TRUE WORDS.—Jacksonville Times: "Dr A I Nickilo, a prominent citizen of Lane county, who has been a resident of Oregon for many years, and did so much toward rescuing it from the dominion of the treacherous redskins, says that if the government could pay $20,000,000 for the Philippines, it surely ought to be able to pay the Indian war veterans a small pension during the remainder of their lives. It was principally through them that Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, in fact the great Northwest, became a part of our domain. Truer words than those could not be spoken." HOUSE BURNED.—The residence of P F Davis, about one mile east of Lane, caught fire yesterday forenoon, presumably from a defective flue, and burned to the ground. Most of the household goods were removed. The building was insured. ELKS IN CONVENTION St Louis, June 20.—The city is full of the B P O Elks attending the grand lodge. There are 516 lodges of this order showing a membership of 55,000, a gain of 76 new lodges and a membership of 11,000. Grand Exalted Ruler John Galvin said in response to a speech of welcome by the mayor: "The order of Elks has been more misunderstood, more censured and more abused by those who do not know it than has any other organization in existence. On the other hand, it has been more praised, more commended and more loved by those who do know it than any other organization. Many people have thought that it was merely a convivial organization, with no serious objects or purposes. This is a great mistake. The ground-work and foundation of the order is the great golden rule of life, 'Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you.'" A Shakespearean Discovery. The most scholarly men of the world have devoted years to the study of one of Shakespeare's greatest creations, Hamlet, but have discovered by the ablest minds of all countries. What his malady was, has vexed more than one scientific brain. It remains for America and the producers of America's greatest remedy—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—to make the discovery. Nothing ailed Hamlet but indigestion, which upset his liver, polluted his blood and made him nervous. If it had been possible for Hamlet to have had Hostetter's Stomach Bitters he would have been a different character. It makes and keeps stomachs strong, and with hearty digestion and pure blood no disease is possible. It is for both men and women. All druggists sell it. Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead, so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shiftest fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars, and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. A PROPOSITION.—Albany Herald: "The proposition which the Curtis Lumber Co, has made to the people of Albany, to invest $250,000 in a big saw mill plant to be located in this city, provided the citizens of the city will purchase the necessary land for the site, is one in which the people of the city are vitally interested. This is the largest industrial enterprise ever proposed in Albany. The company has already invested over $60,000 in timber lands and other property, and propose to start a lumbering industry which will employ 450 to 500 men and in which a quarter of a million dollars will be invested in a plant alone. The Curtis Company is composed of men of ample capital, who are prepared to carry out all that they undertake." FOREST RANGERS.—Tuesday's Salem Statesman: "J C C Lewis, D A Carter, L M Ormsby and W D King leave this morning for the hot springs in the Cascade reserve, where they will begin the work of forest rangers under the direction of Supt S B Ormsby. They will work northward from the hot springs, and will spend the summer in the mountains, guarding the interests of the government, and protecting the forests from fires." RECEPTION TO PASTOR.—Last night at the C P church a reception was given to the new pastor and wife, Rev and Mrs J F Claycomb. PLEASANT HILL Closing Exercises of the Public Schools. The closing exercises of the Pleasant Hill school took place on Friday evening, the 16 inst, in the large double school room which was profusely decorated for the occasion. The house was filled to overflowing with patrons and friends of the school, in evidence of the interest taken in education by the people of this place. A lengthy program consisting of recitations, essays and music—vocal and instrumental—was admirably carried out and reflected great credit on the pupils as well as on the teacher, Prof. G W Milam, who has done so much to place the school among the very best in the county. Throughout the entire evening, perfect order prevailed particularly during the time occupied by the graduating class which consisted of five members. Ralph Hemphill, the youngest of the class, rendered "National Characters," and was generously applauded. Dalton Baughman read in a faultless manner, an essay on "The Uses of Air," which showed deep research and the most thorough preparation, and impressed all as a scholarly effort. Miss Ina McKenzie's recitation on "The Choice of Books," was remarkably well done, and gave evidence of careful drill. Miss Elsa Parks read an essay on "Abraham Lincoln," which was both biographical and eulogistic. She was loudly applauded and received many handsome bouquets. Carl Baughman as class orator and valedictorian, surprised even those who knew him best, by his eloquence, his manner and his splendid delivery, and it is predicted that, before many years, he will be heard from in the higher fields of oratory. The class address was delivered by Supt Miller who gave some excellent advice and complimented the class upon the thoroughness of their work, as evidenced by the examination through which they had just passed. The presentation of diplomas closed the exercises, which would have done credit to many higher institutions of learning. A VISITOR.
