OREGONIAN FINANCIAL WISDOM

Anyone in search of basic monetary science should not pass by the Oregonian office. It stands for "sound money" which it defines as gold. No silver or paper rags are wanted, theoretically speaking, at the Oregonian editorial rooms. However at the counting room desk the cashier takes in the stuff that is despised by his superiors who have little esteem for anything that is not "actual" money. Only gold for them is worth speaking of when discussing sound financial wisdom. Here is a late Oregonian effort:

"'Money,' says the Salem Sentinel, 'is credit in circulation.' But money is not credit in circulation. It is value in itself, not credit at all. There are substitutes for money, which are credits in circulation; but to be exchangeable for things of value they must be redeemable in actual money; whose value in turn is the material of which it is made."

The World almanac for 1899 gives the gold coin of the United States coined or issued up to October 1, 1898 at $785,041,686, and all other money in use coined, issued, and in circulation at $1,676,798,829. According to Oregonian logic this vast amount of silver and credit circulation rests on less than one-half its amount of gold; in other words $785,000,000 in gold must take care of $2,460,000,000 of money of all kinds in circulation, not to mention the billions of dollars of accounts and indebtedness that are held throughout the country.

Never was a greater absurdity promulgated by a gold standard advocate.

BRYAN ON BANQUETS

Thinks the Price Should Admit the Rank and File.

Wm J Bryan writes to the Knoxville, Tenn, Journal and Advertiser anent the New York democracy $10 a plate banquet to which he was invited:

"One of the most famous banquets of ancient times was the Babylonian feast, given by the king to a thousand of his lords on the last night of his reign. This banquet has furnished to literature two familiar expressions, 'a Belshazzar feast,' and 'the handwriting on the wall.'

"One of the noted banquets of modern times was the dinner given at Delmonico's in honor of Mr Blaine, near the close of his campaign. It was so widely criticised by political opponents that some thought it lost Mr Blaine enough votes to change the result of the election in the state of New York.

"Whether a banquet is cheap or expensive depends partly upon the financial standing of the hosts and partly upon the purpose to be served. If we should chance to have an attorney-general so kindly disposed toward the trusts as to merit their hospitality, and the trust magnates should tender him a banquet, such a banquet would probably not be characterized by simplicity, although simplicity would character those who would expect such an attorney-general to extinguish the trusts. Or, to add another illustration, if the secretary of the treasury should ever be summoned to New York to receive instructions in regard to the financial policy to be pursued by the government, he would doubtless partake of a dinner somewhat commensurate with the profits which the financiers would expect to realize from his policy. A high price is likely to exclude from the banquet table all except the leaders, while a low price recognizes the sovereignty of the voter and brings the political benefits of the banquet within reach of a larger proportion of the members of the party."

Linn county has a monumental illustration of cheek. A Lebanon man stole a cow, killed her and peddled the beef about, some of it to the owner. It is too bad to reward such enterprise with incarceration in the jail.

When Havana police stopped a public ball the limit of Cuban patience was reached. Then rioting commenced. Instead of curtailing their amusements treat them like children and give them more pleasure to keep them quiet.

Girls who have to stand on their feet most of the time work as hard as any day-laborer yet they do not get what is rightly called exercise. Close, confining, indoor occupation gives no exhilaration to the nervous system nor active circulation to the blood. It wears, tears and drags a woman's life away. The whole physical system grows sluggish and torpid under it.

No wonder so many sales girls and factory girls and housewives suffer from indigestion and constipation and bilious troubles. No wonder they are subject to the diseases of the delicate special organism of their sex. The wonder is rather that they can stand it as well as they do.

But "a poor weak woman," as she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most eminent medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Occupying this position for thirty years he has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only permanent digestive and nutrient tonic. The two medicines taken alternately, form the most perfect and successful course of treatment ever prescribed for female troubles complicated with a sluggish, overwrought, nervous, diseased constitution. In severe constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be occasionally taken with the others. They never gripe.
