ANTI-MALCOLM LEAGUE.—The anti-malcolm league held a meeting last night in the Christian church. J T Rowland acted as chairman and F E Billington, secretary. The meeting was an interesting one, 42 new members being enrolled at the time.

SHORTEST DAYS.—Today and tomorrow are the shortest days in the year. The sun rises at 7:36 a m and sets 4:31 p m, making the day 9:05 hours. From this time until June 22nd, there will be a gradual increase to over 15 hours.

C D Minton, editor of the Oregon Poultry Journal at Salem, returned home today after having attended the poultry show. Mr Minton expresses himself as much pleased with the exhibition of poultry. While not so many fowls are on exhibition this year as last, the specimens are far better.

Dr F G G Schmidt will leave tomorrow for San Francisco. Prof F E Dunn goes on Christmas day.

THE SOCIAL REALM.

A new organization that has dawned upon the social horizon of Eugene is the "As You Like It" club, consisting exclusively of a number of young ladies of the swell set. The club, which promises to be very popular during the season, has planned many pleasant parties, one of which was given in honor of their friends to the number of about 30 last evening in the armory parlors. High five was played in which Kenneth Miller was awarded the first prize and Prof C A Burden the token of consolation. A Christmas tree was presided over by Dr A Lichman as Santa Claus. A pleasing luncheon was cooked on a chafing dish.

This afternoon at her home at 141 East Eleventh street, Mrs F L Washburn gave an old-fashioned dress party, an interesting innovation in the social line. About 50 guests were present, all clad in costumes in vogue during the time of our grandmothers and great-grandmothers. A splendid luncheon was served by the hostess at 5 o'clock. She was assisted in serving by the Misses Friendly, Miss Stella Dorris, Miss Rita Hansen and Miss Nanna Paddock. French charades were the principal amusement during the afternoon.

Co A's company of players returned on this morning's early train from Cottage Grove where they successfully presented "Santiago" at Martin's hall last night to a fair audience. Reports from the Grove say that every member of the troupe did exceedingly well and the play was very much enjoyed. Tonight the play will be given at the Parker opera house. Seats are selling fast and a big house is promised.

Evangeline Chapter, Order Eastern Star, enjoyed a banquet last evening after installation of officers who are as follows: Mrs G E Detmering, W M; Mrs S S Spencer, W P; Elizabeth Moran, A M; Estella Robinson, Sec; Mrs W Preston, Treas; Miss L Griffin, Cond; Mrs M Kurey, associate.

A Fine Minstrel Show.

The Gus Sun American Minstrels, one of the most clever black-cork organizations on the road, was the attraction at the Auditorium last night and proved a pleasant surprise. The company, while not advertising itself to be the only one on earth, is first-class in every particular. The vocalists were all good and the specialties among the best ever seen with a minstrel show.—Birmingham (Ala.) Age-Herald, Feb 12, 1901.
