PACERS AND TROTTERS.

Twenty-Seven Portland Horses Coming to the Eugene Races.

A telephone message received from Portland today by E J Frazier assistant secretary of the Eugene Speed and Driving Association, states that 27 head of pacers and trotters would leave that city Saturday morning for Eugene and would be in attendance upon the races next week at Merlau's park.

The management at Portland have chartered a river steamer and will bring the horses up on it. The boat will probably arrive here next Monday. Besides the pacers and trotters there are also a few runners in the band.

It now looks as if the races would be an assured success. There are already a large number of horses in training at the park track and it is quite probable that at least 100 horses will be in attendance upon the races. One thing is certain and that is there will be the finest display of horse flesh that has ever been seen before in Lane county. Every race for which there is a purse offered will be well filled, and there will be some exciting races take place at the park next week.

Unfair as Usual.

A. C. Jennings, who is the so-called clerk of Lane county, is probably possessed of more gall and egotism than any like officer in the United States. He sent a communication to this office shortly before noon yesterday and because it did not appear at 4 o'clock, intimates that it had been taken under advisement, and proceeds to have it published in the Register; and therefore it will not appear in this paper although it was intended to be printed in today's GUARD and in the weekly tomorrow.

Now for the article: First—He says the average assessment of railroad mileage in the state is $3,678. This is true, but the road bed is mortgaged for $20,000 per mile, and in California similar roads are assessed for from $12,000 to $17,000 per mile. Assessor Burton assessed the road bed at $5,000 per mile and thought he was placing the value very low.

Why should the county clerk act as special pleader for the S P R R, a monster corporation? Does he know more about the value of the property than Mr. Burton? Jennings has never shown such interest when it came to lowering assessments on the farms of the county. He is a sham reformer and works for the S P R R. Why?

Second—He has the gall to claim some credit because the assessment of the railroad was increased over the previous year. It was not Jennings' fault that it was not less. He reduced a portion of the same, and probably would have the rest if he had been assessing the property. The assessor, and not the sham reformer, raised the valuation.

Third—Because the clerk's office has paid a few dollars profit in the last 21 months Jennings claims the credit for it. He is possessed of more assurance than any individual in the county. He is not responsible that it did pay a profit as he has right along pocketed fees that by right should have been demanded by the county. He never passed the law making it a salary one. As we stated before the clerk's office has cost the taxpayers $4,048.50, and we defy a denial. He then makes a comparison with the old law. It makes no difference now as to the old law. That was voted out of existence by an indignant people and the same voters should forever dispose of the sham reformer on June 1st. Then the entire Jennings family might earn $30 or $40 per month instead of $200 or $300 as now quartered. Vote for Spencer.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A new tin roof is being put on A K Patterson's building on Ninth street today. A number of other improvements are being made in that vicinity. The alley back of the Hoffman House is being cleaned out and filled in with gravel and a number of old shacks along the alley are being torn out. This is the proper thing to do and if some other localities should receive the same treatment it would be better for the health of the city.

BIRD PROPAGATING.

Mongolian, Silver and Golden Pheasants and Canary Birds.

E J McClanahan has made rather extensive preparations for the propagation of Chinese pheasants at his premises in the eastern part of the city. Mr McClanahan has been dealing in these birds for some time and constantly receives applications for them for propagating purposes from different parts of the United States. He cannot begin to supply the demand, though he ships several hundred of the birds every season. Heretofore Mr McClanahan has depended upon capturing the birds in their wild state, but this spring he has constructed a small park 26x100 feet in size, at his premises on Ferry street, in which he will keep three pairs for breeding purposes. The birds here can have all the freedom that can be given them under confinement. The park has a wall around it which is seven feet and two inches high and is covered with common wire netting. The birds are supplied with plenty of water and grain, and grass and shrubs are growing in the park. There are now two males and one female in the park.

At the east end there is a small glass window in the wall, over which hangs a leather flap. This window is for the purpose of viewing the interior of the park, and to describe the wonderful alertness and watchfulness of the birds it is only necessary to say that the little leather flap over the glass is never raised without them being conscious of it.

Mr McClanahan has another smaller park in which he has a domestic hen with a brood of 10 young pheasants that were just hatched out this morning. He also has another hen setting on 20 eggs.

Mr McClanahan has written to some parties at Protection Island on Puget Sound to ascertain if he can get a pair each of Silver and Golden pheasants. If it is possible to obtain these birds Mr McClanahan expects to import them for propagating purposes. They are very rare and beautiful birds.

Bealita pheasants Mr McClanahan is also dealing extensively in canary birds and now has 20 of the little yellow beauties in a cage in his yard, three of them being German L Innets, said to be the finest of singers. In the cage are six nests, containing altogether 16 eggs. The cage and its precocious occupants make a very pretty picture, and when visited by a reporter three of the little songsters were very contentedly and good naturedly setting on one nest.

THE BOHEMIA ROAD.

Supt. Jennings Desires to Confer With the People of Eugene Tonight.

F M Wilkins, president of the board of Trade, received the following telegram this afternoon from Mr P J Jennings, of Cottage Grove, superintendent of large mining interests at Bohemia: COTTAGE GROVE, May 21, 1896. F M WILKINS, Eugene, Or: Will be in Eugene tonight at which time I would like to meet your people in public on matters concerning the Bohemia wagon road proposition. P J JENNINGS. President Wilkins has called a public meeting to assemble at council chambers in the city hall building at 8 o'clock tonight. It is desired that the committee recently appointed and all others interested in the matter of establishing a wagon road to Bohemia be present.
