THE SUPREME ISSUE.

Three weeks from today the American people will go to the polls and decide the issues that are now dividing them. The most conspicuous of these issues, the one about which there is more writing and talking than about all others, is the money question. But important as that question is, there is another of incalculably deeper moment to the Republic. The supreme issue before the people is this:

Shall the nation be ruled by its money or by its men?

On the one side we have Wm McKinley, backed by the concentrated wealth of the country. Every trust on which class legislation in the interest of the rich and influential confers the privilege of taxing the masses for private profit; every syndicate that has made, or hopes to make, millions by robbing the treasury of the United States; every combination of capital that sees gain to itself in the contraction of the currency; every rich man who has come to think that the Government should be run for the benefit of himself and others like him—every one of these elements is striving for the success of the working by every means, fair and foul, for the election of McKinley.

On the other side we have Wm J Bryan, whose only strength is his cause and himself. His appeal is straight to the people on the principles for which he stands. He asks no quarter from the trusts. He defies selfish wealth and challenges it to exert to the utmost its power to corrupt, to coerce and to confuse the issue by controlling the voice of the press. He begs for no man's vote who does not think it best for the country to give it to him. He urges the people to study the question at issue and then vote as their knowledge directs. His is a brave, a frank, a rational, a manly and a truly American appeal.

Bryan speaks for the welfare of the industrious many; McKinley for the welfare of the opulent few. Is there a thoughtful man in the whole United States who does not know that the greatest danger which is threatening this Republic is the steadily growing power of conscienceless money? Does not every thoughtful man feel that unless the grip of wealth upon our Government shall be loosened we must ultimately have a Republic in name and an oligarchy in fact?

Citizens equally honest differ sincerely on the currency question. Silver men think the single gold standard a potent cause of our industrial distress; gold men think that bimetalism would increase rather than lessen that distress. But honest Americans should be agreed in believing that a presidential election carried by the trusts and syndicates, under the leadership of Mark Hanna, would be immeasurably more disastrous and dishonoring to the United States than the retention or introduction of any monetary system.

Three weeks from today every citizen before he goes to the ballot box will, if he be intelligent and patriotic, ask himself the vital question: "Shall I vote for government by men, or for government by money?"

THE GOLDBUG'S PRAYER.

"Our father, who art in England, Rothschild be thy name. Thy kingdom come to America, thy will be done in the United States as it is done in England. Give us this day bonds that are payable in gold, but not in silver; give us the votes of laboring men to keep monopolies in power. We know we have sinned against thee; we have robbed the honest poor and protected the dishonest rich. Lead us not into temptation to help the common people, the farmer and the laborer, and deliver us from 16 to 1; and thus we have the kingdom and the power, gold bonds and interest for ever and ever. Amen."

THE STAR OF HOPE.

"I had lost all hope and gone to my father's to die," said Mrs. Mott E. Evans, of Mount, Corvallis, Ore. "I gave birth to a baby a year ago, the 5th of June last," she adds, "and seemed to do very well for 8 or 9 days, and then I began to feel very bad, my stomach was all wrong and I seemed to suffer with everything that I could be borne. I was in bed 5 months and there was not a day that it seemed I could live. We had the best doctors that our country afforded. I was a skeleton. Every one that saw me thought that I would never get well. I had palpitation and pain in the heart, terrible pain in my right side just under the ribs, terrible headache all the time; a bearing down sensation; a distressed feeling in my stomach all the time; could hardly eat anything and it looked as if I would starve. All the time I would take such weak trembling spells, and it seemed as if I could not stand it. There were six doctors treating me when I commenced taking your medicine. I had lost all hope and gone to my father's to die. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Favorite Prescription' together, and I took them regularly until I felt as if life was worth living again."

"I weigh more than I have weighed for years. My appetite has never hurt me since. I can eat anything I want and as much as I want. If you want to use this in favor of your medicine, I am a living witness to testify to it, and will, to anyone who wants to know further of my case."
