Fifty cords of wood wanted at this office on subscription but this don't mean next winter after the wood has been water soaked with two or three months of wet weather. Dry wood goes at this shop and those who want to furnish wood must apply early.

One of the finest and best equipped railroads is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. On our recent trip through South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois we tried this railroad and know whereof we speak. The road is splendidly equipped with fast trains, the coaches are all furnished with the latest improvements and it is a pleasure to ride with these people. They employ none but sober, industrious men who constantly look after the comfort and safety of the traveling public. Anyone traveling in the above or adjoining states should take the Milwaukee road by all means if it is convenient to do so. If you wish information concerning this excellent and popular road, ask any ticket agent or write to C. J. Eddy, General Agent at Portland, Or, and he will gladly give it.—Genesee, Idaho News.

The county clerk's office only took in 75 cents yesterday.

Congressman Hermann has left Washington for Oregon.

The thermometer stood at 81 degrees at one time this afternoon.

Marshal Stiles today placed in the pound three head of cattle and posted notices as required by law.

A Japanese drummer was here today. He represents a large China wholesale house of San Francisco.

The Southern Pacific company is now increasing its freight service to accommodate the summer and fall shipping.

Black McCulloch, formerly of Pendleton, died in Portland yesterday aged 43 years. Deceased was an Elk and a Knight of Pythias. The remains will be interred at Harrisburg Sunday afternoon.

Lebanon Advance: Mr. J. Wasson of this city has donated eighty-eight lots in Wasson's addition to Seattle to Mineral Springs College, Sodaville. This is a very liberal donation, and is quite a lift for the college. The property is now worth about $2,200. The college has already sold six of the lots.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky, for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Osburn & DeLano, druggists.

The Battle Ship Oregon

Has made more kinds of a record for the U. S. Navy in its 18,000 miles trip, than was ever dreamed of. Judging from the demand for it, that little 80 page, vest pocket size, army and navy book just published by the Northern Pacific is making a great record too.

The requests for it reach the N. P. Passenger department at St. Paul in large numbers from every part of the United States. This is a tribute to wide advertising as well as to the enterprising agents of the company and the value of the book. Mr. Chas. S. Fee, the general passenger agent at St. Paul, Minn., will send the book upon receipt of ten cents.

R. McMurphy, General Agent, Eugene.

A ROSTER.—From Bohemia items in Cottage Grove Leader: "R. McMurphy, of Eugene, who is interested with some Wisconsin people in a very promising group of claims, on Fairview mountain, has just made a flying trip to the camp. While there he contracted for 100 feet of tunnel, to be pushed through with double shifts, and if the showing still bids good, will follow with another contract. He expects to be back to the camp next week, with men to build an ore bin and grade a wagon road to connect with the new Hardcastle road. Mr. McMurphy is a rustler and his presence is appreciated in Bohemia. Just before leaving camp he made a cash deposit on another group of claims, in the Eastern part of the camp, for another Wisconsin party."

He's COMING.—The fellow with the dancing bear will soon "hit the town" if one may judge from the following item taken from the Astorian: "The man with the bear arrived in town and gave exhibitions in the afternoon in the lower end of town. He was surrounded or rather the bear was, by a large crowd, who seemed to enjoy the performance. The bear was well trained and so was the master, as he would insist on getting a certain amount of money before opening the performance. They were accompanied by a bulldog. The next to arrive before the season's close will be the man with the monkey."

WANTS TO KEEP THEM.—Joe Branton of Waterville who has 12 of the Linn horses which Claude Branton and Green brought down from Isbarn's corral after the murder of Lion, refuses to give them up to P. H. Stephenson executor of Linn's estate claiming, that he purchased them from Claude, and that he intends to keep them until he can get his money back. Mr. Stephenson returned yesterday to his home at Condon but will if necessary return and by a legal process force Branton to relinquish possession of the animals. All the horses held by Branton have Linn's brand on them.

VERY SAD.—John Whitney writing to the Albany Herald from Manila says: "The saddest thing that has happened to our company is the case of Walter Shelley. While he was on the boat he had the measles and lost the sight of one eye, he had been over it almost a week, when he was asleep one afternoon he had a sharp pain in his eyes and opened them and found that he had lost both of his eyes. The doctor says he thinks there is no hope for him. He will be sent home on the first boat."

DANCING PARTY.—The party at Marlow's park last evening was attended by about 35 couple who enjoyed to its fullest every moment of the evening from the time of leaving the city at 7 p.m. until the return about midnight. Dancing was the program and a most excellent selection of mazy round dances was given. The young people of the city whose vacation is over or not yet begun do not propose to neglect these social features which make an otherwise dull summer a very pleasant one.

DRIFT.—Vol. 1, No. 1, of "Drift" Portland, or it should be said Oregon and the West's new magazine devoted to Oregon history and literature is now being sent out. The article can find inside its cover pages material of genuine merit. If Drift continues to hold the same literary excellence its induction would indicate then indeed it will be a valued magazine. Mrs. Liseben M. Miller is one of the stockholders of the company and a contributor. Articles by Joaquin Miller, Edith Veazie Bryson, C. E. S. Wood, and others are noted.

A MOTION.—In the case of H. C. Owen vs. W. Withers sheriff and Hall & Son, the defendants, have filed a motion asking plaintiff to make his complaint more definite and certain in this, that said plaintiff be required to state who the members of his family are, alleged to reside with plaintiff in the third paragraph of said complaint and to state what relationship said members of said family bear to plaintiff whether they are related by blood or otherwise.

