MONDAY - MAY 6

LAST OF A WARLIKE TRIBE.

The ancient Modoc tribe has dwindled to 77 members, mostly women and sick or diseased children, says the Jacksonville Times. The recent death of a Modoc brave has left only thirteen able bodied warriors, who will never go to war again.

From being most savage and indomitable fighters they have lost all ambition for anything but their government supplies, and, while virtually prisoners of war on a small reservation, they are left unwatched. The spirit of the old days has gone, and nobody will ever hear of a story about "The Last of the Modocs."

THAT KIND OF A MAN.

"Yes," said the old oodger grimly. "Of course I know perfectly well that Lyman J Klutchenpenny was more than three hundred miles away, and also sound asleep in his brother-in-law's house, when it happened. I am aware too, that there wasn't a telephone or telephone line within ten miles of where he was at, and so on and so forth; but—er—ah—well—

"I recollect one time, when Lyman was a boy, he had sixpence worth of hoarhound candy an' was a-munchin' of it with greedy relish, when one of us other boys, who were standin' hungrily around, asked him for some of it, an' he replied, 'Naw, I won't give you none, 'cause you asked for it.' Bime-bye another boy, which was me, spoke up wistfully, 'Lyman, I didn't ask you for any o' your candy.' "Nopel," says the monopolist, with his mouth full. "You don't want none, else you'd 'a' asked." "An' after he'd got into business, a good many years later, when two young men from over Allegash way came into his store one day, I heard him ask one of 'em if he was married, an' when the visitor pleaded guilty Lyman grasped his hand most warmly an' called him 'Happy man!' An' when the other fellow replied in the negative to the same question the store-keeper slapped him heartily on the back and ejaculated, 'Lucky dog!' I also recollect the time that he talked about the uncertainties of life an' the certainty of death an' skinned me like an eel on a horse-swap.

"Eh—yah! I know he was so far away an' so situated at that critical time that he couldn't possible have done it; but, all the same, I am as absolutely satisfied in my own mind as if I'd seen him do it that Lyman J Klutchenpenny burnt his own store to git the insurance."

President McKinley desires no salutes on his trip. Why should any man be boyish enough to want to make a noise with powder for this or any other occasion—not even excepting the Fourth of July morning? Anvil and cannon firing is a nuisance under any circumstance.

The warm middle part of these days draws great quantities of moisture from the earth, to be condensed during the night causing cool and seemingly cloudy mornings. It is splendid weather for vegetation.

Reports come from Washington county that clover fields which were visited by the cut worms last summer are completely ruined and will have to be planted to some other crop this spring.

Dawson merchants have struck a chord of popular interest. They offer prizes for the best guesses as to the time the ice will move out of the Yukon river.

Burggraf, architect, Albany, Oregon.

Cough, Cough,

Night and day, until the strength is entirely exhausted, and that dreaded word "Consumption" begins to be whispered among friends. That's a common story, familiar to the people of every town and village.

There's another story which ought to be as widely known as the story of disease, and that is the story of the cures effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Bronchitis, asthma, obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bleeding of the lungs, and other forms of disease which affect the respiratory organs, are permanently cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I think I would be in my grave today, writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Ohio, Co., Ohio. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both night and day. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife insisted on my trying Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which she said I had taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 150 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Discovery is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper cover or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A BIBULOUS PREACHER.

Says Saloon Business is a Good and Honorable One.

BALTIMORE, May 5.—"I left my reverend title and my coat hanging together on the back of a chair at home," declared Rev. A. F. Sterger, of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, when he stepped upon the platform to deliver an address on "Temperance" to the Retail Liquor Dealers' Beneficial Association. He continued:

"I have brought with me only a sympathetic heart of man for his friends. I do not like to see you trodden down. I have spent many hours with saloon people listening to their troubles and I know that their lives are hard.

"When I go into a saloon and stay there for an hour and a half, I may take a glass of beer or wine, I come out as good a man as when I went in. I will not subscribe to temperance for I like a glass of wine or beer myself. I would if I could, go to the people who are against your business and tell them to go and see it before they condemn it. It is as good and honorable as any other business and the day will yet come when people will respect it."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Cheap Rates to See the President.

President McKinley will stop at Salem May 22nd; Portland May 22nd. The Southern Pacific announces a rate of one fare for the round trip to Salem from stations between Roseburg and Turner, and to Portland from stations between Oregon City and Roseburg. Excursion tickets will be on sale for trains arriving at Salem or Portland on the morning of May 22nd, and leaving same evening or following morning.

The reception exercises have been so planned as to give as many as possible an opportunity to see and hear the president. The committee on arrangements will spare no effort to make the occasion a memorable one.

He Kept His Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a very rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 11-2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For eruptions, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. W. L. DeLano will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

A Wild Ride.

"When I was younger than I will ever be again," said the professor with a three story head and eyeglasses of the telescopic order, "I was the victim of such intense mental abstraction that I removed myself entirely from the world of practical affairs. I was in the boundless realms of thought and paid but fleeting attention to the active field of human action. It was necessary to notify me when I should attend my classes, eat my meals and even when I should retire.

"I was at one time requested to lecture in a New England village and agreed to do so. The theme was one that had received my best thoughts, and the more prospect of delivering it was a physical pleasure. When I arrived at the depot my thoughts were concentrated upon the prepared address. I realized that my train was an hour late and that I must hurry, but beyond the mere fact of hurrying I did not grasp a detail.

"Drive fast!" I shouted to the driver of a dingy looking vehicle as I sprang in and handed him a $5 bill. "Spare neither horse nor whip!"

"Away we went with a plunge. The carriage rolled like a ship in the trough of the sea. Street lights seemed a torchlight procession moving rapidly by the way. Constables shouted, dogs barked, small boys chased us and business ceased that people might stand on the sidewalks and gaze. Up one street and down another we dashed madly. We took corners on two wheels, grazed telegraph poles and knocked over such innumerable ash barrels and dry goods boxes.

"After half an hour of this bewildering experience I stuck my head out of the window and shouted, 'Are we nearly there?'"

"Where did you want to go, sir?" came the edifying answer.—Washington Star.

The Dude and the Artist.

Parla is laughing over how an artist got even with a dude who, having sat for his picture, was so dissatisfied with the result that he refused to pay for it. The Count de X, recently had a crayon picture of himself made, which he afterward pretended to find fault with.

"It does not bear the slightest resemblance to me," he said, "and I will not take it." The artist protested, but all to no avail. "All right, monsieur," he remarked finally, "if it is not at all like you, of course I can't reasonably expect to get paid for it." After the count had gone the painter added to the portrait a magnificent pair of ass' ears and exhibited it to the gaze of the curious public. It had not been long so exposed when the count broke into a fit of laughter and threatened to sue him. "If at last offered to buy it at a considerable advance upon the original price."

"It was not strange that you failed to recognize your resemblance to the picture at first," said the painter, determined to be revenged for the slight put upon his work. "But I knew you would notice the likeness as soon as I added those ears."
