LIMITS OF SEED VITALITY.

No Truth in Stories of Germination After Thousands of Years.

The statement is frequently made in the popular press, said Professor L. H. Pammel, government botanist, "that seeds have retained their vitality for a long time. Thus it is stated that wheat under some conditions has preserved its vitality for 50 or 100 years. It has frequently been stated that wheat taken from Egyptian monuments germinated, but in not a single case is this germination authenticated. Not a single grain taken from an ancient Egyptian sarcophagus and sown by various persons has ever been known to germinate and the conditions for preserving the seed in these Egyptian monuments are better than in the soil. They are protected from the air and variations of temperature. The experiment which has been most talked of is that of the Count of Sternberg at Prague. He had received the grains from a trustworthy traveler, who told him that they were taken from a sarcophagus. It is said that two of these seeds germinated, but it is a well known fact that impostures are perpetrated by the people who dispose of these seeds. In some cases they have even stripped corn or maize into these sarcophagi.

"Many experiments have been made, not only in this country, but in Europe, to determine the vitality of various grain seeds. Thus, barley retains its vitality better than any other cereal, and this is said to retain its vitality from eight to ten years. In the case of wheat 90 to 100 per cent germinates in from one to four years; in five to seven years, 85 to 87 per cent. In the case of rye the percentage of germination in five years dropped to 55 per cent; in seven years, 38 per cent; nine years, 13 per cent. In the case of corn, I made some experiments a few years ago to determine the vitality and found that corn which was kept in tightly closed vessels at the age of 20 years had lost all its power of germination. Experiments also indicate that corn kept even a few years became largely deteriorated and lost much of its power of germination. Even grass seeds which have been buried at some depth in the soil and in vessels tightly sealed failed to germinate after a dozen or 15 years."—Chicago Chronicle.

BOOKS' NARROW ESCAPES.

Virgil's "Enclid." Works of Aristotle and Talmud saved by Good Luck.
Three of the greatest books in the world have narrowly escaped destruction, the "Enclid" of Virgil, the works of Aristotle and the great body of Jewish tradition represented by the Talmud.

It is recorded that Virgil on his deathbed sought to burn the only copy of the "Enclid," as he had not revised it, and when he was told in this he ordered his executors, Varro and Tucca, not to give it to the world, a direction which was disregarded by order of the Emperor Augustus.

The works of Aristotle suffered from neglect. They lay many years buried in a cellar, and when, by mere accident, they were at last unearthed, they were so damaged by damp and dirt that in many passages they are hopelessly corrupt. How great would have been the loss of this work to the human race may be judged from the fact that everything that was known in the middle ages of the arts and sciences was derived directly from these writings.

The Talmud nearly became extinct through persecution. The possession of the Talmud, by a long series of edicts extending over many centuries, was made penal, and the book itself was burned. No fewer than 24 wagon loads of Talmud manuscript were burned in France in 1244.—Stray Stories.

The Model's Hard Trial.
Miss Siddal had a trying experience. In order that the artist might get the proper set of the garments in water and the right atmosphere and aqueous effects, she had to lie in a large bath filled with water, which was kept at an even temperature by lamps placed beneath. One day, just as the picture was nearly finished, the lamps went out unnoticed by the artist, who was so intensely absorbed in his work that he thought of nothing else, and the poor lady was kept floating in the cold water till she was nearly benumbed. She herself never complained of this, but the result was that she contracted a severe cold, and her father, an auctioneer at Oxford, wrote to Millais, threatening him with an action of £50 damages for his carelessness. Millais paid the doctor's bill, and Miss Siddal, quickly recovering, was none the worse for her cold bath.—Life of Sir John Millais.

Tommy's Speech.
Sue (who has just been asked to play something on the piano)—I really can't play anything.
Tommy—But, I say, Sue, why don't you play that piece you spoke to me about?
Sue—What piece?
Tommy—Why, that one you told me to ask you to play when we had company 'cause you knew it better'n any of the others. I forgot the name!
Then Tommy was sent to bed.—Kansas City Independent.

SATISFIED NOW.

A Farmer Knows That $125 Is More Than $100.

A truly loyal republican paid his taxes today to the sheriff amounting to about $125. He was surprised at the amount, as he had been reading the Register, which claimed his taxes would be less than last year on the same property.

"How is this, Mr. Sheriff? I am paying nearly $25 more taxes on the same identical property than I did last year."
The Sheriff—"The levy is 23 mills this year, while it was only 20 mills last year."

taxpayer—"The Register said I would pay less taxes this year than last year, but I now thoroughly understand that $125 is more than $100. I am going to stop this by voting the 'Citizens' ticket from top to bottom. It is pledged to economy in county and state affairs. What do I care about tariff, etc? Good-by."

A Mystery Cleared Up.

Lebanon Express-Advance May 8

The body of J. S. Olsen, the man who was lost in the mountains two weeks ago, was found last Sunday morning, by Jack Keeney and Ed. Simons, six miles above Sweet Home, within half a mile of Weddell's saw mill and within 200 yards of Alma Morris' cabin. He was found lying by a large log, with one arm under his head. His watch and $22.50 was found in his pockets.

