Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Osburn & DeLano.

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

Is SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR—don't forget to take it. The Liver gets sluggish during the Winter, just like all nature, and the system becomes choked up by the accumulated waste, which brings on Malaria, Fever and Ague and Rheumatism. You want to wake up your Liver now, but to get you take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR to do it. It also regulates the Liver—keeps it properly at work, when your system will be free from poison and the whole body invigorated.

You get THE BEST BLOOD when your system is in A1 condition, and that will only be when the Liver is kept active. Try a Liver Remedy once and note the difference. But take only SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR—it is SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR which makes the difference. Take it in powder or in liquid already prepared, or make a tea of the powder; but take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. You'll find the RED Z on every package. Look for it.

Turning Trees into Newspapers.

An interesting experiment was recently made at Menzel & Co's paper and wood pulp manufactory at Elsie, that to ascertain what was the shortest space of time in which it was possible to convert the wood of a standing tree into paper and the latter into a journal ready for delivery.

Three trees were felled in a forest near the establishment at thirty-five minutes past 7 a. m., in the presence of two of the owners of the manufactory and a notary whom they had called to certify as to the authenticity of the experiment. The trees were carried to the manufactory, where they were cut into pieces twelve inches in length, which were then desiccated and split. The wood thus prepared was afterward raised by an elevator to the five defibrators of the works. The wood pulp produced by these machines was then put into a vat, where it was mixed with the necessary materials. This process finished, the liquid pulp was sent to the paper machine. At thirty-four minutes past nine in the morning the first sheet of paper was finished. The entire manufactory had thus consumed but one hour and fifty-nine minutes.

The owners of the manufactory, accompanied by the notary, then took a few of the sheets to a printing office situated a distance of about two and a half miles from the works. At ten o'clock a copy of the printed journal was in the hands of the party; so that it had taken two hours and twenty-five minutes to convert the wood of a standing tree into a journal for delivery.

During the course of manufacture there occurred a few interruptions which might be avoided at another time, and that, in the opinion of the two manufacturers, had it not been for this, twenty minutes might have been gained.—Mining and Scientific Press.

Going East.—Virgil Johnson, of the class of '96, University of Oregon, and who won the $100 cash prize for second best oration, will leave Monday for the East to spend five years in securing a higher education. He will first go to Boston, Mass., and if satisfactory arrangements can be made will enter Harvard University for a two years' course. He will then go to Rochester, New York, and finish up with three years in a theological seminary. However, he may go to Rochester first and in that case would take three years there and only one year at Harvard. Mr Johnson is one of the brightest young men who has graduated from the home university. He is preparing for the ministry and the GUARD wishes him the success which it believes he will have.

FELL DOWN A SHAFT.—A dog belonging to one of the miners at the Durango mine at Blue River could tell a thrilling experience if dogs could talk. The animal fell 52 feet to the bottom of a shaft. At the Durango a tunnel extends 190 feet back into the mountains and at the back end a shaft has been sunk 32 feet into the earth. Some of the men entered the tunnel with lights a few days ago. The dog ran on ahead where it was dark and when it came to the end of the tunnel unsuspectingly plunged off into the shaft. The men heard a dull thud when the dog struck bottom, but on examination it was found that the dog was not hurt, though somewhat addled by the fall.

TELEGRAPH RATES REDUCED.

The Cut is Applied to Non-competing and Competing Points.

Beginning September 1st, the Western Union Telegraph Company will put into effect new rates that will affect all offices in Oregon, with the exception of those where the present rate is 25 cents for the first ten words and 2 cents for each additional word, and a few offices in the eastern portion of the state, and over half of the offices in Washington.

The following list shows the principal offices touched:

Wear as people are of Civil War articles, there is a striking novelty in hearing that a woman saved the Union. Godey's Magazine for September advances a surprising array of testimony to prove that Anna Ella Carroll should be ranked among the world's greatest strategists.

A Solo girl can give you the latest in bloomers. She simply puts on a Mother Hubbard, stands up, catches the lower part of the back of the skirt, gently draws it up and with a safety pin pins it to her waist in front, and gets on her wheel. As she scorchers along the drawn portion of the skirt fills with wind, and there you are.—Telescope.

