OSBURN & DELANO. The Oregonian claims that nearly all American visitors to England wear McKinley buttons.

This seems natural. It is very seldom that any of our farmers and laboring men are able to visit that country.

One of the local writers in today's Oregonian in speaking of street car lines only running until 11 o'clock in the evening:

"From a careful investigation of the matter made by a friend of the distressed, it would seem that the hard times and the possibility of McKinley being defeated has something to do with it."

The American Beauty owes her prestige more to a clear complexion than to any other attribute.

Joaquin Miller's Pheasants.

The Oakland, Cal., Times in a recent issue says: Joaquin Miller's latest benefaction is the stocking of Alameda county with birds. Now there are birds and birds; some sing better than others and some are good eating, while others do not amount to much in the eyes of the gourmet. Mr. Miller has resolved these things in his mind, and he has resolved that the Chinese pheasant is the most desirable bird to propagate, all things considered. As a songster he does not much excel the common barnyard hen, but his eating qualities are unexcelled. The pheasant experiment is well under way. George M Miller of Eugene, Oregon, who is a brother of the poet, has shipped seventeen pheasants to the poet, who will free them on his farm upon Oakland Heights, (Oakland Heights, according to the poet's own way of spelling). It is not to be supposed that the birds will remain permanently upon the poet's ranch, even to enjoy the society of the man of verses; they will wander away become widely scattered, and eventually people Alameda and Contra Costa counties. That is, if the hunters do not kill them off before they are given a chance. It is interesting to know how the pheasants were secured. The birds are about half grown and a simple but effective method was practiced in their capture. They were run down by a man on a horse. It is said when frightened the young birds will rise and fly to the greatest distance their strength will carry them. They must then rest quite a bit before regaining sufficient strength to fly again. If "spotted" by a man on horseback he can pursue them at full speed, and by jumping off his horse, catch them as they will not try to fly until they have rested.

THE WAGON ROAD.—Brownsville Times: Several petitions are being circulated over the country, for the purpose of securing funds with which to build the much-talked-of, long-looked-for wagon road to the mines. The one being circulated here is not being received with the liberal spirit that it should be. Our people who are wide awake on most occasions, evidently do not look at this matter from the proper standpoint. They did not seem to realize that with the completion of this road Brownsville and Linn county would receive the trade that will otherwise go elsewhere. This trade, even at present, is not merely a trifle, and yet it will increase ten fold, in all probability, in a very short time. Let us be up and doing; this is our golden opportunity; the iron is hot, hit hard.

A SURPRISE.—The Misses Fannie and Maggie Croner and Mrs George Croner gave their mother Mrs C C Croner, a most delightful surprise party Saturday night. Whist was indulged in until 10.30 when all the guests repaired to the dining room where covers were laid for sixteen. The table was elegantly and artistically decorated with smilax and various kinds of roses. After the beautiful repast all sorts of games were played until a very late hour, when all the guests, wishing Mrs Croner many happy returns of her natal day, departed for their respective homes.

FINED FOR SELLING PHEASANTS.—James Fisher, who resides about five or six miles west of town, was cited by Deputy Game Warden Wilkins to appear before Justice Wheeler and plead guilty to the charge of capturing and selling Chinese pheasants in violation of the state game law which he did this morning, paying a fine of $25 and costs amounting to $7.85. It seems that Mr Fisher has been capturing the birds alive by running the young ones down on horseback. He recently caught 17 in that way and sold them at $1.50 each.

Nothing Wrecks the Constitution More effectually than fever and ague. That nerve destroying malarial, when once it takes firm root, subverts every function, exhausts the physical energies, impoverishes the blood and clouds the mental faculties. No effectual resistance can be offered to its destructive career by the use of the pernicious drug quinine. Hostettler's Stomach Bitters will, however, be found all sufficient either for its eradication or prevention. Those conditions of the system, such as a bilious, constipated habit, or lack of vitality, which are favorable to the contraction of the disease, are speedily reformed by this pure and efficient alterative and invigorant, which not only regulates the system, but gives a healthy impetus to the various organs, whose activity is the best guaranty of health. Thoroughness of action is the chief characteristic of this leading specific and preventive, which is eminently adapted for family use.

PAID DAMAGES.—Hon T G Hendricks, president of the First National Bank, of this city, has been paying some fire insurance himself. A couple of weeks ago he went out to some land he owned near the Masonic cemetery, and set out a fire to burn some grass, weeds and stubble. He was watching the fire but it got away from him and burned up a shed belonging to Scott McMurray, and it was only by the hardest kind of work that the fire was extinguished, by Mr Hendricks and his assistant, before it entered the cemetery. Saturday the loss was satisfactorily adjusted and Mr Hendricks paid Mr McMurray $50 damages.

A SPLENDID ROUTE.—The civil engineer who has been in the Blue River mines surveying out a route for a wagon road, returned to Eugene Saturday evening enroute to his home in Portland. He reports having selected a splendid route for a road up Quartz Creek to the Luckey Boy mine, and that the grade will be an easy one. He is in the employ of the London Exploration Company, which has recently purchased that property. This road will not be of benefit to Gold Hill claims.

CIVIL SUIT.—Suit has been commenced in Justice Wheeler's court by Franklin Wiles, against D Gover and F A Rankin for labor performed in the sum of $19. The defendants claim that the plaintiff was to receive his pay in wood, while the latter claims that it was to be cash. The case will be heard this evening.

FLORENCE CLUBS.—According to the Florence West the political clubs at that place have the following membership: Bryan club 127; McKinley club 106.
