PERILS OF GYMNASTS

THE RISKS THEY RUN WHILE GOING THROUGH THEIR ACTS.

A Fall Even Into the Net Which Is Spread Beneath Them Is Liable to Result in Serious Injury—Nerve and Confidence Necessary.

It doubtless appears to the onlooker at the circus that the midair gymnasts—"aerialists" in the vocabulary of the arena—are quite safe from injury so long as they have the broad, soft net spread beneath them. They may swing from bar to bar, as high as the roof of the tent will permit, or toss a child from hand to hand through long, perilous distances, and all the while the biased spectator observes with the mere suggestion of a thrill, assuming in his inexperience that there is no real danger in what is called with greater truth than color "this marvelous feat of daring."

As a matter of fact, however, the aerialists are in imminent danger of broken necks through every working moment of their "turn," which becomes evident indeed when it is said that the nerve strain cannot possibly be borne through two seasons without a long period of rest between for what may be called nerve recuperation.

A famous gymnast who is the head of a family of performers said that the midair gymnast branch of circus work, which appears so easy and safe of accomplishment, was so full of danger as to be fought shy of by faint hearted people, who preferred "ground work" and smaller salaries to its risk. Safety lies wholly in self possession, attention and nice, practiced calculation of distances through which to leap or turn or throw. There are four in this family, and the safety of each depends, not only upon the individual, but upon the nerve and skill of the others. When the family is in action, it becomes at once a machine, and each member moves and turns and even smiles with mechanical accuracy. If one part should fail, the whole would for the moment be in danger of destruction.

"Now," said the gymnast, "we are merely human. We can't all be perfect in action all the time, so from time to time the machine goes to pieces, but we are so well schooled that we soon put it together again. When there happens to be a fall—as there does frequently—three hearts pretty nearly stop beating upon our bars until the fourth of the family rises from the net. It wouldn't be possible to continue our act if every one of us didn't know how to fall. That's the secret of it, and the danger lies in the loss of nerve when the fall takes place. Men in our branch seldom break legs. They break their necks or backs and quit the business once and for all. You've seen a fall, no doubt. Well, did you notice how the boy doubled his legs up and got his face as close to his breast as he could? If he failed to do that, he would never survive the fall. He'd break his leg or his back sure. It's a terrible time for me as the head of the 'family' every time there's a fall."

The gymnast has a high fall to dread. The acrobat, on the other hand, has to guard against a fall through but two or three feet.

"There's as much danger in our work as in any circus," said a certain star, one of the best acrobats in the business and a good and trustworthy man out of it. "In the tumbling particularly a man is liable to break his back any minute or dislocate his ankle in landing badly. My 'family' (of six, two of whom are boys) is so well trained that it works perfectly. So just now I have an easy mind. Last season, though, I had two bad accidents and had to discharge a man. He didn't catch my apprentice one time, with the result that the poor boy dislocated his shoulder. The fellow looked at the audience for an instant, and then the trouble came, so I lost confidence in him and let him go. In our business, you know, every one has to have confidence in every one else—perfect confidence. If you can't get that condition, you can't work; that's all. You can't keep your nerve. Our accidents are nasty ones too. It may be a fall of three feet and a broken back come from it. You can't tell when accidents are going to happen either. They come so unexpectedly that they knock you out. The head of the 'family' has to bear the worry, though. He's responsible for his apprentices, and the 13 I've taught have brought me gray hairs pretty early in life."

This man is thoroughly conscientious in the training of his boys morally as well as in their work. He regards his care of them as a high duty, and he watches them in the circus ring as carefully as a mother might. Hence they are saved from many an accident. He always breathes easier, too, when the day's work is over. Watch as carefully as one may, he said, the business is such that accidents are bound to happen.

"How can you accept an apprentice with an easy conscience, then?" he was asked.

"Well," he replied, "there's danger wherever you go. No matter what your business may be, if you are careless the chances are that you will get hurt. I train my boys and men in attention and accuracy. That's the best safeguard they can have. It's like this: If a man throws a baseball at my head, it will strike and hurt me if I don't stop it. I've got to take care, and it's the same in every walk of life. It is very dangerous work, the acrobat's, but then—The acrobat shrugged his shoulders to complete the sentence.

Thought of Him.
Pha—Are you sure that you and mamma thought of me while you were away?

Grace—Yes. We heard a man kicking up a great row about his breakfast at the hotel, and mamma said, 'That's just like papa.'

PLAYED OUT.
Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of impure blood. No matter how it became so, it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixir has never failed to cure Scrophulous or Syphilitic poisons, or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on positive guarantee. For sale by W. L. DeLano.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at W. L. DeLano's drug store.

Collection Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to A. V. Peters, deceased, by note or account, to call at the law office of Geo. B. Dorris, over the First National bank, and pay the same within 30 days or action will be commenced to recover.

Dated, Eugene, Or., July 20, 1900.

Administrator.

"I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my family with wonderful results. It gives immediate relief, is pleasant to take and is truly the dyspeptic's best friend," says E. Hartzelink, Oberlin, Mich. Digests what you eat. Cannot fail to cure. Vincent & Co., Corner Drug Store.

Don't Bundle Your Throat
You can cough yourself into pneumonia and consumption. Bandaging and bundling your throat will do no good. You must give your throat and lungs rest, and allow them to heal. A 25 cent bottle of the Pectoral is enough to cure an ordinary cold. In harder cases a larger bottle is more economical.

Aker's Cherry Pectoral
It's the best remedy in the world for hoarseness, bronchitis, croup, asthma, sore lungs, and consumption.

"One of my daughters had a very bad case of asthma. We tried all kinds of remedies, but without relief. Three one-half bottles of Aker's Cherry Pectoral cured her. We think it is a most wonderful remedy."

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. I certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my house hereafter, for I should not care to endure the suffering of last night again for fifty times its price. G. H. WILSON, Livermore, Burg (stown), Washington, Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. L. DeLano.

For the Seashore.

Newport and Yaquina Bay continue to offer for the summer vacation greater variety of attractions than can be found at any other North Pacific resort. Excellent beaches and safe bathing, cutting rides and rambles good boating and fishing, clams, crabs and oysters for the gathering, and unequalled profusion of pebbles, shells and seaweed. Add to this cheerful and obliging hosts, who are providing at very reasonable rates homelike quarters, and most liberal fare. They won't let one get hungry at Newport.

See Southern Pacific agent for tickets and time tables, or correspond with C. H. Markham, General Passenger Agent, Portland, Oregon.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female disease quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by W. L. DeLano, druggist.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe and lasting spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—John E. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by W. L. DeLano.
