HEREDITARY CRIMINALS.

Authorities are fully agreed that criminal strains are bred in men transmitted from parents to sons and daughters, as cattle or other animals transmit their peculiar characteristics. A very strong addition to the many cases already reported is the one at Grants Pass in this state. In referring to a criminal family that has given the authorities of Josephine county plenty of work during several years past the Rogue River Courier, says:

"There must be something abnormally callous and criminal in the Fiester family. The old man lies in jail under sentence of death for the brutal and cowardly murder of his wife whom he drowned in a muddy pool at the track side nearly two years ago. Two of his daughters are members of the demi monde, and now the brothers are convicts—five criminals from one family."

PROSPERITY PLEDGES.

Some of the gold standard organs are waking up to a realization of the stern, uncompromising facts as they exist. Of one of these the Chicago Times-Herald says:

"The memorial presented to the president on Thursday by the executive council of the Federation of Labor voices the popular but unreasonable discontent of the wage-earners over the failure of the politicians to redeem the prosperity promises so recklessly made from the stump during the recent campaign. The pledges of a speedy return to good times so glibly made by the spellbinders were repeatedly deprecated by the conservative, sober-minded element in the republican party."

ANOTHER UNFORTUNATE.

Max Pracht of Ashland is about the best advertised man in Oregon, his reputation having been secured by reason of his office seeking proclivities. The Sheridan Sun is the latest to turn its guns on poor unfortunate Max:

"Max Pracht, the noisy jassax from Ashland, who went east for the appointment of marshal of Alaska is said to be walking on his under lip."

"Max Pracht he got no fat,
He didn't want any lean.
He spoke of this and he spoke of that,
But 'the president couldn't be seen.'"

Mayor Strong of the city of New York has the distribution of the fifteen thousand bricks in the temporary tomb of General Grant. The 6396 Grand Army posts in this country have the first call, for one brick each. If the posts in Oregon want their bricks, they had better send in their orders early to Mayor Strong. A hundred thousand relic hunters in New York city alone each demand a brick after the Grand Army posts are served; and the number in the whole country will no doubt run into the millions.

South Carolina requires belief in a Divine being as a prerequisite for suffrage. Bob Ingersoll will fight shy of the old Palmetto state.

BRYAN COMING.

William J Bryan will pass through the state about the middle of July. An effort should be made to have the distinguished visitor make a stop at Eugene. It would bring together the largest crowd the town ever witnessed. A non-partisan effort should be made at once to secure a date. We are certain the people of Eugene and Lane county, irrespective of political bias, will gladly lend their influence to any move toward that end.

Columbia river fisherman do not find this world all smiles. In addition to a short salmon run, low prices and dangers of the bar an occasional sea-lion wanders into the nets and the genuine fun commences. One that weighed 1000 pounds was caught in what was left of a net the other day.

Who wins in the race? Is it a sick man? Is it a man who is weak? Is it a man whose blood is impure? An athlete trains for every race. The best athletes train all the time. They are always in perfect condition. It is pretty safe to say that the best man will always win. The man who is strong and in the best condition will surely distance his competitors.

In the race for success, the best man will win if he takes care of himself. He cannot win if he neglects his physical condition. It doesn't make any difference how smart he is. If his body isn't strong, he will never finish the race. He must look first for a clear, healthy, strong body, because the body makes and supports the brain. If the heart pumps impure blood into the brain, you cannot expect the man to be clear-headed, you cannot expect him to accomplish much. If a man's blood is pure and rich, there can not be much the matter with him. If it isn't pure and rich, he may have almost any disease under the sun, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it. It doesn't make any difference what form the disease takes, or by what name it is called. Nearly all diseases spring from impure blood. If you make the blood pure, you remove the cause and cure the disease. That's common sense—and medical sense—and scientific sense.

You might learn a thousand valuable lessons about preserving your health by reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a grand book and the present edition is absolutely free to all who send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It contains 1008 pages and over 300 engravings. 680,000 cloth-bound copies have been sold at $1.50 each. This free edition is in strong manilla paper covers, otherwise it is just the same. During the winter of 1893, F M Martin, of Long Beach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief.