BROWNSVILLE ITEMS.—The Times: "O. P. Cosbow and wife went to Eugene Thursday morning. Miss Grace Murray, of Eugene came down last Saturday to visit with her friend Miss Lulu Powell. W. A. Calder drove to Eugene last Saturday. He was accompanied as far as Springfield by his mother, and they returned home Wednesday morning."

COBURN SAW MILL.—J. C. Goodale of Coburn, was in the city today and informed us that his saw mill would commence cutting lumber next week. And in two weeks that he would be running full blast.

A GOOD CHANCE.—The complete Taylor System of Dress Cutting taught free of charge at Matlock's Lodging House, Room No. 2, corner Eighth and Willamette streets.

WILL SAIL TOMORROW.—The Oregon recruits will sail tomorrow from San Francisco on the steamship Arizona to join their respective companies at Manila.

HORSE WANTED.—A good work horse, weighing 1200 to 1400 lbs. will pay lumber for the animal. Inquire at this office for particulars.

WANTED.—To rent a house with from 5 to 7 rooms; lease to run a year. Inquire at Star Job Office 9th st.

LOST.—A pair of tugs and breast straps on the river road. The finder will please leave them at this office.

To VISIT EUGENE.—Today's Corvallis Times: "Miss Etta Post of Tippecanoe, Iowa, daughter of U. S. late W. T. Post, arrived in Corvallis Wednesday on a visit with her old friends for a few days. She will visit Eugene and other valley towns before leaving for California where she will take a course in the Stanford preparatory."

NAVAL PROMOTION.—Lieut. Commander James K. Cogswell, first officer under Captain Clark, of the Oregon, has been advanced five points for gallantry and meritorious conduct during the recent naval battles. Lieut. Cogswell is a brother of Catherine U. Cogswell, and nephew of Uncle Jack Cogswell, of Ellenton.

BEAUTIFUL HOME FOR SALE.—At a great bargain; 12 miles east on the McKenzie, twenty five acres good ground, fine modern house elegant water and very healthy, church and school near by. IN Green box 477 or Hoffman House.

SERVING NOTICES.—Pursuant to instructions given at the last council meeting Marshal Stiles has served notices on about 20 property holders, who have defective sidewalks. It would appear that an active crusade for good walks had commenced.

LOST.—A reddish yellow pup Gordon and Lowellyn, about 1 year old, between Eugene and Springfield. Reward will be paid for information leading to his return to C. H. ZUMWALT, Irving, Ore.

FOR SALE.—A good, young, gentle milch cow; will be fresh in a few days. Call on S. A. Hulin at Osburn & DeLano's drug store or at residence, corner 8th and Washington sts.

HOP PICKERS WANTED.—John Brown wants 30 hop pickers to commence work Sept 4th; 14 days picking, first class hops.

PHONE.—The Banquet for ice cream, candles, bread, pastry or anything in their line. No 43.

GIRL WANTED.—For general housework. Inquire at this office.

STREET CAR TICKETS.—For sale at the Banquet.

LIFE IN CANTON.

The People and the Customs of a Famous Chinese City.

There are Europeans at Canton, but they live in a settlement outside the native city. Their influence, like their place of abode, is merely upon the outermost edge of the community. Our ideals of civilization have not touched the people. They are today as they have been for centuries past. They have been for centuries past and consider themselves in every way superior to the white "barbarian." Casual visitors to the crowded city visit the various points of interest by means of sedan chairs. They are accompanied by a native guide, who conscientiously goes through a long catalogue of things, wonderful or horrible, in English, which is fluently spoken but imperfectly understood by those to whom it is addressed. The guide is very attentive to those in his care, very polite in his manners, and often possessed of a fair amount of humor.

The streets of the city are of a pattern of immemorial antiquity. None is more than ten feet wide. The houses lean inward from the base and almost meet overhead, shutting out all but the narrowest strip of daylight. Signboards are hung perpendicularly outside every house. They are elaborately carved and gayly decorated with abundance of gold leaf and scarlet or black lacquer. The mystic looking symbols inform the curious that one particular shop is "Prosperity by Heaven," another has "Never Ending Good Luck," while yet another is "The Market of Golden Profits"—the said profits, be it known, going into the pocket of the dealer.

Among the most interesting sights of this unchangeable city are the pawnshops. They are often great, square, solid granite structures, which look more like old border keeps than the residences of accommodating "uncles." The pawnshop fulfills a double purpose. It advances money at an interest varying from 20 to 30 per cent, and it stores in safety within its massive walls those articles of jewelry and adornment which are only required at special times and seasons. On the flat roofs of these circled are piles of stones and jars of vitriol, ready to repel any attack that may be made by thieves, whose methods of plunder are less refined than those of the pawnbrokers.

In the jade stone market we meet with the Chinese parallel to the western diamond. The best stones are very valuable and are brought from Turkestan, the only place in the world where mines of this stone are worked. Every wall to do Chinaman wears a ring, brooch, or bracelet of jade, and the poor, who are unable to purchase the real article, wear ornaments of glass, which are colored in imitation of the more expensive jade.

Shaggy dogs with coal black tongues are disposed of in another market. Fried rat and boiled frog, not to mention friends used puppy, tempt the hungry into the native restaurant. The local "medicine man," adhering to the prescriptions of his ancestors, makes pills and potions, of which the chief ingredients are vixen, deer's horns, petrified bones, petrified crabs, snakes, scales of the armadillo, tigers' bones and lime. When the medicines do not cure, they kill, and whether the patient lives or dies he does so knowing that at any rate no later foreigner has had anything to do with the strength or quality of his medical diet.—European Magazine, London.
