From the Bohemias.
Salem Statesman: James H. Sharp the discover and patriarch of the Bohemia mining district, is in this city on a visit from that rich belt of ore-bearing country lying in the wedge formed by the north fork of the Umpqua and the south fork of the east fork of the Willamette river, just where the Calapooia and the Cascades join their mighty shoulders. He reports conditions as very favorable there for the new year, but for the present hemmed in by snow and ice.
The principal work being done there now is upon sheltered properties, and consists largely of tunnelling and other underground service.
Mr Sharp says that upon the Bohemian territory at least 500 mines have been located, many of them paying and many more highly promising ventures. The ores worked being gold, silver, iron and lead, with a remarkable absence of base metals.
The nearest shipping point for the entire district is Cottage Grove, thirty-five miles away, but in season the road is excellent. Mr Sharp himself opened up the road into Bohemia and turned it over to his county in consideration of the building of the necessary bridges.
Milling is going on extensively in season, there being three large ten-stamp quartz mills, two five-stamp and a prospect mill of two stamps.
He is enthusiastic about the future of his section and its rich possibilities and is eager to see it developed, but warns all would-be prospectors not to enter the territory before the middle of May or the 1st of June, when the rigors of winter and the contingencies of a late spring will have been removed.
Mr Sharp will be in Salem for some little time attending to matters of business, the importance of which have drawn him hither from the recesses of his mountain home and the duties demanded by his extensive mining property.

Beaming With Smiles
Are the countenances of people who have found speedy and thorough relief from malarial, kidney, bilious, dyspeptic or nervous troubles through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such countenances are very numerous. So are letters from their owners attesting the efficacy of the great family medicine. Among the signals of distress thrown out by the stomach, bowels and liver in a state of disorder, are sick headache, heartburn, nausea, loss of appetite, sallowness of the skin and eyeballs, and an uncertain state of the bowels. They should be heeded at once. If the Bitters are resorted to, the worst regime look which accompanies sickness will give way to cheerful looks produced by renewed health. If you are drifting on the coast of disease, throw an anchor to windward by summoning the Bitters to your assistance. It will keep you in safety.
The nightly croaking of the frogs, the cackling of the hens in the day time, the occasional glimpses of straw hats and the warm, ba my atmosphere make one feel as though spring is really here—but it isn't.
We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds.
