"FREE SILVER, OR GOOD SOUND MONEY?"

The attention of the Register and the German resident of Germany who "has several thousand dollars loaned out and is anxious to know if it will be "free silver or good sound money," "and whether or not to call it in" on account of presidential election prospects next fall, as reported by the Register the other day, are called to the following statement of money issued by the United States to October 1, 1899. It is taken from the World Almanac for 1900, a reliable authority:

GOLD.

Gold coin	$ 867,832,172
ALL OTHER MONEY.
Silver coin	557,645,709
Silver Certificates	405,197,504
Treasury notes	91,167,280
United States Notes (greenbacks)	346,681,016
Currency certificates	16,100,000
Gold certificates	135,501,119
National bank notes	243 272,223
Total all other money	$1,796,664,951
SUMMARY.
Total stock of all kinds of money in the United States October 1, 1899	$2,664,496,024

If the German gentleman has the least idea that the gold coinage, which represents less than one-third of the money of the country, and that mostly locked up in vaults, stands solely responsible for the well being and prosperity of the country he should call his loan in as quickly as possible, forego the 10 per cent interest he is getting and take it over to Germany where he can probably get 4 per cent.

But we should not censure the poor German, who is probably ignorant of our financial system. A great party of this nation avers that gold is the only "sound money," and would build our financial structure on a money metal that represents less than one-third of the money that is required to do the business of the country. And the owners of the gold control that party, make its platforms, and dictate the legislation that shall be enacted when it is in power.

Douglas county has a veritable curiosity in the shape of a justice of the peace. A man was found dead near the railroad and the Roseburg justice held an inquest, a verdict of death from natural causes being returned by the jury. The Riddle precinct justice thought his jurisdiction was invaded and eased his official mind through digging up the buried body and going through the forms of an inquest, though the personal effects found on the cadaver were not produced.

Spokane is worked up over the manner in which the census of that town was taken. It proposes to supplement the work of the government enumerators by taking a census under the direction of a well organized band of young men who will not overlook anything; and who can, if put to it, find things that do not exist at all. The enumeration shows that Spokane has a population of only 28,000. Therefore, the necessity for another count.

The Democratic primaries have been held in every county in Montana. Senator Clark's friends carry nineteen counties and divide the delegation in one. The Daly forces carried four counties. Not a single state officer who signed the protest against Senator Clark being admitted to a seat in the United States senate is sent to his county convention or state convention. Clark will head the delegation to Kansas City.

Judge Fulton was re elected county judge of Sherman county at the recent election. He has held the office for twelve years, and though the county is strongly Republican gains election as a Democrat.

The population of China numbers about 400,000,000 souls, and of these the Boxers come to the front with the comparatively small item in the grand aggregation of only 11,000,000.

The Washington state law gives the county auditor the power to reduce the rate of interest on county warrants. The Whitman county auditor announces a reduction from 6 to 5 per cent.

The fact that one half of the lumber produced in the world is manufactured into boxes is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a reality.

After Marriage

They are going to be together just as much as before; going to ride the wheel, take little pleasure jaunts, etc., enjoying everything together. Isn't that what many a young couple promise each other? And yet, how very soon the wife begins to say "No, I don't think I care to go. You go alone, dear." Young women don't reckon on the great physical changes which follow marriage. How can they when they are allowed to grow up in entire ignorance of vital physiological facts? They feel languid, weak and nervous. Sometimes there is headache and backache. The pulse no more leaps in answer to the thought of a spin on the wheel. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, know how promptly the languor, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured by this medicine. Many husbands write in gratitude to Dr. Pierce for the medicine which gives them back the wife's companionship, as it gives her back her health.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, of Hillsburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife suffered with female irregularity; was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon to delicate women."

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my house hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price. G. H. WILSON, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co, Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. L. DeLano.

Prevented a Tragedy

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at W L DeLano's Drug Store.

Bunsen and His Veal Cutlets.

Absentmindedness was a marked trait in Bunsen's character, and many amusing anecdotes are told of the difficulties it brought him. The statement that he remained a bachelor because he forgot his wedding day is of course apocryphal, as is the other about his putting on a suit of garments on the top of others that he had forgotten to take off, but the following came under my personal observation:

Bunsen used to dine every day at a little table reserved for him in a restaurant connected with the hotel in which I lived. One spring he fell into the habit of ordering veal cutlets and asparagus as the chief item for his meal, and without reflection or feeling that a change of diet would be agreeable he continued to order "kalbs cotelette and spargel" daily for several weeks until one day the kellner gravely informed him that asparagus was no longer in season and could not be supplied.

