ELEVENTH HOUR REPENTANCE.

The Portland Telegram has serious doubts about the success of the ministers in railroading the condemned murderers Wade and Dalton to heaven on a eleventh-hour repentance ticket. Here is the way it ends a long editorial on the subject:

The Telegram quite respectfully but most firmly refuses to believe—and on such an occasion thinks it a privilege if not a duty to declare its unbelief—whatever any writings or any doctors of divinity may say or teach on the subjects that by any such mental process, genuine or pretended, these murderers can be ticketed to a happy home in Heaven, while a moral, upright, industrious young man, though "unconverted" or even an "infidel," shot dead without a moment's warning, must suffer eternal torture or misery. Such a doctrine, whatsoever its origin and by whomsoever proclaimed, is repugnant to reason and to every inbred and acquired idea of justice.

HOW ABOUT OUR PRESIDENT?

Is our President a hypocrite? The telegraph brings the information that Admirals Schley and Dewey were greeted with a great show of cordiality by President Roosevelt at the New Year's official reception, which they could not avoid attending. And that after a humiliating rebuke to Admiral Dewey, administered by direct order of the President; and Admiral Schley was the victim of gross official partiality on the part of the administration.

It is not surprising that Admiral Dewey received the advances "sternly" and without any indication of pleasure. He was still smarting from the sting of an uncalled-for rebuke.

HENRY GEORGE, THE RADICAL

Dean Charles W Williams, D D, in Modern Culture for January.

* * *

A man once said to me [a social parasite by the way, who never did anything serviceable to society in his life, save to collect his rents and spend them on himself] "I am afraid of that Henry George just because he is a good man but so radical." That was a true insight. If a man is bad and radical, you can rouse public opinion against him and so nullify his radicalism. If a man is good and superficial, if he confines his efforts for the amelioration of society, for instance to clean and sanitary tenements, he is not particularly dangerous, he will not seriously disturb the settled order or disorder of society, the vested rights or invested wrongs of individuals. But if a man is at once good and radical, then look out for him. That is a bad combination to meet. And if in addition to that his radical notions happen to be true, there is nothing to do but to put him out of the way.

In Jesus Christ's day they did it by crucifixion. Perhaps today we should give such a one "a gentle euthanasia." In Henry George's case it was done by the slow martyrdom of a long and weary strife and struggle.

A convict in the Walla Walla penitentiary mourns the pardon that never came. Governor Rogers had agreed to make the pardon as a New Year's gift, but before it was acted upon the governor took ill and died. There was genuine sorrow, perhaps despair, in one prison cell when the death of the governor became known. Of course Governor McBride will make good the promise of his predecessor.

The Oregonian tells of a man in business at Portland taking his first holiday for forty years. He will get a long holiday when he dies. And, likely, he will commence to enjoy it sooner through not taking vacations as he went along the journey of life. In comparison the miser of time is worse than the miser of gold—and there are no bouquets to throw at the latter.

The first president-elect of Cuba, Tomas Estrada Palma, has a level head. He announces that he shall ever strive to strengthen the cordial relations that exist between the new island republic and the United States.

KNEW A "BOSS."

"Now, sir," said the manager of the iron mills, "you understand I want a boss who is thoroughly accustomed to handling men?"

"In that case," said the applicant, nervously, "I'm afraid it's not me that you want, but my wife."

Tomorrow Night.

The coming of Ben Hendricks and his company in the jolliest and best of Swedish plays can be relied upon to attract the interest of the local theatre goers. Ole's good natured imperturbability in whatever position he may be placed is a never failing source of entertainment and it is needless to reiterate what has been so often told, that Mr Hendricks is far and away the best Swedish dialect comedian on the American stage.

Mr Hendricks contemplates introducing his well known stage character, "Ole Olson," in other countries and is arranging to present it in England next season. His present tour with "Ole" will be the final one in this country and will give added interest to his appearance at The Parker, Tuesday evening, January 7. An excellent company, including the Swedish Ladies Quartette, will aid him.

Gymnastics

Will do much to develop a muscular body. But the strength of the body is not to be measured by its muscle, but by its blood. If the blood is impure, the body, in spite of its bulk and brawn, falls an easy prey to disease.

There is no medicine equal to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the purifying of the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I feel it my duty to write to you of the wonderful curative powers of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes George S. Henderson, Esq., of Demand, Lee Co., Florida. "I had a bad bruise on my right ear and my blood was badly out of order. I tried local doctors, but with no good results. Finally I wrote you for particulars in my case and you advised your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I began to take. From the first bottle I began to feel better, and when I had taken eight bottles the sore was healed up. I wish you success."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
