"JOHN P. ROBINSON, HE."

Something About a Character Whom Lowell Satisfied.
John P. Robinson, the subject of one of James Russell Lowell's "Hosea Biglow's" satires, was a brilliant lawyer of the town of Lowell, a scholarly gentleman and a wit. It is said of him that he had read Homer's "Iliad" so much that he could recite nearly the whole of it from memory. Mr. Robinson was a favorite stump speaker about the period of 1840. He was a Whig and had the ambition to represent his district in congress.

In 1842 he received the Whig nomination for this position. It was a bad year for Whig candidates, as the Liberty party had then begun to present nominees against it. A majority was at that time required to elect, and there was no choice at the regular election. The Whig party, always timid, feared Mr. Robinson could not be elected on further trial and induced him to withdraw from the contest that it might present a candidate more acceptable to the anti-slavery men. This was a severe disappointment to Mr.
Robinson. He became disgusted with the Whigs and bitter toward the anti-slavery advocates.

A few years later, after General Caleb Cushing had been in the Mexican war, he was nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for governor of Massachusetts, upon which Mr. Robinson wrote a letter declaring he should leave the Whig party and support General Cushing. This induced Lowell's poem. Governor Briggs was then the Whig candidate for governor, and Lowell had two refrains to his verses. The first read:

So John P.
Robinson, he Says he shan't vote for Governor B.
And the second:
So John P.
Robinson, he Says he shall vote for General C.
—Boston Herald.

STAGE KISSES ARE GENUINE.

The Public Demands Realism Even in Stage Lovemaking.

"Embraces and kisses are rehearsed with the extreme care," writes Franklin Eyles of "The Rehearsal of a Play" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "They must look sufficiently fervid. It is a curious sight—that of two players who are to express the ardent love which Shakespeare has written for his 'Romeo and Juliet,' but who at rehearsal, in modern clothes and no accessories of glamour, practice a kiss as mechanically and unfeelingly as though it were, as it is then, utterly devoid of sentiment. There must be no hesitation or clumsiness. Romeo is not permitted to decide whether to throw both arms around his sweetheart or only one or which, nor may Juliet be shy or forward, yielding or resisting, as she chooses. The director will place their arms for them if they do not themselves make a picturesque exhibit of tenderness.

"And the kiss? Shall it be delivered by the wooer on the lips of the won-or on the brow or cheek? That question is considered and settled. Are kisses on the stage genuine? Well, not at rehearsals, except, maybe, once or twice, in order to show the effect fully.
An actress would resent a real kiss at a rehearsal except when necessary.
For the satisfaction of natural curiosity on that point it may be told right here that most of the kisses in the public performances of plays are actual kisses."

Where Tigers Fear Men.

A cheerful place is Sorapoujee, in India. The rainfall there often is as great in one afternoon in the rainy season as it is in New York state in a whole year, and tigers and leopards are as plentiful as dogs are on New York's east side. On account of the tremendous dampness the cattle have to be driven to the top of the hills, so that they shall not get their feet too wet, and the tigers and leopards climb these high altitudes also, because they are imbued with the kindly desire to save those cattle from pneumonia and other ills by eating them carefully and with due enjoyment.

As there are no forests on the hills the tigers prowl about all night in the open, lying concealed during the day in the limestone caves, the coal pits and between the crevices of the rocks.
The residents come upon them in all manner of odd nooks and corners so unexpectedly that the beasts are as much alarmed as themselves and usually scamper off in one direction, their disturbers flying in the opposite one.
No one stirs out at nighttime without a powerful lantern or torch, for, as a rule, wild beasts will not come near a light, though this rule does not hold good in all cases.—New York Herald.

Health the Mainpring of Success.

The chief essential of success for a young man is what the vast majority of young men think about the least—that is, good health and a sound constitution. That is the first thing; nothing precedes it. In the battle for success that should be a young man's first thought—not his abilities nor his work, but his health. That is the basis, the cornerstone, of all. Abilities cannot bring health, but health may and generally does develop ability.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Biological.

Friend-I suppose there are a great many people who owe you their lives.
Doctor—they say they do, but the relatives always kick like thunder when I accidentally collect a bill of that kind.—San Francisco Examiner.

When It Doesn't Turn.

A woman's silk stock is spun by a worm, but if the worm tries to crawl on it the woman shrieks.—Chicago Record.

PLAYED OUT.

Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking fat, pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of impure blood. No matter how it became so, it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Purifier has never failed to cure scrofulous or syphilitic poisons, or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. For

"SOUR DOUGH HOTEL."

Letter Head From the "Best House North of Mexico."

Adam Atopel has received a letter from his friend, G. M. Stevens, who is now in Dawson. Mr. Stevens states that he is doing well, and expects to be considerably ahead after the spring campaign.

The curious thing about the letter is the letter head on which it is written.
It bears the stamp of the "Sour Dough Hotel," 1333 Levee avenue. According to the letter head it is the best house north of Mexico; first class in every particular. Every known food, water excepted, for sale at the bar. Private entrance for ladies by ladder to the rear. Rates, one ounce per day, (Indians and negroes charged double).
Special rates to ministers and the gambling "perfection."

Following are the house rules:
"Guests will be provided with breakfast and dinner, but must rustle their own lunch."
"Spiked boots must be removed at night."
"Dogs not allowed in the bunks."
"Candles and hot water charged extra."
"Towels changed weekly."
"Craps, chuck-luck, studhorse poker and black jack games run by the management."
"Dogs bought and sold."
The following cheerful information is printed in red ink:
"Insect powder for sale at the bar."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr.
John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated of him as follows:
"I was in a most dreadful condition My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day.
Three physicians had given me up.
Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Linn's drug store.

Mostly About Women.

Some women are not contented on being the "better half," they want to be the whole thing.
The fellows who know the most about how to handle a wife are those who never had any.
More women would climb the ladder of fame were it not for so many gawky men standing around at the bottom.

The Best in the World.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we pur-us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—

THE HORTON MURDERS.

Two More Indians Held for Complicity in the Affair.

SKAGWAY, April 5.—Two more Indians were put behind the bars in Skagway yesterday for being implicated in the recent murder of Mr and Mrs Bert Horton, of Eugene, Oregon.
One Indian was arrested at Sitka and one at Haines.

The Indian chief at Kluckwan has made all the men of his tribe whom the authorities want in this case come out and give themselves up. They have responded, and even made part of the trip to jail alone. Twelve Indians are in jail here in connection with the Horton case. They comprise the entire number present at the murder. The trial may be held here this month.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs.
George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes "this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaran-

Do You Cough?

"I guess I used to be like everybody else.
When I caught cold, I just let it alone, thinking it would cure itself in a few days; of course the coughing and spitting of mucus sometimes lasted several weeks, but after a while the trouble would subside. I always noticed, however, that each cold was worse than the one before. My throat seemed to get weaker, and the least change in the weather started the coughing again. The last cold was the most severe of all. I was really frightened. Cough drops and home treatment did no good. A friend told me about Acker's English Remedy. I got a bottle, and you never saw the like of the way it acted. Before the bottle was gone I was well. My throat felt as strong and well as could be. Since then I have had no more trouble. I think Acker's English Remedy so strengthens the delicate lining of the throat that it easily resists the changes in temperature, and builds up the constitution as well."
