WHO'S THE MAN?

The People Getting Impatient Over the Delayed Election Returns.

The election was held one week ago today, and it is an impossibility at this hour to tell for a certainty who has been elected to the office of county judge, Mr Kincaid or Mr Knox, and only the official count will settle the vexed question and, again, the irregularity and delay has caused many people to talk a contest and a recount of ballots will be necessary to determine the matter. Letters were received from L P Tallman, one of the judges of election, and also one from Mr Richardson, clerk, saying they were positive the Gleneta tally sheet had been sent in. Mr J N Sutherland, another of the judges is in town, and he is also positive the count was sent in. The other judge was Jason Neeley, chairman, and a letter is expected from him in regard to the matter tonight. If he sends in the missing tally sheet it is likely the remainder of the official count will be canvassed tomorrow morning.