Bunsen seemed to be immensely taken aback and to realize for the first time that he had been dining on one dish for a long period. He soon recovered himself, however, and asked the waiter for the bill of fare, from which, after careful examination, he ordered mutton chops and peas, and this was his daily diet up to the time I changed my hotel.—Science.

Her Pet Superstition.

It is inconvenient at times, to say the least, to be the superstitious woman. No matter how hurried she may be, she feels obliged to take time to dispel the hoodoo. And, as if there were not enough signs and superstitions already well known to keep the ordinary person busy, those who traveled down town on the west side elevated train the other morning learned of another. Somewhere up town a woman came into the car and walked its full length before she found a vacant seat. At Twenty-third street she absentmindedly fell in line with the other shoppers and started toward the door. She was almost out when the thought of what she was doing flashed into her mind. The idle passengers, ready to be interested in anything, were surprised to see her right about face and start toward the other end of the car. She reached the door just as the guard closed the gate. A little verbal persiflage ensued.

"Let me out! Let me out!" she commanded. But the guard stood firm. "Why didn't you get out the other door?" he said. "I will go out the same way I came in," she said, with great dignity. And down she rode to the next station, all on account of her pet superstition.—New York Sun.

The Courage of Hawks.

One female bird in her first season took 82 rabbits, 3 hares and 2 magpies, and in the next year 210 rabbits, 2 leverets, 11 partridges, 4 magpies and 2 squirrels. A goshawk will go on catching rabbit after rabbit, or take five or six birds in succession, for they do not tire like falcons. Nothing comes amiss to them. Hares, landrails, pheasants, rabbits, waterfowls, ducks, rats, stoats, weasels, mice, even a hedgehog is not despised.

Their headlong courage is simply astonishing. They will charge into a quickset hedge till they have to be cut out, or dive among rocks and bowlders. Captain Bland of Draycott, near Stoke-on-Trent, had a goshawk which stuck to a hare till it twice rolled head over heels. Then the hawk flew after it again and was shaken off, while the hare escaped into a flock of sheep. The same bird, pursuing a rabbit, flew right down a large hole in the side of a quarry and dragged the rabbit out of it. The "smash" with which a big hen goshawk goes into an evergreen tree after a pigeon sounds as if a football had been violently kicked into the branches.—London Spectator.

How Helena Won.

"Let me tell you something funny about the capital of Montana," chats Victor Smith. "In 1892 the competition rested between Helena, Anaconda, Butte City, Bozeman, Great Falls, Deer Lodge and Boulder, without a decision. In 1894 it was reduced to a match between Helena and Anaconda. W. A. Clark was for Helena. Marcus Daly was for Anaconda. Anaconda seemed to have the best of it, when the genius of Clark prevailed. He made no attempt at bribery. He just said to every voter he could lay hands on:

"'If you want a dead cinch, I'll give it to you. Go and bet $5,000 at even money or any odds you please that Helena will be the capital. If you lose, I'll make good the $5,000. If you win, you return my $5,000 and keep the winnings.'

"Needless to say, Helena was chosen. And the arrangement did not cost Clark a cent."—Kansas City Journal.

A Double Kick.

The late R. D. Blackmore could never endure to have advertisements printed on his books, and when a cheap edition of "Lorna Doone" appeared with a flamboyant assertion on the back cover that "Blank's cocoa is the best" he sent a peppery letter to the publisher and ended with the quaint anticlimax, 'And, besides, I have had to drink chocolate for some time, and I know Blank's cocoa is the worst."

Labor Saving.

"You say he went to the legislature through your influence?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum.

"Did he introduce any bills?"

"No. He never could have handled all that money in bills. I gave him a book of signed checks."—Washington Star.

The man who can fall down on a slippery sidewalk and get up without looking around to see whether anybody has seen him can justly pride himself on his savior faire and self control.—Somerville Journal.

PLAYED OUT.

Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of impure blood. No matter how it became so, it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixir has never failed to cure Scrofulous or Syphilitic poisons, or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on positive guarantee. For sale by W L DeLano.
