A COLD BLOODED PRISONER

Gashed Himself With Almost Fatal Wounds, But Kept Quiet.

Joseph Willard, a prisoner in the Salem county jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of killing T D Perry, Tuesday morning attempted to commit suicide. He cut gashes in both arms, on his leg, in his neck and made a deep stab for his heart. He narrowly missed severing the jugular vein and struck within an inch of his heart. The wounds are not considered fatal. The knife with which the deed was committed was an ordinary pocket knife borrowed from the jailer for the alleged purpose of trimming an ingrowing nail.

Willard's explanation of his act is that he had no thought of suicide until he awoke in the early morning when, after thinking over his troubles and the hardships endured by his family, he yielded to the impulse to kill himself. After making the gashes in his arms, he dipped his finger in his blood and marked the hour of the night on the white cell walls. He made little noise, and there is every indication that he intended to do a thorough job.

Two Pointed Questions.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public, both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by W L Delano.

MASONIC ELECTION.—At the regular meeting of Eugene Lodge, No 11, A F and A M held last evening in Masonic Temple, the following officers were elected: P E Snodgrass, W M; S S Spencer, S W; L T Harris, J W; F W Osburn, treasurer; J F Robinson, secretary, V McFarland, T and L. The appointive officers will be announced at the next meeting.

The residence of that old veteran attorney, John Kelsay, now deceased, at Corvallis, has been bought at sheriff's sale by J. Fred Yates for $1000.

The report from the Southern Oregon Society, just filed in the office of the secretary of state, shows that the total receipts for 1899 were $1,045 55, and the total disbursements $1,070 09, leaving a deficit of $24 44. The state appropriation for premiums was $600, and out of this $576 80 was paid, leaving $23 20 in the treasury.

Fuel for Force

Your body must have force, nervous force, muscular force, digestive force. Fat is the fuel used to supply this force. If you are weak in any of these forces, use more fuel.

The cod-liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is the best fuel for this work. Your nerves grow stronger, your muscular power increases, and your digestion improves.

THE MOBILE BOERS.

"A Front in the Air" At Tugela River Battle.

A dispatch to the New York Tribune from London under date of Dec 20 says: Bennett Burleigh sends the Tribune an account of the Tugela battle which expands the information conveyed from other sources. General Buller did not definitely mention that he had cavalry and artillery with both flanks, and the inference was that all the cavalry was to the east engaged in stemming a Boer turning movement in that direction. Mr Burleigh says definitely that both cavalry and artillery were with each wing.

"The British front extended a distance of six miles, while the marvelous rapidity of the Boer movements gave them, as it were, a front in the air, enabling them to change and diversify positions as occasion demanded. The Times correspondent says the Boers had only 10 guns, and adds that the British naval guns made excellent practice yet the Boer artillery did not seem to have been silenced, and apparently Colonel Long's intention was to get within range of the Boer guns, which were making havoc of the British infantry."

The List of the New Ones, Etc.

Blue River—Taken from a part of McKenzie precinct.

Wallace.—Taken from West and East Cottage Grove.

Saginaw.—Taken from East and West Cottage Grove and Creswell.

Fairmount. — Appropriated from South Eugene No. 1.

Blanton.—Taken from South Eugene No. 1 and South Eugene No. 2.

Bailey.—Taken from South Eugene No. 2 and South Eugene No. 3.

Zumwalt.—Appropriated from North Eugene No. 3.

Five Rivers.—Formed from a portion of Lake Creek precinct and new territory. This precinct is in the northwestern portion of the county.

Discontinued.—North Eugene No. 3, South Eugene No. 3.

Names Changed.—North Eugene No. 3 to Zumwalt, and South Eugene No. 3 to Bailey.

This makes 50 precincts in Lane county.

The time set for establishing new precincts and changing the boundaries of the old was set for the January meeting of commissioners. The board convenes January 3. The registration law provides that registration shall begin January 2. This would cause confusion as the precinct boundaries should be fixed before registration begins.

In order to obviate any such difficulty the boundaries as agreed upon have been sent out in typewritten form in advance to each precinct so that every voter will know just where he belongs. The boundaries will then be declared official when the commissioners meet.

American Active Sympathizers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Charles D. Pierce, consul in this city from the Orange Free State, said last night that applicants for enlistment in the Boer army were still visiting his office in a steady stream.

"I cannot do anything for them," said he, "because I have no authority to take such a course. I refer them to our consul at The Hague, and tell them they will have to pay their own expenses, which would amount to about $400, in getting to South Africa. The majority of the applicants are American soldiers who fought in the Spanish-American war."

Asked what he thought about the way things were going in South Africa, Mr. Pierce said:

"The British can send 1,800,000 troops down there instead of 180,000 if they want to," he said, "and still they won't get the upper hand for a year or two. It is not the side with the most troops that is going to win, but the side that shoots straightest."

Spitting Blood

"I used to cough a great deal and spit blood, and my neighbors in Dayton, Ohio, where I live, said among themselves that I had consumption, although they did not tell me so to my face, for fear of making me despondent. I kept on coughing and trying different sorts of medicines, but nothing seemed to reach my trouble until I got hold of a bottle of Acker's English Remedy. I prayed for health all the time, and my prayers were answered as soon as I began taking this celebrated English expectorant and tonic. Since my recovery I have told hundreds of sufferers from coughs, colds and weak lungs that Acker's English Remedy would cure them. Some of them won't try it, and it does seem to me terrible when anyone deliberately refuses to be cured. There ought to be a law compelling consumptives to take it. Even if they don't care for their own lives, the public's welfare should be considered. Don't you think so too? I hope such a law will soon be enforced."
