THE WIFE PAYS ALIMONY.

Chicago Times Herald: A decision has just been made by Judge Gibbs of the Crook county circuit court that ought to prove interesting to the new woman. It was in a divorce case where the wife is the complainant. It does not appear from the decision what the lady's ground of complaint is, but it is shown that both parties are past the age of 60 and have only been married two years. The husband is poor and unable to work, while the wife owns property and is fairly well to do. In the circumstances the solicitor for the defendant made application to the court for temporary alimony and a reasonable sum for solicitor's fees.

The cases are familiar where a husband applying for a divorce is required to pay alimony and attorneys' fees, but that a wife should be thus charged with the expense is entirely new. No precedent was in the argument that covered the case, so the judge was obliged to decide it as of first impression. He consequently entered learnedly and luminously into the history of the status of woman from the Homeric age down to the present day, showing how women have been gradually emancipated from the thrall in which man formerly held her, until now she stands upon an absolute equality with him so far as property rights and individual freedom are concerned. She is equally liable with him for the support of their family, and if he has no property she must pay the bills.

These principles being well settled the judge carries them to their logical conclusion. If the husband can be obliged to pay alimony to the wife, under like circumstances the wife may be compelled to pay alimony to the husband. He says "Every reason of right, justice and moral is in favor of the proposition that the duties which the husband and wife owe to each other are reciprocal."

The judgment, therefore, was in favor of the husband and the wife was ordered to pay. Such is a new phase of the equality of the sexes. Woman may now rejoice that she is at last the equal of the tyrant man.

The democratic national convention meets in the city of Chicago. The platform will favor silver. It isn't possible to predict who will be the nominees.

Probably the owner of the largest number of dogs in the world is Gustav Jovanovitch, a "Russian cattle king," who has 35,000 shepherd dogs to look after 1,500,000 sheep.

Junction City Times: The judges and clerks of election are allowed only $3.00. The salary of judges and clerks of election is fixed by statute while the pay of deputy sheriffs is fixed by the board of commissioners. While we believe in strict economy we are of the opinion the discrimination is unjust. If the judges and clerks of election are entitled $3.00 per day, the deputy sheriff is certainly entitled to at least $2.00 per day. We have heard a good deal of complaint concerning this discrimination and we think the deputy sheriff has just cause to "kick."

It was well enough that Senator Thurston's committee should go to Mr McKinley's house and notify him that he had been named for president; but from the quality of the oratory, the errand may be judged hardly necessary. The remarks on both sides were commonplace and platitudinous. McKinley will write a letter within a few weeks, which may be expected to contain something.—Oregonian.

There is nobody happier over the nomination of McKinley than his fond old mother. She was at her son's house when the joyful news came and was among the first to greet him. Eighty-seven years old a few months ago, she is still in vigorous health and in possession of all her venerable womanhood as one could wish to see. McKinley who is reckoned as handsome, has his mother's features, and between him and her there has always been the closest companionship.

Is there any reason for dodging and ignoring a great and vital fact simply because a few prejudiced, misguided people have antiquated ideas of what constitutes morality and modesty? Reason and honesty say—certainly not. Men and women are attracted to each other because they are men and women and because it is right and necessary that they should be so attracted. The things that make a man attractive are the characteristics caused by his inherent manliness—by the strength which makes him a perfect man. The same is true of woman. There is strong attractiveness in perfect health. There is fascination and magnetism in it. A woman cannot be entirely womanly—she cannot be a perfect woman—if she is not in perfect health. In just so much as her sickness affects the organs that make her a woman, in just so much she loses attractiveness. This is the vital part of her health. If anything is wrong there, it may result in all manner of ills all over the body. Careless, or too busy, physicians frequently treat the symptoms of this kind of disorder as separate and distinct ailments. The symptoms are many and varied, so much so that when a woman is sick in any way, the first thought should be given to the organs distinctly feminine. About 9 times in 10 the cause of the trouble will be found there. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all disorders of this kind. There is no guesswork about it. There is no chance about it. It is a fact that has been demonstrated in 30 solid years of extensive practice. Thousands of women have written grateful letters, who have wished the whole world of women to know the wonderful things the "Prescription" has done for them.
