ELKS' CHARITY BALL.

The Proceeds, $70.25, Turned Over
To The Woman's Relief Corps.

Resolutions Passed.

At a regular meeting of Eugene Lodge, No 357, B. P. O. Elks, the matter was up for the disposal of the net proceeds of the Charity Ball given by that order Christmas Eve.

The committee made a report showing that 107 tickets were sold at one dollar each, while the expenses were $36.75, making the net proceeds $70.25.

It was voted unanimously to turn the money over to the Woman's Relief Corps of Eugene, who will use it to relieve the needy. Therefore, we are informed the money was today handed to the secretary of that organization, Mrs. Ray DeLano.

Resolutions were passed thanking the committee having the matter in charge, Messrs Al Hampton, A. L. Peter and William Mayer, also Wm Alexander for calling and all who patronized the ball.

It is the intention of the organization to give an annual Charity Ball, and it will always be largely patronized.

The Sultan and Our Missionaries.

The Porte has demanded the recall of two American Missionaries from the province of Aleppo, on the pretext that their mission is likely to cause disturbances. "The sick man of Europe," is as unreasonable as his political health is feeble. A bright contrast to his obstinacy and stupidity, the people of America are acknowledging far and wide the beneficence of the mission of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, namely, to relieve and prevent malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint, chronic dyspepsia, constipation and liver trouble. The nervous, the weak and the infirm derive unspeakable benefit from its use, and it greatly mitigates the weakness and infirmities which are specially incident to advancing years.

After being predicted for two weeks snow began falling all over the Sound country Tuesday morning, and according to reports from the foothills, nearly two feet has fallen during the past 24 hours. No interruption of traffic on street-car lines at Tacoma has occurred, as the snow is light and easily kept off the tracks.

AN ARKANSAS CALAMITY.

A Cyclone Swept the City—Fire Added to the Horror—50 Persons Reported Killed.

A Fort Smith, Arkansas, dispatch of Jan 12 says:

"One of the most terrible storms that ever struck this section of the country tore through this city shortly before midnight last night. Everything is in confusion as the result of the great destruction of life and property, and as yet it is impossible to give anything like an accurate estimate of the number killed or injured. Fifty persons are reported as dead and as many missing; homes have been wrecked by the force and hundreds of people are without food or shelter.

The debris of many buildings in the lodging-house district caught fire and those unfortunates who were not at once extricated alive perished miserably by being burned or smothered to death. Many people in the outside districts were killed in the crash of falling residences. All the nurses and doctors that can be pressed into service are being utilized, and there are scores of temporary hospitals throughout the city. The morgue is taxed to its utmost capacity and additional bodies are being brought in every few minutes.

Altogether the scene at the place is sickening and horrible. A heavy rain followed the tornado and it was probably 20 minutes before the city awoke to the fact that it had been visited by a calamity. The fire department was called out and in less than 30 minutes the streets were crowded with people and willing hands were ready to render all the aid the emergency required. Estimates place the number of killed at 50 and the loss of property at $500,000.

About Advertising.

A man needs in business, more than anything else, the reputation of being square, honest and uniform; and such a reputation is of itself good capital. If a man has a genius for business, that ought to be one of its ingredients. The mere appearance of advertising indicates that business is being done, or will be done, and as long as everybody prefers to buy of men of success rather than men of failure, just so long will the man who advertises be likely to do the business.

All successful advertising is bound together by chains of continuity. Your ad of yesterday adds an additional influence to your ad of today, and your ad of today lends an increased force to your ad of tomorrow. Each ad forms but the part of a whole—a chapter in the great serial of advertising. Stopping your advertising then is breaking off right in the middle of the story, which will surely weaken the influence of all former chapters.

Notice to Bridge Builders.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the county clerk's office until 12 o'clock noon, January 28, 1898, for the construction of a covered bridge across the Coast Fork river below Taylor ford, at what is known as the Rock ford; main span to be 100 feet, with a 50-foot approach on each side.

All material to be furnished by the county. A certified check amounting to 15 per cent of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid; also plans and specifications for said bridge.

Witness my hand and official seal this 12th day of January, 1898.

A C JENNINGS, Clerk.

A New Jersey man, according to a dispatch, fell into a den of 500 snakes, and then drank whisky to cure the bites. It is very evident that this story was told backward.
