME COURT CASE.—The following case came up in the supreme court at Salem yesterday: "Thomas Day, app. mot, vs Mike Schneider and Mrs M Schneider, respondents. Appeal from Lane county. Argued and submitted. A E Wheeler attorney for appellant. L Bilbey attorney for respondents."

SENTENCED TO JAIL.—Ray Babb, Francis Hempy and Linn Alexander, the boys arrested for creating a disturbance at the Salvation Army barracks Sunday evening, were given a trial in Recorder Dorris' court this morning. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides, after hearing the evidence the Recorder sentenced Babb to serve eight days in the city jail, and Hempy and Alexander were given five days each. The boys were not given an opportunity to pay a fine. They were placed in the city jail immediately after the trial and will have ample opportunity for deliberation before again gaining their freedom.

DIDN'T GET HERE.—The Wm M Hoag, the O C & E company's boat, which sailed from Portland last Sunday with the avowed intention of coming to Eugene, did not get here. She came as far as Corvallis and then turned back to Portland. No cause is given for the boat's failure to come to this city. It certainly could not have been for lack of water. Owing to the condition of the locks it will probably be several days before she reaches Eugene. She has announced her intention of coming here again, but the people will not look for her until they hear her for horn.

The Plagues of Egypt. Were mighty bad. Not so serious as these are nervous troubles, but they are terribly harassing nevertheless. That thorough nerve and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, restores the nerves tranquil and strong, promotes digestion, appetite and sleep, and establishes health on a firm and permanent basis. Nervousness has its most frequent origin in indigestion and stomachic weakness. This cause of nervous debility is removed by the Bitters, which impart a healthy tone to the gastric region, upon the activity of which the well being of the entire system is largely dependent. This sterling and time honored medicine also remedies and prevents biliousness, constipation, rheumatic and kidney complaints, and all forms of malarial disease. Use it regularly.

A DANCE.—A dance out of the usual order is to be given at Springfield next Monday evening. Ladies are requested to bring baskets containing lunch for two. Gentlemen will secure partners for supper by taking hold of a yarn passing under a curtain, with a lady attached to the other end.
