Hot on the Trail of Coffee!

What will you take to try a single pound of Chase & Sanborn's High-Grade Coffee?

All beginnings are hard, as the thief said when he began by stealing an anvil. But listen to the facts!

The beginning of everything is a curious machine used only by them. It separates out the full-grown berries. Other firms would call this extravagant, but you won't when you come to drink the coffee.

These berries are then only roasted to order. The same day they are hermetically sealed in canisters so that not a breath of aroma is lost. (By the great Abu Bakr of blessed memory, what a flavor this gives to your coffee pot in the kitchen!)

Your grocer breaks the hermetic seals and puts the coffee into Chase & Sanborn's imported parchment-lined bags, each bearing the Seal Trade-mark with their signed warranty of Highest Quality. This he gives to you.

And you never buy any other coffee afterward!

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Woodburn-Natron Train Luckily Avoids an Accident.

Special to the GUARD.

COBURG, Or., July 13.—The Woodburn and Springfield branch mixed train, leaving Coburg at 8 a. m. yesterday, had a narrow escape from a bad wreck. At this point the train picked up several carloads of lumber. One of these was loaded with heavy timbers, and the load was fully three feet higher than the box cars. The train was a little late leaving here, and had not under a full head of steam, and when about six miles north of here Conductor Sparger observed that that car had shifted its heavy load to one side and it seemed inevitable to avert a serious wreck—the car looked as if it would surely turn over. Conductor Sparger at once began to signal the engine crew, but before anything could be accomplished the large stationery gave way and the car unloaded itself and careened to its proper place, luckily throwing all the timbers far from the track and train. The timbers were scattered for fully 100 feet. Today an extra gang left for the scene and will reload the timber in proper shape.

ROSEBURG STREET FAIR.

Money Raised Today—Will Be Held in August.

ROSEBURG, July 11.—Roseburg will hold the first street fair of the year in Oregon. Several hundred dollars were raised this forenoon, and the celebration will be held during the latter part of August, lasting three days.

A Curious Incident.

R. W. Lyman, the man who was drowned in the Willamette Wednesday, for the past three years has been the head cheese maker for S. S. Stephens, of Noti valley. Mr. Stephens a few days ago sent a messenger to Lyman offering him his old job. Mr. Lyman said he was getting $3 per day and could not afford to make cheese. When the messenger came home Mr. Stephens told the man he was sorry he had not employed him at $3 per day as he was fearful Lyman, who was an excellent man, would get drowned. Mr. Stephens came in today about noon to hire Lyman to work for him at the figure wanted or larger, but he found he was too late. Lyman was in his grave. Mr. Stephens says the deceased was one of the finest men he ever met.

LETTER FROM NOME.

W. H. Abrams Writes Encouragingly From the Mines.

PERSONAL NOTES.

We are kindly permitted by Mrs. W. H. Abrams to copy the following extracts from a letter received today from her husband, W. H. Abrams, who left here on June 3rd for the North: NOME CITY, July 3, 1900.

I wrote you a short letter last Friday so I could send it back by a man returning (cold feet they call them here). Today the regular mail leaves so I will write you again.

I finished one small job last night, so I am resting today. I have earned since I commenced, Friday noon, $39; not so bad if it will hold out. I worked all day Sunday, and all Sunday night; worked 18 hours from Sunday morning till Monday morning; it was putting in a front in a restaurant and they wanted it done as soon as possible so as not to bother them.

Night is about the same as day and people are going all night long, and they work all night, and Sunday is just the same as any other day. Tommy is working on a job just across the street at $1.50 per hour, and I am going to help on the same job as soon as I mail this letter. There is lots of building going on and lots of carpenters; nearly all are carpenters, I should judge, but the work is rough and it don't take much a workman. I think we will get our share of the work as long as it lasts, and then something else will turn up.

Prices here are away up: Eggs 50c per dozen, ham 30c per pound, beef steak 65c to 75c per pound, bread 25c per loaf, flour $3 per 50-pound sack, coal oil per case (10 gallons) $7. At the restaurants pies and cakes are away up. Where we furnish our own provisions it don't cost us more than $1 per day, for both of us. The freight from Portland here only adds about one-half the cost of goods in Portland.

The weather here so far has been fine; sprinkled a little two or three times; days warm; nights cool.

We are getting along with the cooking fairly well. Tom cooks first-rate. We use a coal oil stove with an oven and it bakes good.

I met J. D. Matlock yesterday. He is on his way to Eugene. I have met several others from Eugene.

Wes Cherry is here but I have not seen him yet.

THE FRUIT LAW.

Horticultural Board Will See That no Diseased Fruit is Shipped to Market.

PORTLAND, Oreg., July 11.—Fruit-growers are to be held strictly to the provisions of the quarantine law. This decision was reached by the members of the executive committee of the State Board of Horticulture yesterday. Present were: E. L. Smith, president; L. T. Reynolds, treasurer, and Col. H. E. Dosh, secretary. Another important matter considered was the adoption of a uniform size of apple box for the Pacific Coast, including British Columbia.

The most important clauses which will be enforced are the following: Sec. 5. It will be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to transport or sell any infected or diseased fruit of any kind in the state of Oregon.

Sec. 6. Every person who packs or prepares for shipment to any point without the state, or who delivers or causes to be delivered to any express agent, or railroad agent, or other person, or to any transportation company or corporation, for shipment to any point without the state, any fruit or fruit, either fresh, cured or dried, that is infected with insects, pests or diseases injurious to trees, shrubs, plants, fruits or vegetables, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 8. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.

A box of uniform size for apples is made necessary for the demands of the trade. The size decided upon is 10x11 x20, inside measurement. This size will fit into box cars without any waste, and prove valuable in a good many ways. All box factories are asked to conform to the standard, and especially shippers who propose sending fruit to British Columbia.

Today's Oregonian: Professor F. G. Young, of the University of Oregon, and secretary of the Oregon Historical Society, has gone to Madison, Wis., to remain during vacation. While there he will acquaint himself with the methods pursued by the Wisconsin Historical Society in gathering historical data, as well as study the workings of the University of Wisconsin.
