TWO KILLINGS RECALLED.

"Bud" Howard and Till Glaze Were Killed at Burns.

The killing of Williams Trewella at San Francisco last Monday, by his partner, Robert E. Glaze, brings up recollections of happenings of the past third of a century, extending to the year 1874, during the war of the rebellion. Polk county in this state was the theater of the action and Till Glaze was the principal. He was a brother of Robert E. The Glaze and Whitley families of Polk county had become on bad terms and Till Glaze killed old man Whitley and his son. Mr. Whitley was a brother to Doc Whitley, well known in Umatilla county, where he long resided and who died a few years ago either at Milton in this county, or at Walla Walla, a matter unsettled by present information.

TILL GLAZE KILLED.

The telegram from San Francisco states that Till Glaze died a violent death a few years ago in Oklahoma. This is a mistake. He was killed at Burns, Harney county, during the fall races of 1896. He was the owner of the horses called Cottonnose. "Bud" Howard was a jockey. Glaze had promised to give Howard the purse in a certain race if he would "pull" the horse he was riding. Howard "pulled" the horse, but Glaze refused to keep his part of the contract. The trouble occurred in Tex Sillman's saloon Glaze shot Howard, who in turn shot Glaze as he was falling. "Kid" Parker then took a hand in the fight and shot Howard. Glaze and Howard both died at once, and Parker was sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years for the crime. He was pardoned after having served about three years.

BERT ALLEN WAS THERE.

Bert Allen, who has recently come to Pendleton from Coos county, a brother of Ed C. Allen, at that time owned a horse called "Jordan," and was attending the Burns races, and witnessed the killing.

W. J. Bolin, of Pendleton, who has been a resident of Oregon since August 5, 1892, knew the Glazes and Whitleys well in Polk county and was there during their trouble. He knew Till Glaze in later years at Prineville, Burns, Boise and Owyhee county, Idaho. He says Till was acquitted of the charge of murder when he killed the two Whitleys in 1884.

W. F. Matlock and Ed C. Allen also knew Till Glaze and state that he killed a man or two at Prineville before being called upon to cash in. They say that he was over six feet tall, weighed two hundred pounds and was a fine specimen of manhood. He was inclined to dress carelessly, with one exception. He might appear in public without a coat or suspender, but as never known to be without a trusty revolver in his belt. He was a violinist and was a popular musician for the dances of Crook, Harney and Grant counties.—East Oregonian.

A BILK EXPOSED

A stranger, representing himself to be a school teacher accidentally, in straightened circumstances, who claimed to be engaged temporarily in selling school supplies, was thoroughly exposed as a bilk yesterday. He called upon School Superintendent J. M. Martindale with his tale of woe and asked for financial assistance. Superintendent Martindale invited him into his room, and began questioning him about methods of teaching and asked him where he had taught. He named a town in the East, which was well known by Prof. Martindale, and the latter told him he would be very glad to hear about his friends there, but the fellow at once grew uncommunicative, and when the Prof. asked him what he considered the most approved rules for working cube root, the bogus school teacher seized his hat and beat a retreat, preferring to look elsewhere for free board, than endure the vigorous cross examination further.

Two residents of Toledo, Ohio, for whom a marriage license was issued thirty-eight years ago, were not married until two weeks ago. If the bride and groom are as sure of their minds now as they were slow in making them up, their happiness should be certain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and perseverance in its use will work wonders for the most hopeless woman. If Mrs. Newton, whose letter is given below, had not persisted in its use, she might never have known the happiness of perfect health. Perhaps the reason for her persistence was because she used "Favorite Prescription" as a "last resort." Physicians had failed. If "Favorite Prescription" could not help there was nothing to hope for. It did help. It always helps and almost always cures. It establishes regularity, dries wetness, drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It imparts strength and elasticity to the organs of maternity and makes the baby's advent practically painless.
