SATURDAY - JULY 7

HILL'S GRAND SPEECH.

David B. Hill made a grand speech in seconding the nomination of Wm. J. Bryan for president. The following is the telegraphic report:

Ex-Senator Hill forced his way to the platform and waved his hand for silence. When the cheers and cries for "Hill" had concluded, and the vast audience was seated, he began to speak slowly but clearly, and the attention given him was perfectly silent. His laudation of Bryan was received with applause and cheers, but when he said Bryan "will have the support of the united party," the convention went wild, and the band had to play America to still the tumult. "His integrity has never been questioned," asserted Mr. Hill, and the audience yelled.

"In behalf of the democratic masses of the state of New York, for whom I assume to speak on this occasion," said Mr. Hill. "I second the nomination which has been made from the state of Nebraska. (Renewed applause and cheering.) William J. Bryan does not belong to Nebraska alone, he belongs to the North and the South, to the East and the West—he belongs to the whole country at large. (Renewed applause and cheering.) It is a nomination already made in the hearts and affections of the American people. From the closing of the polls four years ago, and until this very hour, there was never a possibility of any other nomination being.

He is a gentleman that needs no introduction to this audience or to the American people. Nebraska is proud of him, but New York is proud of him also. For four years he has upheld the banner of democracy in almost every state in the Union. His voice has been heard, not only in behalf of our principles, but in behalf of the cause of the common people, in behalf of the workingmen, in behalf of humanity, it will not only have the support of his party—a united party."

After a warm eulogy of Mr. Bryan, Senator Hill said: "I, as you all know, was one of those who, in good faith, doubted the wisdom of some portions of the platform, doubted the propriety of going into details on certain portions of our financial policy, but the wisdom of this convention has determined otherwise, and I acquiesce cheerfully in the decision. I am here to say further that the platform that has been read is worthy of the vote and approval of every man in the country who claims to be a democrat. Those who do not admit of some portions can speak for others. If there are some issues which they do not desire to present as strong as others, they can at least talk about something in this platform that is worthy of their approval. At least in some portions of this country the paramount issue is going to carry, and carry strongly.

"This is the time for unity and not division. I plead tonight for party harmony and for party success. I plead because of the dangers which confront us. If we should happen to be defeated, which I do not believe, what will issue. It means the restoration of a federal election law. It means a reduction of the apportionment of members of congress throughout the Southern states of our union; it means a consequent reduction in the electoral college from our Southern states and the plea of necessity will be made because it will be apparent by election day that some of the new-born states of the West which they had relied upon had gone over to the democratic party. So I am here to say that this is a most important election, important for our party, important for our country, important for the best interests of the American people. I have no time to analyze this platform. We are speaking of men, and not of measures now.

"This nomination will meet the approval, based upon this platform, of the people of the East. What we need is an old-fashioned rousing democratic rally throughout this land. That will mean the restoration of the currency of our fathers. That will mean home rule for states. That will mean popular government restored. That will mean the supremacy of equal laws throughout the country, and in this

"Ouch!"

That is about the mildest form of outcry a man makes when rheumatism suddenly attacks him. In its worst forms rheumatism is a living death. The victim, incapable of moving hand or foot, has no part in the great procession of life, on which he gazes with hopeless eyes. A great many sufferers from rheumatism, who had given up hope, have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A medicine which will cleanse the blood from uric acid and other poisons, will cure rheumatism. "Golden Medical Discovery" has no equal in its power to cleanse the blood and to enrich it. "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years," writes Mr. E. J. McLaughlin, of Chicago, Williamsburg County, S. C., "so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was lame, crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. This pain in my back, hips, and legs, and in my joints was very bad. I tried many things, but nothing helped. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and today my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

great result which we hope to achieve. I am here to say simply in conclusion, that New York expects to join you with her 36 electoral votes."

His explanation of his position on the platform and his acquiescence with the will of the majority called for heartier applause than had been evident before, and the good offices of the band were again necessary to get attention for him. "This nomination will meet the approval of the East," he said, and enthused his auditors. In closing he said: "New York expects to join with you with her 36 electoral votes," and then, as he stepped down from the platform, the convention became a bedlam again.

"Hill for vice-president," was one of the cries raised, and delegates all over were on their feet except the five Tammany men. Ex-senator Murphy, as Hill passed to his seat, grasped his hand and shook it heartily. Then Mr. Shea, of Brooklyn, did the same, and others in the row, but Mr. Croker sat immobile, and Hill passed him without any salutation. The applause for Hill continued for some minutes.