MUST PROGRESS.—The state superintendent of public instruction has ruled that any person having received a first, second or third grade county certificate in one county shall not be granted a second paper of the same grade in any county in the state, and said certificates are good only in the county where issued. A person having received a third grade county certificate and going into another county to teach must pass the examination for the next higher grade, namely, a second grade certificate. This ruling is very important to teachers. It means that they must progress. It means more to be a teacher than it did ten years ago, and ten years hence the standard will be still higher. The world is progressing and the teacher must progress with it or fall out of the ranks.

Oregon Press Association.

ASTORIA, Or, Aug 20.—The tenth annual meeting of the Oregon Press Association was held in this city tonight. President C C Doughty in the chair, and Albert Tozier, secretary. There were 87 members present, every county in the state being represented. Six of the association ex-presidents were among those who attended. A number of communications were read, among them being one from the Washington Association, which meets next year at Vancouver, asking for a joint meeting of the associations. After the meeting was formally opened, the secretary's report was read. The report showed that during the past year, the association had lost no members, that 14 papers had been established since last year and 30 suspended. Of the latter, 12 were less than 12 months old. The country weeklies of the state, the report said, compared favorably with those in any state in the Union, while the dailies were unexcelled for quantity of news, make-up and good horse sense. The annual address of the president was read by A W Patterson, who, owing to the indisposition of the president, had been called to the chair. The paper was replete with good suggestions for the welfare of the association and newspapers in general. Reports of other officers followed, after which the meeting adjourned until tomorrow.

From Wyoming.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Aug. 16, '96.
EDITOR GUARD:—Please change the address of my paper from Crook, Or., to the above address.
I arrived here via Harney Valley, Baie, Hailey, Idaho, Henry Lake, Yellowstone Park, Livingstone, Billings, Custer's battle ground, on the 20th of July, having been on the road six weeks.

There has been a great change in the Snake river country since I saw it in '80. Where the Indian hunted and the coyote howled are fine, irrigated farms, and immense canals bringing water from up the river; also hard times, heavy water rates, mosquitos, three kinds of horse flies, buffalo knats, etc., by the millions. They even have mosquito bars on the hen houses. Talk about scenery, there is nothing here or on the road to compare with the old Cascade range. The mountain scenery in the park is tame and if it were not for the geysers, hot springs, hell's here and the mammoth hot springs, it would not be worth going five miles to see.

This country is a good wheat country. Potatoes and other vegetables do well. Fine grass grows on irrigated lands, and grazing is good. There is no fruit, but plenty of gooseberries, currants and strawberries. People are bustling around picking choke cherries to can and make jell out of. I was talking to a grocer about dried prunes. He wanted to know what they could be bought for on board cars. I referred him to Geo. Weider and Dr. Sharples. He showed me some prunes they bought from a peddler in Omaha at 8j cents. They were culls and had been doctored. They were a dull color and apparently had been dipped in syrup. I told him that on the coast they would feed such fruit to stock. I believe there could be a good prune market worked up at Sheridan, Wyo., and Billings and Livingston, Montana, as all three places are supply points for an immense farming and stock country. Cull fruit is sold as coming from Oregon.

Nineteen years residence in Oregon has made it seem like my native place and at some future time I may again reside there. Success to the GUARD.

Yours Respectfully,
C. A. McMAHAN.

A PITIABLE CASE.—A man and woman and two small children, strangers, have been in the city for two or three days and during most of that time the husband and father has been on a spree. The woman and her children were at the depot this morning. She said her father resided at Dayton and she wanted to get to that place but only had money enough to reach Salem, so she did not go. She said her husband had no money, but managed somehow to get whisky. She said: "I think too much of my children to have them banged around in this manner by a drunken father and if I could get home I would drop him right now." This was the right kind of talk and the woman will have no trouble to get to Dayton if she drops her brute of a husband.

LATER.—Since the above was put in type, "hubby" has been thrown in jail for being drunk and abusing his wife. Money has been raised for the woman and she will be sent to her people at Dayton on tomorrow morning's train.

Here Hop Contracts.
