DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price.

By dry goods dealers, grocers, agents, etc., and in a few instances as a premium for subscriptions to papers.

Announcements of these comparatively worthless reprints are very misleading; for instance, they are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, when in reality, so far as we know and believe, they are all from A to Z.

Reprint Dictionaries

phototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which in its day was sold for about $1.00, and which was much superior to present print, and binding to these imitations, being then a work of some merit instead of one of the "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" published by our house is the only one in the world, which contains over 200,000 words, with illustrations on nearly every page, and a large number of quotations from the best authors. It is protected by copyright from cheap imitations.

Valuable in the home, in the school and in the office, it is a dictionary of the past and present, and a source of information and inspiration. Some Nerve Poetry.

"Governor" J. H. Fletcher, a Salem newsman, has returned from Nome. Here is some poetry he wrote while on the steamer coming back to Oregon:

"O Nome! Thou wretched blot on the face of the Arctic's boundless sea. Thou hast promised much to our race. Then fleddest to the Queen's own taste. And I am one Who'll always shun Thy muddy streets till time is dead."

"Why should we leave a land of fruit and flowers, To seek for gold in thy dark soil? Why seek a home and sit thy chilly showers, And spend our days in useless toil? While we can run Beneath the sun, And shout, 'Where rolls the Oregon!'"

Indications of a Land Slide.

The following from the Examiner is a very live pointer:

One of the most striking signs of the coming democratic landslide in this country is the number of influential newspapers which formerly supported McKinley and which this year, are giving their hearty support to Bryan.

In New York, the "World," which supported Palmer and Buckner four years ago, now espouses the cause of Bryan with telling force, while the Herald and Evening Post, though favorable to McKinley on minor issues, are giving the democratic ticket strong support on the paramount issue of imperialism. And the Journal, which was a journalistic infant in 1896, is now grown to be one of the greatest newspapers in the world and has never wavered in its staunch support of Bryan.

In Chicago, where the democratic ticket had no newspaper support in 1896, there are now three great dailies, the Chronicle, the American and the Record, with a large circulation, are warmly endorsing the democratic platform and taking up the fight against imperialism.

In Baltimore, the Sun, which lays down the law and the gospel for Maryland, was opposed to Bryan in 1896, but this year the Sun is giving the democratic ticket and platform a loyal support, which insures Maryland's electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson.

In Cleveland the old democratic organ, the Plain Dealer, which left the party in 1896, is back in the ranks again supporting Bryan with all its old time vigor.

The Indianapolis Sentinel wandered off after strange gods in 1896, but this year it has returned to its old faith and is out with the democratic ticket and platform.

The Louisville Courier Journal, whose defection to Palmer and Buckner in 1896 gave such a set-back to the party in Kentucky, is also back in line and giving Bryan its vigorous support.

In addition to these notable examples of the trend of popular opinion, there are many other influential papers, such as the Springfield (Mass.) "Republican," the New Haven "Register" and others which, while not directly supporting Mr. Bryan, are vigorously espousing the cause of anti-imperialism.

In addition to this great accession to the Bryan movement there is the German press of the country, in which there is practically a revolution of opinion. Quotations from a few of the more prominent and influential of these papers will show the general attitude of the German press this year.

New York "Staats Zeitung" (Independent, circulation 50,000)—"The so-called German is at present awaiting developments, but it can be positively assured that the republican candidates will not receive as many German votes as four years ago."

"Freie Press," Chicago (Independent, circulation 40,000)—"Mr. Bryan received in 1896 about thirty per cent of the German vote. This year he will get from sixty to eighty per cent of that vote. Imperialism is the paramount issue with the Germans this year."

"Michigan Volksblatt," Detroit, Mich Independent, "Over sixty per cent of the Germans will vote for Bryan this year because of their hatred of imperialism and trusts."

"Kansas Telegraph," Topeka, Kansas—"The majority of the German voters who voted for McKinley four years ago will vote for Bryan this year. Anti-imperialism is the issue."

"Missouri State Zeitung," Kansas City, Mo.—"Bryan will get nine out of every ten German votes this year."

"Iowa State Anzeiger," Des Moines Iowa—"Bryan will get two-thirds of the German votes of Iowa."

"The Journal," Terre Haute, Ind.—"One-third the population of Indiana consists of Germans. It is our opinion that the democratic candidate will receive the large majority of the German votes this fall. This will be a gain of about sixty per cent over the last election."

FLAYED OUT.

Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of impure blood. No matter how it became so, it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixir has never failed to cure Scrophulous or Syphilitic poisons, or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. For sale by W. L. DeLano.

BRUIN CAUGHT.

He Is Trapped and Finally Killed By the Exultant Crowd.

A bear has been playing havoc with the sheep of the Mohawk farmers. After several unsuccessful attempts the bear was at last captured.

Early Thursday, George Yarnall discovered Mr. Bruin in a trap that had been set expressly for him, and immediately he aroused the neighbors and soon forty persons had assembled to witness the tragedy that was soon to take place.

The bear was lashed and led about for yards from out of the swamp and thick brush to Frank Stafford's plum orchard. It was great sport for the boys as the bear was on the fight and several times turned upon them. As Mr. Bruin did not like to lead and found out what was up, decided they need not pull so hard out ran briskly after them, which caused a stampede of men, girls, boys and dogs. One boy fell and the bear was very near his heels when luckily the shackles caught in some brush just in time to save the boy from a good hug.

After the bear was securely tied the crowd gathered around him and four shots were fired—three snapshots and one rifle shot—and Mr. Bruin was no more.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and went and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Miss Geo F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by W. L. DeLano.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents; guaranteed, at W. L. DeLano's drug store.
