WEDNESDAY - NOVEMBER 21

THE OTHER SIDE.

Monday we gave a clipping from the Daily Register advocating straight political tickets for city elections. We republish it, to gether with some Salem expression of opinion taken from a column of somewhat similar indorsements in the Salem Daily Journal.

"Salem is going to put a straight Republican ticket in the field for its coming city election. The proper thing to do. Best results are always accomplished by the election of men who agree politically. There is always a harmony of interests that cannot be had from a mixed ticket, as witness in Eugene. Many improvements and progressive steps are thwarted because of wrangles largely due to political differences. If men agree politically they are more often harmonious in matters of general good to the community."

The name of Judge R. P. Boise has been connected with the highest courts of Oregon's judiciary nearly continuously for a third of a century. Here is what Judge Boise says: "The record will show that city affairs managed as a part of a political machine has been a dismal failure, and managing it as at present, with politics left out and business put in, has been a decided success. I want to see the present business method continued."

Ask Eugene bankers as to the standing of Ladd & Bush, Salem bankers. They will tell you that their integrity and their bank have as firm foundation as that of Skinner's Butte. Here is what Ladd & Bush says about the Salem non-partisan administration: "Let us continue it by all means. It is not a matter that admits of question. When they came in power we were running in debt about $1000 a month. That has been stopped and there has been liberal saving besides. It would be business madness to return to the old order of things."

The Register's "best results" from "the election of men who agree politically" seems not to have commended itself to Salem's veteran jurist and bankers.

OREGON "ROOTERS." The San Francisco Call cartoon of scenes in the Universities of Oregon-California football game, at Berkeley, said "Fred Flak was there with his voice." And the Examiner account of the game gave much credit to the little band of rooters that shouted themselves hoarse for Oregon—and had good cause for their shouting. Here is the Examiner: "California's rooting section was out in force, band and all, but even it doesn't realize that one or two perfunctory cheers during a long game will not help to win the game. Oregon's five rooters, with their continuous shouting, inspired their team and should have taught California's yell leader a lesson in rallying at all times, winning or losing."

THE PHOTOGRAPH TOLD THE STORY.

The woman who threw a hatchet at Emperor William while out driving at Breslau, Germany, has been sent to an insane asylum for observation. The telegraph gives a curious feature of the attempted crime, showing how modern discovery made the guilt of the woman and her identification certain beyond question. The dispatch says: "A Breslau merchant named Spindler, who took an instantaneous photograph of the scene at the moment the woman threw the hatchet, was requested to destroy the picture because it would displease the emperor, and he complied with the request."

No one expects to hear of a warm wave at this season of the year, especially on the rigorous Atlantic coast. Yet a dispatch from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, yesterday, says "the heat of the past three days caused much suffering among the mill men, and one case of prostration is reported." Pittsburg's latitude is but two hundred miles south of that of Eugene, about on a line with Ashland near the south line of the state.

"Trade follows the flag." According to treasury statistics 15,086 gallons of whiskey were shipped into the Philippine Islands during the past year. The islands are developing some very substantial thirsts.
