SATURDAY -- JANUARY 5

AN UNFINISHED FLIRTATION.

(Chicago Times Herald.)
After he had complimented her for her dancing and had told her that pink was so becoming to her pure, sylphlike type of beauty, there was a slight pause in their conversation. Then he said: "Do you know, Mrs. Allingham, that my wife is terribly jealous of me?"
"Indeed!" she replied, at the same time half suppressing a yawn. "That's very foolish of her. You are the last man in the world that I should suppose any one would be jealous of."

There are heavy snows north, east and south of Eugene, but none in the head of the Willamette Valley, except scattering patches on the foothills.

Portland police authorities made 3364 arrests in 1900. This was a less number than in 1899, if the eight hundred or more arrests for violation of the gambling ordinance, not enforced the previous year, were eliminated.

The text-book commission appointed by Governor Geer is a good one. The character and good standing of the men guarantees a selection of text-books on their merits. There will be no scandal about the choices made by this commission.

A Nebraska woman who, a short time ago received $5,000 for injuries caused by a defective sidewalk, has just lost her husband because of indigestion caused by a defective pie, and his relatives are threatening her with a dose of her own damage medicine.

The officeholders who worked for McKinley will have their reward. The president has announced that he considers that they were "re-elected" also. This is disappointing to the "outs" who did political work under the supposition that four years was an ordinary term.

It is hoped for the sake of the dignity which such a distinguished gentleman should maintain that William Jennings Bryan, editor, may not be so unfortunate as to secure an office devil who will put bent pins in his chair or mix gunpowder and skunkweed with his smoking tobacco.

An old gentleman was in Albany last week with $100 of pension money. He spent nearly all of it in the saloons, when a friend from the country discovered him, took him into a store and made him expend all the rest, except enough with which to get home, on his family, which was all he had to show for his money except a very confused mind.

AT THE IRON WORKS.—Fraser's Iron Works were found to be busy when visited by a GUARD reporter today. Besides working on numerous small orders they are now building an engine for S. N. Plank, who will use it to run a wood saw to be used in connection with his extensive wood yards in this city. He will saw his own wood and supply it to patrons cheaper than they can buy it and have the sawing done.

Don't Marry.

Almost everybody remembers the celebrated advice of the London Punch. "Don't." There is in that advice the expression of the feeling of many a mother who says, "I hope my daughter will never marry and suffer as I have."

In ninety-eight cases in every hundred there's no need for this suffering. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause wifely misery. It drives out the evil, cures inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It invigorates the womanly organism, tranquilizes the nerves and gives the mother strength to give her children.

Do not allow an unscrupulous dealer to sell you something in place of "Pierce's Favorite Prescription," claimed to be "just as good." There is nothing just as good for women as "Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"I am so pleased with your instructions, I hereby know what to do for you. I have just bought a box of your 'Pierce's Favorite Prescription' from the London Punch. You can publish my few statements to the world, hoping all suffering women will know and be healed. I suffered so much with great pains in my back and the lower part of my stomach and palpitation of the heart, that at times I could hardly lie down, and could hardly get up in the morning, but after using three bottles of 'Pierce's Favorite Prescription' I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure sick headache.

Mr. Hale, who by his large experience in the business has a thorough knowledge of goats, says Mr. Houck's animals compare favorably with the best in the East and a few specimens especially are some of the finest he ever saw. Mr. Houck is justly proud of his goats and thinks they are the most profitable article a farmer can deal in.

Mr. Hale leaves soon for New Mexico on business connected with the association which he represents.

EASTERN LOBSTERS.

An Effort to Bring Them to Oregon for Propagation.

State Biologist F. L. Washburn today informed a GUARD reporter that the members of the Oregon delegation in congress have promised him to do all they can toward inducing the general government to secure shipments of Eastern lobsters to Oregon to be planted on the rocky portions of our coast where there is every reason to expect they will do well. They are found in the cold waters of the coast of Maine and New Foundland, and would find the conditions here nearly the same.

The meat of the Eastern lobster is delicious and we hope Prof. Washburn will be successful in his efforts to secure them for planting in Oregon waters.