The coroner's jury returned the following verdict: "We find that the death of the deceased, J. S. Olsen, was caused by exposure and exhaustion, he having been a chronic sufferer from heart disease. Judging from the appearance of his surroundings where he lay under the log, he must have been dead for a period of eight days. We also find that he was wounded on his left foot. This undoubtedly caused him to be very lame and was the cause of his not finding his way out."

Portland Registration.

Portland Telegram, May 8

Electioners are crowding into the registration office at the rate of over 200 a day, and Clerk Steele is of the opinion that over 17,000 will have signed the big book before Tuesday night, May 15. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the total number who have registered in Multnomah county was 15,659. This is 90 less than the total number who voted for governor in 1888, and 2562 less than the presidential vote of 1896. The registration clerks are kept busy from morning until night, and as the closing hour approaches the size of the crowd increases. There are many in Multnomah county who have voted for years, some have even held office, who cannot vote now and have been unable to register because they had never taken out citizens' papers.

State Sunday School Convention.
The Oregon State Sunday School Convention will be held in Portland June 13-15, 1900. The following worldwide Sunday school workers will be present: Marion Lawrence, of Toledo, O., general secretary of the International Sunday School Convention, Dr. J. L. Hurlburt, of New York, general secretary of the Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. R. G. Seymour, of Philadelphia, Bible and missionary secretary of the Baptist Publication Society, Rev. Alexander Henry, J. Arthur Johnson, of Sunday School Times, E. O. Excell, who has led the music at the great conventions for many years. Entertainment will be provided for all delegates.

Bids Wanted.

Sealed bids will be received at the store of B D Paine & Co until May 10, 1900, for graveling road from county road to Masonic cemetery. Gravel to be clean and fine, such as is generally used on the streets of Eugene. Bids will be given per yard, to be measured on wagon at place of destination, and work to be completed by or before May 29, 1900.

Mining is being carried on quite actively in Southern Oregon. There are 125 hydraulic mines in active operation which are tributary to Grants Pass alone, and 15 quartz mills, and at least 300 quartz locations on which assessment work is being done.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

Rev. G. A. Blair Has Severed His Connection With Portland C. P. Church.

Portland Telegram, May 8

Rev. G. A. Blair has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. At a recent meeting of the members, it was accepted with much regret. Mr. Blair will sever his connection with the church July 16. His action was necessitated by the poor condition of his health. He has felt that a physical collapse was near at hand, and he decided on a six months' vacation.

At the meeting at which the resignation was accepted, resolutions of regret at losing so faithful a pastor and assurances of esteem were passed. Dr. Blair will leave this evening for Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian churches of the United States. Prospects are bright for the appointment of Dr. Blair as superintendent of missions. The position will be filled at the assembly, and Mr. Blair has a number of friends in the East who are supporting him for the position.

Spanish War Buttons.

When Manila was captured the Second Oregon was the only regiment to enter the city and receive the surrender of the Spanish army and arms. A number of fine old bronze cannons were captured at that time. One of them was brought home and this splendid old bronze, cast in Spain more than a century ago, is now being made into souvenir buttons by a committee of the volunteers, and the buttons are being sold for the benefit of the fund to erect a handsome and artistic monument to the memory of the soldiers of Oregon who lost their lives in the Spanish and Filipino war. The button is made with a button back for men and boys and a pin back for ladies and girls. The genuineness of the buttons is attested by the certificate of Brigadier-General O'Summers. This is a valuable souvenir of the war, such as every adult and child in Oregon would be pleased to possess, especially as the entire proceeds of the sale will go to erect a splendid monument to serve as a perpetual object lesson in patriotism to the youth of the state. The buttons sell in any quantity at 25 cents each. The secretary of the committee is Captain H. L. Wells, box 347, Portland, Oregon.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by W. L. DeLano, druggist, guaranteed.

For You to Read

"What puzzled me in the beginning was that I kept losing flesh without any cause for it that I could see. I had a little trouble with my stomach, too, and after a while began to grow weaker and to cough. The cough, I thought, would soon go away and cure itself, but it didn't. It grew worse, and then I began to spit up a peculiar-looking substance. I never thought of consumption, but one day I had a hemorrhage, and then was frightened in earnest and did just what you would do. I rushed to the doctor. He was either too busy, or something else, for he didn't do me any good. I kept going on down hill, and the outlook was bad. Then I took a different turn, however, when I heard of Acker's English Remedy for Consumption, for I took it, and it not only cured my coughing and spitting, but also built up my whole system. I took on permanent flesh, and today am just as healthy a man as you can find in a week's travel. You may be sure I always keep Acker's English Remedy in the house, and it is a good thing I do so, for one night my youngest child was seized with croup. That hoarse, wheezy cough was the first signal, and I lost no time in giving the poor little sufferer proper doses of this grand medicine. In almost no time the disease was under control, and my child was saved. I advise every parent to have a bottle handy all the time. It serves the same purpose in keeping croup out of the house that a good lock and key serve to keep burglars out. It is both an expectorant and a tonic. It cured me of consumption and my child of croup, and I know what I am talking about." (Signed) Hon. M. Hovan, picture frame manufacturer, 142 Center Street, New York.
